ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

This bill will double the amount of a fine imposed for traffic infractions committed in a school zone.

Modification of the current bail schedule would have to occur since speeding in a school zone already has enhanced penalties. If this bill were to become law, and the current bail amount was not modified, the penalties would be so burdensome as to become impractical. With a doubling of the penalties for speeding in a school zone and a downward modification of the bail schedule, the penalty would still be greater than what currently exists.

No fiscal impact on the Department of Public Safety is anticipated.
