ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

House Bill 133 requires that a defendant be subject to electronic monitoring during the period of probation if the crime for which he or she was convicted was proven to be related to a criminal street gang. This bill would result in much closer monitoring of those probationers and likely lead to more petitions to revoke probation coming to the court. This increase in workload will mean an increase in the resources necessary to resolve those cases. However, because the number of cases likely to come before the court as a result of this new probationary condition is unknown, the extent of the bill's impact on the court system is too speculative to support a fiscal note at this time.
