FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2017 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONAnalysis

HB 229 suspends the surety bond or cash deposit requirement for oil and gas exploration, development, and production businesses operating in Alaska until January 1, 2019. This suspension will provide the Department of Commerce, Community & Economic Development additional time to develop the regulations needed for implementation of this requirement.

If the bill passes a regulations project will be required, but it can be added to a planned regulations project for business licensing so no additional expenditure authority is needed.

The Division of Corporations, Business, and Professional Licensing does not anticipate fiscal impact from this legislation.
