Explanation:

The focus of the Alaska Veterans Memorial Museum is on honoring our nation's veterans, and ensuring that their sacrifices will not be forgotten.

The museum has collected dozens of oral histories, and a number of artifacts. They need a building to house those exhibits and to make them available for public review and research.

This funding is needed to initiate a feasibility study and to develop strategic and business plans. The study and plans are needed in order for the museum to apply for various grants from foundations and other philanthropic organizations.
