THE OLIVETTI TES 401 WORD PROCESSING TYPEWRITER WAS DESIGNED TO BETTER YOUR BUSINESS. WHICH IS WHY IT'S BETTERING OURS.

The Olivetti TES 401 is one of the most successful products we've introduced in years.

What's made our new word processing typewriter such a success in the world of business will help make it a success for you, too.

Take the 401's memory function. It can take over all your repetitive typing. The 401's memory is so sophisticated it can also automatically merge variable information like names and addresses with a constant form letter.

The 401 comes equipped with an easy to use window-into-memory for error-free electronic text editing, and mindiskettes that can store up to 7,500 characters each. Any letter that is stored on a mindiskette can be corrected right in the machine. This eliminates unnecessary retyping.

The Olivetti TES 401 also has a daisy printer that can print out an average business letter in less than 30 seconds.

If you're impressed with the 401 as a word processor you'll be equally impressed with it as a typewriter. Ribbons and type styles can be changed instantly. Dual pitch (pica and elite) and proportional spacing are available at the flick of a switch. Titles can be automatically centered on a page.

Right hand margins can be automatically aligned.

But in spite of all its advancements, the price of the 401 is literally years behind the times.

WHERE HAVE ALL YOUR COPIES GONE?

Ever try to account for all those copies made last month? Try to figure out what department or client they should be charged to? Wonder if you have the right copier, features or price plan?

THE ULTIMATE WEAPON

Danyl's System 80 Transaction Recorder answers those questions and accounts for the costly convenience of copying. Sophisticated but not complicated. System 80 connects easily to all popular copiers — IBM, Xerox, Kodak, Savin and others. Stands alone, without wiring to central computer.

Easy to use. System 80 provides summary and detail cost reports of exactly how many copies were made, when, for whom, by whom on a monthly basis, for management analysis, inventory or charge back. It's that simple.

Fly a bargain to Seattle.

Our special through-flight fares offer you substantial savings between Anchorage and Seattle. All you have to do is stick with Wien Air Alaska for the whole trip.

And because you don't change airlines, you don't have to worry about baggage and reservation mix-ups.

So ask about our Seattle flights now. They're a bargain you can't afford to miss.

WIEN AIR ALASKA

In 1926 Wien was Alaska's first airline. In 1979 it still is.

Snowden Reveals Plan to Request New Court, More Judges, Pay Raises

Arthur Snowden, Administrative Director of the Alaska Court System announced plans to request a new structure, more judicial positions and pay raises for judges in an address before the Anchorage Bar Association at its weekly, Nov. 14, law luncheon meeting at the Crowne Plaza Hotel.

Snowden stated the need for a new structure is based on the fact that out of a total of 100 judicial positions, there are only 40 judges on the bench. He noted that since 1969 the Supreme Court's caseload has grown 80%. Even though it is working over 10 full-time positions, Snowden remarked that the present structure is not adequate to handle the caseload. He stated that the proposed new structure would provide an adequate caseload upon the Supreme Court.

Alternatives Considered

Arthur H. Snowden II
plans were continued in its reload and to shorten the time required to get a case to trial.

Trial Springs Examined

Snowden commented on the trial setting problem in Anchorage. At present it takes between 12 and 18 months before a case can come to trial. He said he felt that citizens would be willing to wait a couple of more months if they could be certain of a trial date. Judicial time has resulted in some cases being continued or reset to new dates, usually upon request because of the unavailability of judges. He said that both the trial court Administrator and Judge Marks are committed in the trial date extension program.

He also discussed a proposal to merge the Anchorage District from the Ju-

Applications for Circuit Judgeships Available

Applications for circuit judgeships in Alaska are now available. At least one position is available in each of the 11 Alaska Districts. The U.S. Court of Appeals, Ninth Circuit.

Initially, President Carter had said an Alaska judge would be selected but apparently changed his mind after losing control to Sen. Mike Gravel and Kenneth H. Carver, President of the Alaska Bar Association.

Sandra A. Saville, an Alaska member of the current Nominating Commission, said it is her understanding that nominees will be selected from Alaska. Washington and Oregon.

The Honorable Judgeship Hall received 10 more seats in the Ninth Circuit.

