Heavenly Father, I am grateful that you love and know each one of us in this sacred place today.

Father, thank you for this opportunity to pray and invite your Holy Spirit to influence the men and women that have been assembled in this House.

Father, I ask that you help each person approach each decision today with humility; that ego and evil wouldn't get in the way of your blessings for the people of Alaska.

Father, I ask for your knowledge and your wisdom to be given to these men and women as they work through the challenges our state is faced with. I ask for clarity of understanding as they discuss the opinions of each person that are expressed here. was read the first time and referred to the Resources and Judiciary Committees.

The following fiscal note(s) apply:

1. Zero, Dept. of Fish & Game
2. Zero, Dept. of Public Safety

The Governor's transmittal letter dated February 14 follows:

"Dear Speaker Edgmon:

Under the authority of Article III, Section 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to penalties for certain sport fishing, hunting, and trapping license violations; relating to restrictions on the issuance of sport fishing, hunting, and trapping licenses; creating violations and amending fines and restitution for certain fish and game offenses; creating an exemption from payment of restitution for certain unlawful takings of big game animals; relating to commercial fishing violations; allowing lost federal matching funds from the Pittman - Robertson, Dingell - Johnson/Wallop - Breaux programs to be included in an order of restitution; and adding a definition of 'electronic form.'

The bill would allow a person to correct a citation for not having a sport fishing, hunting, or trapping license, tag, or permit on their person, by bringing a copy of the license, tag, or permit that was valid at the time of the citation to the office of the citing officer or to court. There are many reasons why a person may not have a fishing, hunting, or trapping license on their person in the field. This provision would prevent what may have been an honest mistake from turning into an unnecessary conviction.

In addition, the bill would allow a person to show actual possession of a license or permit in paper or electronic form. Electronic form would mean the display of a license or permit on an electronic device, such as a mobile telephone, tablet, or computer. However, tags are not conducive to display in electronic format, and therefore are excluded from this provision.

In order to better manage issuance of a fishing, hunting, or trapping license, if a person has had their fishing, hunting, or trapping privileges revoked or suspended in this or any other state, this bill would prohibit them from obtaining a fishing, hunting, or trapping license in Alaska. A person should not be able to avoid sanctions merely by obtaining another license.

The bill also gives greater discretion to prosecutors and law enforcement by allowing almost all fish and game offenses to be charged as violations rather than criminal offenses. Currently, if a person violates certain fish and game laws, they can only be charged with a criminal offense. A criminal conviction is not always appropriate, nor is it necessarily the best outcome for the State or the offender. By creating the option of a violation where the offender acts without any culpable mental state, prosecutors and law enforcement can more appropriately enforce the State's fish and game laws while maximizing public use and enjoyment.

One of the ways Alaska manages its fish and game resources is through the sale of hunting and fishing licenses. The sale of licenses helps track the harvest of resources and sustains important conservation and management programs. Under the Pittman - Robertson, Dingell - Johnson/Wallop - Breaux programs, the State receives significant federal funding for fish and game management activities that is matched at a 3:1 ratio using license revenue. When a person fails to obtain a license, the State loses an important funding source used to manage fish and game resources. The bill would allow the State to collect restitution when a person fails to obtain a lawful hunting or fishing license, including lost federal funds.

The bill also increases the strict liability fine limits on commercial fishing violations as well as restitution amounts for unlawfully taking an animal. The increased fines and restitution amounts are necessary to ensure that more people can use and enjoy the resource by deterring illegal fishing and hunting that harms other users.

Protecting the proper use of Alaska's resources is one of our most important responsibilities.

I urge your prompt and favorable action on this measure.

Sincerely,

Bill Walker
Governor"

HB 130

HOUSE BILL NO. 130 by the House Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

"An Act relating to the Izembek State Game Refuge, Cape Newenham State Game Refuge, Palmer Hay Flats State Game Refuge, Port Moller Critical Habitat Area, Egegik Critical Habitat Area, Pilot Point Critical Habitat Area, Fox River Flats Critical Habitat Area, Kachemak Bay Critical Habitat Area, and Dude Creek Critical Habitat Area; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the Resources Committee.

The following fiscal note(s) apply:

1. Zero, Dept. of Fish & Game
2. Zero, Dept. of Fish & Game

The Governor's transmittal letter dated February 14 follows:

"Dear Speaker Edgmon:

Under the authority of Article III, Section 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to certain State game refuges and critical habitat areas (collectively called special areas), namely Izembek State Game Refuge, Cape Newenham State Game Refuge, Palmer Hay Flats State Game Refuge, Port Moller Critical Habitat Area, Egegik Critical Habitat Area, Pilot Point Critical Habitat Area, Fox River Flats Critical Habitat Area, Kachemak Bay Critical Habitat Area, and Dude Creek Critical Habitat Area.

The bill would correct technical errors or minor omissions in the legal boundary descriptions of eight legislatively-designated special areas and would incorporate parcels of land adjacent into another critical habitat area. Egegik, Pilot Point, and Port Moller Critical Habitat Areas have either typographical errors in the original legal descriptions from the 1970s, or were described from a map with a typographical error. The bill would shift the boundaries to correct these errors with no net change in acreage. Izembek State Game Refuge, Cape Newenham State Game Refuge, and Fox River Flats Critical Habitat Area have small tideland areas within their larger boundaries that were likely excluded from the original legal description due to the mapping of shorelines at the time the areas were created. The bill would incorporate omitted areas by adding 778 acres to the Izembek State Game Refuge, 415 acres to the Cape Newenham State Game Refuge, and 285 acres to the Fox River Flats Critical Habitat Area. Palmer Hay Flats State Game Refuge has small portions of abandoned and current stream channels that were initially excluded from the refuge due to platted descriptions of streambanks. By adding these lands, the bill would add 398 acres to the Refuge. Kachemak Bay Critical Habitat Area has a small portion of tidelands that appears to have been inadvertently excluded from the statutory description. The bill would incorporate 230 acres of tidelands into the critical habitat area.

Through the aforementioned amendments, the bill would:

- (1) correct errors and properly describe areas intended for habitat protection;
- (2) eliminate the confusing patchwork of land status within these refuges and critical habitat areas;
- (3) create contiguous, inclusive boundaries that better reflect the original legislative intent of the designations;

- (4) remove lands inadvertently included in critical habitat areas that were not appropriate for habitat protections, and eliminate permitting requirements for such lands; and
- (5) clarify management and enforcement of the applicable statutes and regulations governing the subject special areas.

In addition, the bill would add several tracts of wetlands, consisting of approximately 1,439 acres, to the Dude Creek Critical Habitat Area. These tracts of lands are located adjacent to the current boundaries of the Dude Creek Critical Habitat Area and were acquired by The Nature Conservancy in 2004 from the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's National Coastal Wetland Conservation Grant Program and then donated to the State of Alaska specifically for the purpose of becoming part of the Critical Habitat Area. After acquiring title for these parcels in 2004, the Alaska Department of Natural Resources issued full management authority to the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G) to manage the lands consistent with the conservation purposes for which the State acquired the property and with the policies of the Dude Creek Critical Habitat Area. The bill would give ADF&G the authority to effectively regulate these parcels and would be the final step in this cooperative process between State, local, and federal agencies.

I urge your prompt and favorable action on this measure.

Sincerely,

Bill Walker

Governor"
