FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS #4

STATE OF ALASKA
2014 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

BILL NO. CSHB 375(JUD)

Analysis

This bill proposes to repeal subsections (b) and (c) from AS 11.46.350 relating to the definition of terms used in burglary and criminal trespass laws; essentially removing the exception (privilege) that allows a person to remain on private property that is unimproved and apparently unused land unless notice is given. This specifically relates to criminal trespass in the second degree under AS 11.46.330.

Should this bill pass, it is anticipated that the Alaska Wildlife Troopers may spend more time responding to and investigating reported trespass cases on unimproved and apparently unused land, though this is part of the normal job duties of a trooper and would therefore not result in a fiscal impact. Consequently, a zero fiscal note is being submitted.