Re: Report from ABA Committee on Legal Educational Opportunities

Dear Ken:

At the time our committee was formed, you asked that we present a preliminary report to the Board of Governors at its March meeting. Although plagued by the normal amount of absenteeism, we have stuck it out and managed to define the general direction we think the ABA as a whole and this committee should be moving. I apologize for not having a report prepared in time for the Board to review it in advance of the March meeting and I offer the usual lawyer excuses about briefing schedules, oral arguments, etc.

You will note in the report several items that might properly be considered at the annual meeting. If you think that an oral report from our committee might be effective in generating support for our recommendations, I would be willing to make such a presentation.

Very truly yours,

Carolyn E. Jones, Chairperson

Opportunities

REPORT TO ALASKA
BAR ASSOCIATION BY COMMITTEE ON
LEGAL EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

I

RESTORATION OF WICHE FUNDS
FOR ALASKANS WHO WISH TO STUDY LAW

At present, Governor Hammond has recommended a budget for the Post Secondary Education Commission that is little more than continuation level. Should that budget be accepted by the legislature, the Commission would be able to continue funding all those students presently receiving WICHE funds. With the remaining funds, the Commission would then fund one new applicant for each of the 15 areas of graduate study covered by the WICHE program. Consequently, new applicants for WICHE monies would not be completely eliminated. Any remaining monies would be allocated on a priority basis determined by the estimated employment demand for each field and determined by the number of students in each field applying, as a percentage of the total applicants. If the funding is at the level proposed by the Governor, the Commission would not reach students past the fourth ranking; law is ranked 13th. Therefore, under the Governor's budget, only one new applicant for the study of law would be funded in the coming fiscal year.

The Senate Finance Subcommittee reviewing the Commission's budget has indicated that it will recommend full funding for the Commission. Full funding would allow the Commission to provide WICHE monies for all applicants, regardless of the field of graduate study. It is expected, however, that the Governor would veto full funding.

With a total bar membership of 1,320, it is self-evident that there is no shortage of lawyers in Alaska. In 1972 when there were about 500 lawyers admitted to practice, the bar membership has increased at a rate of 11 percent annually. Nor will a cut off of WICHE funds halt this rapid growth because it is estimated that more than 90 percent of recent admittees only qualified as Alaskan residents at the time of taking the bar exam. What will happen if WICHE funds are cut back is that indigenous Alaskan residents, and particularly Alaska's ethnic minorities, will be deprived of an opportunity to study law.

RECOMMENDATION

A. The Alaska Bar Association will immediately send a letter to Governor Hammond and the relevant Senate and House committees outlining the consequences of a cutback in WICHE funds in terms of increasing the number of Alaskan lawyers.

B. The Alaska Bar Association will direct its lobbyist or designated members of the bar to personally speak with the Office of the Governor and the legislature regarding the WICHE cutback and its implications for future Alaskan lawyers.

II

INCREASING THE NUMBER OF ETHNIC MINORITIES INTERESTED IN THE STUDY OF LAW AS A CAREER

The Committee has been able to identify five Alaskan Natives (one retired) and three blacks admitted to practice in Alaska. There are several explanations for the paucity of ethnic lawyers practicing law in Alaska.

1. At present, only five percent of Alaskan Natives and blacks finish in the top quarter of their class in Anchorage. Fifty percent of eleventh grade Alaskan Natives and blacks tested in the lowest quarter of their class. Of those who do finish in the top quarter, most have no career goals or have not prepared themselves for college course work.

2. There is no law school in Alaska.

3. Little money is available for the study of law outside of Alaska.

4. An inordinate number of minorities who do take the Alaska bar exam fail it.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Alaska Bar Association will:

- (a) Make an affirmative effort to work with the School District to provide a career program that uses lawyers as volunteers. For example, on Career Day, students interested in law could spend an entire day with an attorney. The ABA could also provide speakers at the education fair.
- (b) Identify the law schools that have been making an affirmative effort to attract minorities and bring these schools together with the minority candidates. For example, U. of N.M., U. of Denver, U. of Minn., U.C. at Davis.
- (c) Affirmatively work with Alaska Legal Services to promote interest in law as a career in rural areas.
- (d) Define the role of paraprofessionals.
- (e) Educate the members of the bar regarding the merits of paraprofessionals and work to secure an informal commitment that a certain number of paraprofessional slots will be created. For example, one paraprofessional per ten attorneys in each firm.
- (f) Explore with the University of Alaska, the idea of the University acting as a collaborator with an Outside law school as a means of providing in-state legal training.

