FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2019 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONAnalysis

This bill will reduce the number of inmates who are eligible for discretionary parole and increase the eligibility time frame for murder in the first and second degree from one-third to one-half of their prison sentence. The discretionary hearing process will require the inmate to complete an application in order to be considered for discretionary parole. Earned Compliance Credits will be limited to specific class of crimes and violation sanctions limits will be eliminated.

This bill eliminates statutory good time. This has the effect of eliminating mandatory parole since inmates will serve the full term of their sentence. This does not impact the Parole Board as no hearing was required for mandatory parole.
