ALASKA STATE LEGISLATURE
TWENTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE
SECOND SESSION

Juneau, Alaska

Monday

April 12, 2010

Eighty-fourth Day

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order by President Stevens at 11:33 a.m.

The roll showed nineteen members present. Senator Wielechowski was absent.

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain, The Reverend Murray Richmond. Senator Hoffman moved and asked unanimous consent that the prayer be spread. Without objection, it was so ordered.

O Lord our God,

We take this time at the beginning of this floor session to acknowledge the things in this world that we can change, and things we cannot change.

For those things we can change, we pray for guidance, that the changes we make benefit our world. We have families, loved ones, friends, and constituents, and we are here to do good work on their behalf. We live in a world that has both great needs and great resources, and may we direct the appropriate resources to the greatest needs. May all of us, at the end of our days, look back and say that we made our world a better place.

But there are also things that are beyond our scope, things we cannot change. We cannot change the skies above our heads. We can only look up and give thanks for the glories of the beautiful expanse that paints the heavens. We cannot change the beauty of the mountains that tower over us, but we can appreciate their grandeur.

We cannot change the acts of kindness that come to us from others, kindness which we may or may not deserve. But we can marvel at the intricacies of human nature, and how we are a wonderfully and well wrought people.

Nor can we change some of the things in this world that we rightfully wish we could change. We cannot change the acts of kindness that come our way, nor can we change the acts of cruelty. We cannot change the grandeur of nature, nor can we change its sometimes explosive and destructive power.

There is much we cannot change, but we always have the power to determine how we react to those things. Evil and injustice in the world can lead to sorrow or despair, or can lead to a resolve to be good and just people ourselves. We can respond to Nature's fury with a sense of helplessness and hopelessness, or we can respond with compassion and kindness to its victims.

In short, we echo the famous prayer of Rheinhold Neibuhr who said, Lord, grant me the courage to the change the things I can change, the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, and the wisdom to know the difference.

Amen.

Senator McGuire led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.