- (g) Validate the Alaska bar exam to ensure that it is not culturally biased.

III

BONEY MEMORIAL FUND

At present, the Fund consists of a time certificate of deposit worth $5,905. The ABA Tax Committee, and particularly Joseph Vitone, are presently investigating the tax status of the fund. Our Committee has considered various means of increasing the fund. The Committee has rejected the idea of allocating the interest from the client security fund to the Boney Fund on the grounds that $26,000 in the client security fund is inadequate in itself as a security fund; nor would the interest generated by that fund contribute substantially to building up the Boney Fund. The Committee noted, however, that lawyers and law firms are required to maintain non-interest bearing trust accounts for funds belonging to their clients. In many cases, the interest accruing to any one client is negligible and cannot be identified. Ultimately, the banks are the only ones who profit.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Increasing the Fund

- (a) Future statements of dues owed to the ABA will contain an optional add-on charge of $10 to be applied to the Boney Memorial Fund.

- (b) Local bar associations will be formally approached for contributions to the Boney Memorial Fund.
- (c) The Bar Association will investigate the feasibility of passing a rule, to be approved by the Alaska Supreme Court, which will permit the trust monies to be kept in interest-bearing accounts and the interest to be turned over to the Boney Memorial Fund.
- (d) The ABA will offer to provide matching funds out of the Boney Memorial Fund with the Native regional corporations who give grants or loans for the study of law.

Disbursing the Fund

- (a) Structure the Boney Memorial Fund to provide loans to Alaskan students for the study of law. The awards would be based on merit and there would be a partial or complete forgiveness of the loan if the recipient agreed to practice in rural areas for a fixed number of years.
- (b) Allocate a portion of the Boney Fund for use in the newly-created Anchorage School District tutorial program for blacks and Alaskan Natives.

(c) Compile a list of organizations presently giving money to minorities (e.g., BIA, CINA, Alaskan Native Brotherhood, for purposes of coordinating the loans made to minorities and maintaining an accurate count on the number of Alaskan ethnic minorities who are studying law.

(d) Additionally, or alternatively, use the Boney funds to provide loans to take the bar review course and the bar exam. This loan would be repaid.

SUBJECT: Final Report

Richmond, Washington & Willard

At the request of the Board of Governors, I appeared at their May meeting to discuss the contents of our report. Here below, follows an update on that report and action taken by the Board of Governors:

I. RESTORATION OF WICHE FUNDS.

The Senate version of the Post Secondary Education Commission budget was passed out of free conference committee. The 42 present recipients of WICHE funds were granted funds for the 1979 - 1980 school year. Twenty-seven new applicants were funded; 27 new applicants were not funded.

The Board of Governors voted to make the Committee on Legal Educational Opportunities a standing committee and directed that one of its responsibilities be that of monitoring the WICHE budget as it winds its way annually through the Governor's Office, the Legislature and the Free Conference Committee.

II. ETHNIC MINORITIES AND THE STUDY OF LAW.

One hundred fifteen candidates for admission to the practice of law took the February bar exam in Alaska. Included in that number were 2 blacks and 5 Alaskan Natives. Sixty-seven per cent of all the candidates were successful; none of the ethnic minorities were. Because the number of ethnic minorities taking the Alaska bar is not statistically significant, I compared the pass-fail rate in Alaska with that in California for whites and blacks, the only two groups for which figures are available in both states. The statistics were almost identical.

The Board of Governors assigned the following responsibilities to the committee: monitor the California study of racial and cultural bias in its bar exam; determine if nationwide evidence of racial and cultural bias exists for the multi-state exam; identify those law schools that are affirmatively interested in minority enrollment and act as a clearing house between those schools and Alaska's minority students; keep abreast of the University of Alaska's efforts to provide in-state legal education.

Several of our recommendations were assigned to other standing committees for action, e.g., the Public Services Committee will be asked to act on our recommendation re providing high school speakers; the paralegal committee will receive our recommendations re paralegals as a profession.

