The Gastineau Channel Advisory Committee voted unanimously at their Feb. 7th, 1974 meeting in opposition to House Bills #531 and #532, relating to the management of Alaska's moose and deer herds. Regardless of the merits of doe and cow moose seasons, these bills propose a long jump backwards in game management. Alaska's game should be managed by the Alaska Fish and Game Board with the help of the professionals in the Fish and Game Department and not by the local advisory committees.
