FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2018 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONAnalysis

House Bill 386 improves the State's ability to address derelict vessels, a frequent problem in Alaska, and establishes a fund to support these efforts. The Department of Environmental Conservation is often called to respond to derelict vessels due to the potential release of oil or other hazardous materials. This bill does not affect the Department's ability to respond or assist with the clean up of hazardous materials. The Department already has statutory authority to recover the cost of that response and clean up from the responsible party.

This bill has no fiscal impact to the Department.
