FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2025 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

HB 101 amends criminal statutes currently applicable to offender victimization of children under the age of 16, and expands these statutes to encompass the victimization of children under the age of 18.

Referrals to the Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) for the criminal statutes specifically addressing victims under the age of 16 are rare, and typically involve a significant age gap between the offending minor and the victim. The expansion of these statutes to include victims aged 16 or 17 is not anticipated to impact delinquency referrals, given prosecutorial discretion and the absence of significant age disparity between an offending minor and a 16- or 17-year-old victim. DJJ provides services to juveniles based on their needs and risks to reoffend. The bill will have no fiscal impact on Department of Family and Community Services- Division of Juvenile Justice.
