I offer the following prayer respecting the religious traditions of all Alaskans:

Before I begin, I'd ask us all to take a moment of silence in remembrance of the 2,977 Americans who died, including 344 firefighters and 71 police officers, on that fateful and tragic day 20 years ago. It was a day when unspeakable evil manifested itself. It was a day that changed this country, and the world, forever.

Let us remember those who were lost on September 11th, 2001. May God continue to bless and comfort all the family and friends left behind by these terrible losses.

Heavenly Father, we come before you today with important work. Work that none of us can accomplish individually and work that it seems we are sometimes unable to accomplish collectively. It is work that we can only accomplish with your wisdom, grace, and mercy.

In the book of James, your word tells us, If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him. Lord, I ask for that wisdom for every member of this body.

Holy God, as you extend us grace, help us all extend grace to each other. Show us how to disagree without being disagreeable. As the New Testament tells us, Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

Father, remind us often that, A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger.

Finally, Lord, as we go about our business this day—and every day—help us to keep fresh in our minds the Preamble of our State Constitution: We the people of Alaska, grateful to God and to those who founded our nation and pioneered this great land, in order to secure and transmit to succeeding generations our heritage of political, civil, and religious liberty within the Union of States, do ordain and establish this constitution for the State of Alaska.

Thank you, Father God, for the blessings you've bestowed upon this great land and help us to be the good stewards you've called us to be. I ask all these things in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Representative Gillham.
