ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

This bill would amend the Alaska Right-of-Way Leasing Act to require intra-state natural gas pipelines, which are over a certain value and require a state right-of-way lease, to offer expansion and expansion rates that promote new entrants into the line. It would also clarify the relationship of common carriage and firm transportation within the Pipeline Act.

These amendments are expected to increase commercial and regulatory predictability, ensure access to gas pipeline capacity, and promote additional industry activity in Alaska resulting in additional state revenues.
