FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2023 LEGISLATIVE SESSIONAnalysis

SB53 requires the Department of Law to file a petition seeking involuntary commitment orders for defendants who remain incompetent to stand trial after all criminal competency restoration orders have expired, and extends the length of time between judicial reviews that the court may order patients who have been previously found incompetent to stand trial to be held under the Title 47 civil commitment process. Current statute limits these involuntary commitment orders for up to six months, SB53 would allow the court to extend commitment orders up to five years. The extended order length is limited to offenders who have a history of repeated felony offenses against a person. SB53 requires the Department of Family and Community Services to provide an annual report with information on the number of patients committed under this section. This reporting requirement will not have a fiscal impact on the department. The bill also requires that a discharge hearing be held before a patient held under this new provision is released from department custody.

This bill may increase the length of time that some patients spend in court ordered civil commitment at the Department of Family and Community Services, Alaska Psychiatric Institute (API). SB53 may indirectly affect bed capacity due to beds being occupied by some patients for longer lengths of stay, reducing bed availability for other patients. Because API is budgeted for full capacity of 80 patients, SB53 will have no fiscal impact on the department.