III. BONEY MEMORIAL FUND.

The Board of Governors adopted our recommendation to provide an optional add-on charge on next year's bar dues statements and asked us to be responsible for notifying the local bar associations of the change in the bar dues statement for next year. The Board also directed us to approach local bar associations for contributions. The Board has asked that the Committee present a detailed structure for the scholarship fund and present it at their September meeting. The question of keeping client trust monies in interest-bearing accounts, as a source of fund-raising, is presently being explored in other states and the Bar Office will monitor those efforts. The Committee has also been assigned the responsibility of compiling a list of organizations that have funds available for minority law school scholarships and loans and to maintain a clearinghouse of this information as well as an accurate count of the minorities admitted to practice or studying law. The Board has suggested that an article be written for the Bar Rag describing the minority tutorial program within the Anchorage School District to determine if there are members interested in supporting that program. The Board rejected the recommendation that loans be made to take the bar review course and the bar exam.

I attended the Board of Governors/Committee Chairmen meeting held during the annual convention in Sitka. At my suggestion, the membership of several committees will be more geographically balanced this coming year as some committees attempt to meet through the use of the tele-conference network. This network is available in at least 12 Alaskan cities through the Legislative Information Agency.

I understand that President Willard will be making new committee assignments for the following year. Our committee was not a standing committee at the time that bar members expressed their preferences for committee assignments. Therefore, if you are interested in serving again on this committee or you know someone who would be so interested, please get that information to Donna Willard or me as soon as possible.

Should we not be working together next year on this committee, I thank you now for serving. I know sometimes it was discouraging when all our members could not be present but those absences were a symptom of all bar committees and a function of our professional responsibilities and not our personal failings. So, when we meet in the future, I hope you won't feel guilty or that you let the committee down. Our report was truly appreciated by the Board of Governors and although out of date, liberally misquoted in the Anchorage Daily News.

RE: Implementing 1979-1980 Agenda

I am enclosing for your information the 1978-1979 final report of this committee. You will note that the Board of Governors has requested that we be responsible for:

- a) Monitoring WICHE funds for the study of law;
- b) monitoring the California study of racial and cultural bias in its bar exam;
- c) monitoring the pass-fail rate of ethnic minorities taking the Alaska bar exam;
- d) identifying law schools affirmatively interested in minority enrollment;
- e) acting as a clearinghouse between those law schools and Alaska's minority students;
- f) monitoring the U of A's efforts to provide in-state legal education;
- g) preparing a detailed statement of how the scholarship fund will operate;
- h) publicizing the scholarship program and soliciting contributions for it;
- i) acting as a clearinghouse regarding scholarships available to Alaskans studying law;

I have already written to the State Bar of California and asked for information regarding its study of racial and cultural bias in its bar exam. I have also been informed of the John Manders Foundation, a Seattle-based foundation created expressly to further the practice of law in Alaska, and I have written for information about the foundation.

Since the Scholarship fund will require the most lead time to implement, I am anxious that we have an outline ready for the Board of Governor's September meeting. I am enclosing a draft of how the scholarship fund could be organized. This draft is for purposes of discussion only and can be amended or totally scrapped if you have some better ideas.

Now that we are a standing committee, our numbers have been officially expanded to nine and we have increased the representation of members outside the Anchorage area. I want to make a real effort to keep the non-Anchorage members fully involved with the Committee and have arranged to hold our first meeting by teleconference hookup through the Legislative Information Offices.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that this Committee will hold its first meeting on July 31, 1979, as follows:

CITY	ADDRESS	TIME
Fairbanks	101 College Road, Bldg. F, Room 250	5:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF NEXT TELECONFERENCE MEETING

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1979 AS FOLLOWS:

CITY	ADDRESS	TIME
ANCHORAGE	1024 WEST 6TH AVENUE	5:00 P.M.
JUNEAU	TELECONFERENCE OFFICE, CAPITAL BLDG., FIRST FLOOR	7:00 P.M.
KETCHIKAN	STATE OFFICE BUILDING, 415 MAIN STREET, ROOM 301	7:00 P.M.

AGENDA: ABA SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Committee met by teleconference hookup on July 31st. Those in attendance were Chief Justice Rabinowitz, Fairbanks; Carolyn Jones and Pat Anderson, Anchorage. There were two observers in Juneau: James Hanlon and Chuck Borbridge.

