HB506 provides that Legislators and their staff may not be held to answer before any other tribunal for actions undertaken in the exercise of their legislative duties. Actions undertaken in the exercise of legislative duties include communications with other legislators, staff, and constituents, and investigatory activities on matters of legislative concern. HB506 also specifies time periods when a legislator is not subject to civil penalties and is privileged from arrest except for felony or breach of the peace.

HB 506 has zero fiscal impact on the Legislative Affairs Agency.
