A BILL

FOR AN ACT ENTITLED

1 "An Act relating to automatic renewals of contracts for home security products or 2 services; and relating to the Alaska Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection
3 Act."

4 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

5 * Section 1. AS 45.45 is amended by adding a new section to article 13 to read:

6 Sec. 45.45.940. Automatic renewals of contracts for home security
7 products or services. (a) When a home security business sells home security products 8 or services to a consumer, the home security business may not include an automatic 9 renewal provision in the contract unless, before the consumer enters into the contract,

10 (1) the home security business gives the consumer a disclosure 11 statement that satisfies the requirements in (b) of this section; and

12 (2) the consumer chooses to include the automatic renewal provision in 13 the contract and indicates that choice by signing the disclosure statement.

14 (b) The disclosure statement required by (a) of this section must be on a

1 separate document from the contract and must clearly and conspicuously disclose in 2 writing

3 (1) that, if the consumer signs the disclosure statement, the home
4 security business will automatically renew the contract;

5 (2) that, if the consumer does not sign the disclosure statement, the 6 home security business will not automatically renew the contract but will deliver a 7 notice of the scheduled termination to the consumer at least 60 days before the 8 scheduled termination date;

9 (3) the length of each renewal period under the automatic renewal
10 provision;

11 (4) whether the home security business will charge the consumer a 12 higher contract price for each renewal under the automatic renewal provision; and

13 (5) an electronic mail address, mailing address, and a toll-free 14 telephone number that the consumer may use to terminate the contract.

15 (c) If a consumer does not sign the disclosure statement, the home security 16 business shall send, at least 60 days before the contract is scheduled to terminate, a 17 notice to the consumer that provides

18 (1) the date that the contract is scheduled to terminate; and

19 (2) the renewal options available to the consumer; the renewal options 20 may include short-term renewals, long-term renewals, or both.

21 (d) If a home security business is required to send a notice under (c) of this 22 section, the home security business shall mail the notice by first class mail to the last 23 known address of the consumer and obtain a certificate of mailing from the United 24 States Postal Service or transmit the notice by electronic means to the last known 25 electronic address of the consumer and request an electronic confirmation of receipt 26 by the consumer. If a notice mailed under this subsection is returned to the home 27 security business undelivered, and the home security business does not receive an 28 electronic confirmation of receipt for a notice transmitted by electronic means, the 29 home security business shall attempt to notify the consumer by calling the last known 30 telephone number of the consumer.

31 (e) A home security business may not charge a consumer a higher fee for a

1 contract or otherwise penalize the consumer if the consumer does not sign a disclosure 2 statement.

3 (f) If a home security business includes an automatic renewal provision in a 4 contract without complying with this section, the automatic renewal provision is void.

5 (g) A home security business shall terminate the automatic renewal provision 6 of a contract within 30 days after receipt of notice from a consumer that the consumer 7 has permanently relocated to a hospital, nursing home, or assisted living facility.