The following matters were discussed:

1. ABA Scholarship Fund: The Committee has prepared a draft for your consideration and for presentation at the October Board of Governors' Meeting. See enclosure.

2. Bar exam and ethnic minorities: The Committee agrees that the number of ethnic minorities in Alaska who take the bar exam is too small a sample to be meaningful and that we should continue to monitor the ongoing study by the State Bar of California. To date, that study has concluded that: (a) the pass/fail rates of whites and minorities did not change when the number of ethnic minority graders were increased; (b) the magnitude of difference in average performance levels between racial/ethnic groups remains relatively constant across the essay questions as well as the multiple choice questions; (c) individual questions or subtests do not differentially favor or discriminate against a particular group; (d) controlling for potentially relevant attitudinal and background characteristics of the applicants, e.g., socioeconomic status, did not change the group disparities. (e) CONTROLLING FOR AN APPLICANT'S PERFORMANCE IN LAW SCHOOL AS WELL AS THE OVERALL CALIBER OF THE STUDENTS ATTENDING DIFFERENT SCHOOLS SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCES BETWEEN GROUP DIFFERENCES IN THEIR PASSING RATES.

While the Committee has not reached a decision regarding what responsibility, if any, the ABA should accept with regard to the pass/fail rate of racial/ethnic minorities, the Committee did agree to take the following action:

a. Individually contact minorities who have failed in the past to determine what their problems in taking the exam were.

b. Offer support to unsuccessful candidates in the form of going over their exam with them at the ABA office. The Board of Governors at their September meeting approved the insertion of our offer to help in the announcement letters sent out to unsuccessful candidates.

c. Request that a separate sheet, similar to the one used by the California bar, be distributed with applications to take the exam. This sheet would explain that our Committee is monitoring the impact of the exam on racial/ethnic minorities and ask them to identify their racial/ethnic background and return the sheet under separate mail to this Committee. The information would be kept confidential and would be used only to monitor the pass/fail rate of racial/ethnic minorities. The Board also agreed at its September meeting to distribute this form with the blank applications to take the bar exam.

ALASKA BAR ASSOCIATION SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Eligibility:

Any individual who at the time of his/her application is (1) a resident of Alaska, (2) has a present intent to practice law in Alaska upon graduation from law school, and (3) at the time of the scholarship award is admitted to an accredited law school.

Criteria For Awards:

Scholarship awards shall be made annually based on funds available and, in the discretion of the awards committee, to applicants in need as measured by tuition costs, living costs, geographic distance between Alaska and applicant's law school, family needs.

Amount of Awards:

The size of scholarships awarded shall depend upon the amount of money in the scholarship fund, and the number and need of the applicants.

Application Deadline:

February 1st.

Time of Award:

Summer preceding law school year for which the award is made.

Application Distribution:

Blank applications will be available at the office of the Alaska Bar Association, and the offices of the clerk of court throughout the state.

Publication Regarding Scholarship Program:

Notice of the ABA Scholarship Fund will be distributed to (1) the nonprofit arms of the Alaskan Native corporations, (2) through the State Postsecondary Education Commission (the WICHE program).

Selection Process:

The Committee on Legal Educational Opportunities will review the applications and present their recommendations in rank order to the selection committee.

Scholarship Committee:

The President of the ABA; one member of the ABA Bar Foundation, and the Chair of CLEO will make the final decision regarding scholarship awards.

Funding: Boney Memorial Fund, ABA member individual contributions via $10 optional checkoff on annual billing, local bar contributions, corporate contributions.

Re: Report of Administrative Law Committee

Dear Donna:

As promised in several previous conversations, here is the 1978-1979 report of the Administrative Law Committee.

The Committee held two lengthy meetings during the past year, in addition to numerous contacts and phone conversations that occurred in between and afterward. Most of the Committee's efforts were directed at two items. The first one was a proposed regulation initiated by the Alaska Public Offices Commission (APOC) dealing with "administrative lobbying". Some members of the Committee were disturbed by suggested definitions of "lobbyist" and "administrative action", and what effect those definitions and their related reporting requirements would have on the practice of law before administrative agencies. Over the years the Committee has consistently taken the position that the practice of law before administrative agencies does not constitute "lobbying" under the Purviews of the Alaska Public Offices Commission Act.

