FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2021 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONAnalysis

HB 132 encourages collaboration between the Departments of Labor and Workforce Development and Education and Early Development to provide financial and technical support to school districts creating or expanding school to apprenticeship programs. The Department of Labor currently works in collaboration with educational and community partners to establish USDOL approved apprenticeships which lead to credentials in many high demand professions. School to apprenticeship programs as presented in the bill require federally registered apprenticeships which are connected to employment. Federal eligibility for apprenticeship starts at the age of 16. The Alaska Workforce Development Board does not expect a direct fiscal impact from this legislation.

The legislation also allows a $1,000 tax credit for each qualifying registered apprenticeship recognized by the Department of Labor and Workforce Development, reflected in the Department of Revenue indeterminate fiscal note.
