FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2024 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

This legislation would increase the statutory fees for business licenses and endorsements to sell tobacco products, electronic smoking products, and products containing nicotine. The general business license fee would increase from $50 to $100 per year; the fee for sole proprietorships owned by senior citizens (65 years or older) or disabled veterans would increase from $25 to $50 per year; and the fee for obtaining and renewing an endorsement would increase from $100 to $200 per renewal.

The legislation has an October 1, 2024 (FY2025) effective date to provide the department time to update applicable forms and webpages in time for the end of the calendar year when business licenses are required to be renewed. The change in revenue in this fiscal note is a conservative estimate based on the average number of new and renewed business licenses and endorsements sold in 2017, 2018, and 2019. Data from older years was used because business license fees were suspended during the COVID pandemic which may have inflated the number of business licenses obtained during 2020, 2021, 2022, and 2023. However, the number of active businesses has grown since the timeframe used for the estimate and the number of continuing business licenses is likely higher than the count used for the revenue estimate in this note. If the number of current business licenses is maintained, revenue collected will be higher. Projecting business licensing purchases more than one year in advance cannot account for market factors that may influence the number of licenses purchased.

The Division of Corporations, Business, and Professional Licensing will absorb any fiscal impact from this legislation.

Business licensing fees are set per AS 43.70, and revenue in excess of authorized budgeted expenses reverts to the State of Alaska general fund. Business licensing at CBPL is funded by General Fund/Program Receipts – fund source 1005 GF/Prgm (DGF).
