ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

This legislation would clarify language regarding the findings that a court is required to make at an initial hearing for a child that is removed emergently from his/her home by the Department of Health and Social Services. Currently, the court hears these cases and determines whether or not the Department has acted prudently in removing the child from his/her home. The court issues findings as to whether or not it is contrary to the welfare of the child to remain in his own home; however, the language in the court order may not reflect the exact wording that includes "contrary to the welfare" language. In order for the Department to receive federal reimbursement for the costs associated with the care of the child, the court must issue findings that specifically state that it is

"contrary to the welfare" of the child to remain in his/her current home. These findings must be made at the first court hearing. Including this language in the court's initial findings will enable the Department to increase federal reimbursement for a significant number of children who enter state custody, emergently. The OCS projects it may see an increase of approximately 5% in its Federal Title IVE penetration rate, which may equate to an estimated $500,000 in federal revenue for costs necessary to care for the child.

The Office of Childrens Services has identified an upward trend in the foster care base rate caseload. In FY2003 there was a 3.2% increase in children who received benefits from the foster care base rate program. The Office of Children's Services anticipates that the foster care caseload will increase another 3% in FY2004 and FY2005. With the additional federal receipts, the OCS intends to continue to cover the basic ongoing costs of raising a child, as well as ensure continuity of foster care base rate payments and the continued success of the foster care program.
