One Hundred Twentieth Day

Pursuant to adjournment the House was called to order by Speaker Tilton at 1:58 p.m.

With respect to all faiths, I offer a poem by Alberto Rios entitled "When Giving is All We Have":

We give because someone gave to us.
We give because nobody gave to us.

We give because giving has changed us.
We give because giving could have changed us.

We have been better for it,
We have been wounded by it—

Giving has many faces: It is loud and quiet,
Big, though small, diamond in wood-nails.

Its story is old, the plot worn and the pages too,
But we read this book, anyway, over and again:

Giving is, first and every time, hand to hand,
Mine to yours, yours to mine.

You gave me blue and I gave you yellow.
Together we are simple green. You gave me

What you did not have, and I gave you
What I had to give—together, we made

Something greater from the difference.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Representative Galvin.

CERTIFICATION OF THE JOURNAL

Representative Saddler moved and asked unanimous consent that the journal for the 119th legislative day be approved as certified by the Chief Clerk. There being no objection, it was so ordered.

INTRODUCTION, FIRST READING, AND REFERENCE OF HOUSE BILLS

HB 203

HOUSE BILL NO. 203 by Representative McKay, entitled:

"An Act relating to wage payments."

was read the first time and referred to the Labor & Commerce Committee.

HB 204

HOUSE BILL NO. 204 by the House Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

"An Act exempting certain employees from overtime pay requirements; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the Labor & Commerce and Finance Committees.

The following fiscal note(s) apply:

1. Fiscal, Dept. of Labor & Workforce Development

The Governor's transmittal letter dated May 15 follows:

"Dear Speaker Tilton:

Under the authority of Article III, Section 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill regarding Alaska's overtime laws relating to employees of various facilities licensed under AS 47.32, including ambulatory surgical centers. The bill provides an exemption from overtime pay requirements for employees of these facilities if they choose to enter into a voluntary flexible work plan with their employer.

To improve and extend healthcare access, the availability of medical services that do not require hospital admissions has increased nationally and within Alaska; however, non-hospital medical facilities are at a disparity for managing the work-life balance of healthcare employees when compared with hospitals, where employees are exempted from the daily overtime requirement. The result has been a noticeable migration of nurses and other critical healthcare staff to hospitals where a more flexible schedule allows the employee greater control over their time.

Alaska law requires overtime pay for eligible employees to begin either after eight working hours in a day or after 40 cumulative hours in a workweek. Employees may, however, work up to 10 hours a day without triggering the overtime requirement if they have a written voluntary flexible work plan agreement with their employer that has been filed with the Department of Labor and Workforce Development and the department has issued a certificate approving the plan. An employee working longer than 10 hours a day, or 40 hours in a week, is paid at the overtime rate.

This bill would increase the hours that flexible work plan employees of certain facilities may work before triggering overtime pay from 10 to 12 hours. These facilities include ambulatory surgical centers, freestanding birth centers, home health agencies, hospices, intermediate care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities, residential psychiatric treatment centers, rural health clinics, and subacute mental health facilities.

This bill would not affect existing flexible work plan agreements, but it would permit employees working at these facilities to negotiate plans up to 12 hours per day going forward. Employees of these facilities would still be subject to a total of 40 hours per week for overtime pay.

This bill will impart flexibility for healthcare workers and provide stability for Alaska's healthcare system.

I urge your prompt and favorable action on this measure.

Sincerely,

/s/

Mike Dunleavy
Governor"
