This bill adds burglary or a felony attempt to commit burglary to the list of crimes for which, after conviction, a defendant can be required to give a DNA sample. This bill will most likely have fiscal impact on the Public Defender Agency. Failing to comply with a valid request to provide a DNA sample is already a Class A misdemeanor. See A.S. 11.56.760. The Agency is likely to be appointed to represent people accused of this crime.

Currently the Public Defender Agency has few of these cases. If the sampling program becomes more widespread with the inclusion of additional crimes and more samples being requested, more refusals will undoubtedly be prosecuted. In that case there could be a significant fiscal impact on the Public Defender Agency. Over 680 people were arrested for burglary in Alaska in 1999 (Crime Reported in Alaska, 1999, Department of Public Safety).
