With the deepest respect for the religious beliefs of all Alaskans, I offer the following prayer:

God, eternal source of knowledge, we join together to ask you to grace this body with the respect and understanding of the needs and interests of the diverse people we serve, from the remote villages to the populous cities and towns spread across this great state.

Alaskans are eternally blessed with the grandeur of this great land, from the gates of the Arctic to the Tongass rainforest, from the magnificent Alaska Range to the rich waters of Bristol Bay. You have blessed this great land with abundant resources, and we pray for the wisdom to explore, conserve and employ them with the utmost respect and consideration of the land and of those who depend on it for survival.

It is truly a sacred land we are privileged to serve, inclusive of the diverse peoples of all races, ages and creeds. We ask you to grace us with a spirit of compassion, understanding and good will to all Alaskans so that we may serve them and future generations to the best of our ability.

Forgive us all for our shortcomings and transgressions, and grant us the wisdom to learn from them. Bestow upon us the courage and sound judgment to do what is just and to speak against what we know to be wrong. Grant us order and resolve, and lead us away from conflict and condemnation. Bless us all to be a continued source of enrichment to each other and our great state, and hold our great people safe and warm in your loving hands. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Representative Harris.

Further, while the Legislature recognizes the value of reducing the number of permits in the Southeast Salmon Seine fishery, it is also concerned that the permit buyback program not remove more permits than necessary for the health and viability of the fishery, nor result in negative economic impacts to the region or state, including diminishment of the economic benefits of the investments that have been made in Southeast Alaska communities.

Specifically, the Legislature is passing this legislation with the understanding, and the assurance of the Southeast Revitalization Association, that the permit reduction program the association seeks to undertake for the Southeast Alaska Salmon Seine fishery and to implement through the provisions of this bill will not reduce the number of permits in that fishery to less than 260."
