ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

*This bill would authorize the Alaska Retirement Management Board (ARM) to purchase transferable tax credit certificates issued under AS 43.55.023 for 92 percent of the face value of the certificates. The ARM board would then sell the certificates to the Department of Revenue for the full face value of the certificates, unless the commissioner of the Department of Revenue determines that economic conditions are not acceptable for the state to purchase and pay for the certificates. The proceeds of these sales would be used by the ARM board to defray the unfunded pension liabilities for which the board is responsible.

Alaska Statutes 43.55 currently offers three clearly identifiable means of obtaining and selling tax credits for petroleum exploration activity and other capital costs relating to petroleum production.

BILL NO. CSHB 48(STA)

ANALYSIS CONTINUATION

AS 43.55.025, known as the Exploration Incentive Credit, offers tax credits for either 20% or 40% of exploration expenditures incurred before July 1, 2016. The certificates issued under this program can be carried forward or transferred. The bill under consideration (HB 48) does not authorize the purchase of these certificates.

Tax credits generated under AS 43.55.023, through excess capital expenditures or net losses, can also be carried forward or transferred. Current statutes allow these credit certificates to be sold to (1) other companies (AS 43.55.023(e)), or (2) to the state Department of Revenue (AS 43.55.023(f)).

Although there are qualifying criteria for the state's purchase of credit certificates at AS 43.55.023(f), there are no restrictions on the amount to be paid for the certificates (other than the maximum refund per taxpayer of $25 million per year), and it is assumed that the state would pay full face value for the certificates. There are also no restrictions on the amount other companies can pay for the certificates, although it is assumed they would pay less than face value and current statutes limit the amount transferred certificates can reduce a taxpayer's liability to 20 percent per year.

Given the three options and their qualifying criteria, it is difficult to assess which program certificate holders will favor. Were the expenditures to qualify under the EIC 40% credit program, then it is likely that would be the first choice. Alternatively, should the expenditures qualify only for the 20% credit, then it is likely that the certificates would be transferred to the highest bidder. The highest bidder could be another company, the state Department of Revenue, or, under this bill, the ARM board.
