1:37:45 PM

MS. HACKENMILLER explained Amendment 2:

[Original punctuation provided.]

This amendment revises Section 26, specifically modifying Alaska Statute 08.48.331, Exemption 15. This statute pertains to conventional onsite wastewater systems and the Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation (ADEC). The purpose of this change is to provide more precise criteria for when an exemption to construction requirements can be granted for these wastewater systems. Essentially, the amendment now limits the exemption to conventional onsite wastewater systems that meet both of the following conditions:

1. They serve a commercial facility.

2. They have a design flow of less than 500 gallons of wastewater per day.

1:39:21 PM

COLIN MAYNARD, Chair, Architects, Engineers and Land Surveyors Board (AELS), Legislative Liaison Committee, Anchorage, Alaska, testified by invitation on SB 54 and stated that the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) and ALS Board came to an agreement about the issues. He said the change clarifies the original broad language.

1:39:58 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN asked if the amendment keeps someone designing small projects exempt from having to get a design stamp.

1:40:10 PM

MR. MAYNARD answered that the exception applies to certified contractors who design and install the systems and have been certified by DEC.

1:40:52 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN objected for purposes of discussion.

1:40:57 PM

MS. HACKENMILLER explained Amendment 3:

[Original punctuation provided.]

This amendment revises Section 26. The AELS Board initially requested a change to AS 08.48.331, Exemption 10, in Version I, known as the industrial exemption, requiring professional registration for natural gas pipeline construction. However, after reviewing Version I in February 2025, the Board found the language too broad. To address this, we worked with ENSTAR to revise the language, ensuring it aligns with National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) guidelines issued after the 2018 gas pipeline explosion, which had instigated the original modification. This revised section will take effect on January 1, 2026. The separate effective date does not apply to any other sections of the bill.

1:42:26 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN asked for clarification on the need for new language.

1:42:33 PM

LINDSEY HOBSON, Director of Legal and Administration, Enstar Natural Gas, Anchorage, Alaska, testified by invitation on SB 54 and stated that Amendment 3 addresses National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) recommendations following the 2018 over-pressurization event near Boston. She said working with Senator Claman's office, Enstar reviewed other states' responses and NTSB guidance to craft a narrowly tailored solution. She said the amendment removes the exemption for professional engineer stamps on gas pipeline projects over 100 psi—covering transmission and high-pressure distribution lines.

CHAIR BJORKMAN asked whether pipelines with 100 psi or higher still require stamped drawings and those below 100 psi do not.

MS. HOBSON answered yes. She said requiring stamped drawings for every service line would've meant over 1800 stamps last year for NCAR alone, placing an excessive burden on utility engineers.

1:46:05 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN removed his objection

1:46:10 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN found no further objection and Amendment 3 was adopted.

CHAIR BJORKMAN reconvened the meeting and announced the consideration of SENATE BILL NO. 50 "An Act relating to the comprehensive plans of first and second class boroughs."

1:50:11 PM

HAHLEN BEHNKEN, Staff, Senator Forrest Dunbar, Alaska State Legislature, Juneau, Alaska, provided a recap of SB 50 and stated that SB 50 adds a new element to Title 29, encouraging municipalities to include a housing plan in their comprehensive plans. The aim is to broaden Alaska's response to the housing crisis by promoting locally driven solutions to increase the housing supply.

1:52:13 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN opened public testimony on SB 50.

1:52:38 PM

MICHELE BROWN, Program Director, Housing Alaskans Public Private Partnership (HAPPP), Anchorage, Alaska, testified in support of SB 50 and stated that HAPPP is a statewide housing trust focused on accelerating development through investment, community support, and innovative financing. She said HAPPP supports SB 50 because successful housing requires aligning many factors—land, infrastructure, transportation, workforce, materials, zoning. Currently, projects are treated individually, often leaving parts incomplete. She stated that local governments are best positioned to align the different aspects listed above. Locally driven housing plans help set clear priorities and foster strong partnerships. Housing isn't just a commodity, it's an essential community infrastructure tied to health, safety, and economic stability. When communities set priorities, HAPPP's funding is more effective and better aligned with local needs.

CHAIR BJORKMAN solicited the will of the committee.

2:00:34 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN reconvened the meeting and announced the consideration of SENATE BILL NO. 86 "An Act relating to the business of money transmission; relating to licenses for money transmission, licensure requirements, and registration through a nationwide multistate licensing system; relating to the use of virtual currency for money transmission; relating to authorized delegates of a licensee; relating to acquisition of control of a license; relating to record retention and reporting requirements; authorizing the Department of Commerce, Community, and Economic Development to cooperate with other states in the regulation of money transmission; relating to permissible investments; relating to violations and enforcement of money transmission laws; relating to exemptions to money transmission licensure requirements; relating to payroll processing services; relating to currency exchange licenses; amending Rules 79 and 82, Alaska Rules of Civil Procedure; and providing for an effective date."

2:01:24 PM

SENATOR JESSE KIEHL, District B, Alaska State Legislature, Juneau, Alaska, sponsor of SB 86, provided a summary and stated that SB 86 updates Alaska's money transmission laws to cover broader money services, including crypto. He said SB 86 is a model developed by regulators and industry for basic oversight of non-bank entities. SB 86 supports multi-state coordination and offers lower tiered fees so Alaskan companies entering the business do not have to pay as much as multi-nationals. The bill previously introduced by the governor. He stated that the state is aware of $1.5 billion in unreported cryptocurrency activity in Alaska last year, suggesting the actual amount may be higher.

2:03:20 PM

CHAIR BJORKMAN opened public testimony on SB 86.

2:03:44 PM

KATHY TOMASOFSKY, Executive Director, Money Services Business Association, Miami, Florida, testified in support of SB 86 and stated that the act was developed with regulators and industry to offer clear, consistent protection for customers. The act encourages new services and helps reach unbanked and rural communities. The uniform rules make it easier for companies to do business. She said the act also improves regulatory efficiency through technology and multi-state cooperation. She said the act is already adopted by 26 states and allows flexibility to address local needs.
