ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

By increasing the maximum onshore acreage to 750,000 but limiting the 250,000 acreage increase to south of the Umiat Meridian Baseline, companies would be able to lease and explore acreage in some of Alaska's frontier basins while still maintaining their interests on the North Slope. There will be positive revenue impact to the state from additional bonus bids, rentals, and eventually, production royalties. It is impossible to predict at this time what this increase in revenues might be.