In the most recent instance, the Committee was concerned about the breadth of the proposed regulations and whether they met the limits of the enabling statute itself. After our first Committee meeting, an inquiry was made to the Alaska Public Offices Commission, and from that it appeared that the intent of the regulations was not to encompass the bald practice of law before administrative agencies, but was more in terms of regulating other "contacts" made to administrative agencies. After this word came from the APOC it was felt that those particular draft regulations, while they could well be improved, would not necessarily affect the practice of law before administrative agencies as we have always known it.

The other major issue the Committee worked on at great length was a possible adaptation of the Model Administrative Procedure Act to Alaska. For years the Committee has studied the Model APA and urged that a version of it tailored to Alaska be enacted by the Legislature. This has been the subject of at least one resolution adopted at a Bar Convention. Unfortunately, there was never enough Legislative interest in such a bill, and the model APA that we used then was sorely out of date.

Donna C. Willard, President

However, at our first Committee meeting this past year a member from the Attorney General's office supplied the Committee with a draft amendment to the Alaska Administrative Procedure Act that was being proposed by the current Administration. The Committee worked over that draft, and in its second meeting spent a great deal of time marking up a new version of that bill to tailor it to Alaska from the standpoints of the business and consuming public. Luckily, as always the composition of the Committee is such that many varied interests are well represented.

Following that second meeting when the draft bill was marked up, the Committee waited to see if the Administration or whoever might ultimately sponsor such a bill would like the assistance of the Committee or any of its members in aiding its passage. However, it now appears that the Administration decided not to pursue this particular bill because the promulgation of a new Model APA is apparently in the works. Hence, no bill was introduced in 1979. The issue is one that I'm sure will be taken up again by the Administrative Law Committee before the next Legislative Session. Hopefully a new Model APA will be along before then.

It was also brought to my attention by a Committee member that the current bill that would create a new intermediate court of Appeals (SB 104) denotes that the new court will handle administrative appeals. However, SB 104 seems to focus the scope of the new court primarily on criminal appeals. While there may well be a need for an appellate court for criminal appeals, it may be troublesome to those who practice administrative law to a great degree to have their appeals heard by a court whose expertise and time is devoted primarily to criminal matters. No doubt the Committee will discuss this further before the 1980 Legislative Session, and it may well be a matter that the Board of Governors itself may wish to consider in its own deliberations in formulating its own position on the new intermediate appellate court.

On another Legislative front, I note that the APOC recently acknowledged that, as presently written, the definition of "administrative action" in AS 24.45.171(1) is overbroad and often would require a person to report normal inquiries of administrative agencies or routine actions required by Alaska law. Hence, House Bill 423 was introduced on March 22nd which deals (again) with administrative "lobbying" under the Alaska Public Offices Act. So it appears that definitions of "lobbyist" and "administrative action" are far from being resolved. I'm sure the Committee will consider this bill during the coming year. Input from the Administrative Law Committee will be important to any definition of "administrative action".

I apologize for the delay in getting this report to you, and also to Ken Jarvi. Unfortunately, the press of business in closing out my practice with Alaska Legal Services foreclosed getting this report to you when I should have. I now close out five years as Chairman of the Committee and pass the torch on to the new Chairman, Mary Patch. I would like to remain a member of the committee if that is possible. I think the body of knowledge accumulated by long-time members such as Andy Hoge and myself can be helpful to the future deliberations of the Committee. In the past the Committee has been successful in getting many pieces of legislation enacted to improve the practice of administrative law, has had beneficial impact on administrative rule making and continues to be, in my opinion, one of the Bar's best working committees.

Thank you for your patience waiting for this.

Respectfully submitted,

GARRETSON & JARVI
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

REPORT OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW COMMITTEE
MAY 1978

Formal activities of the Administrative Law Committee over the past year were limited to comment on proposed changes in the State's Lobbying Law, plus a repeated attempt at enactment of a law creating a central corps of hearing examiners to conduct administrative hearings for various State agencies.

At the urging of the Bar's Executive Director, late last summer the undersigned attended and participated in hearings conducted in Anchorage by an Interim Legislative Committee contemplating changes in the State's Lobbying Law. Of prime concern regarding the State's Lobbying Law was-- and is--the Lobbying Act's definition of administrative "lobbying".

"Legislative" lobbying and "administrative" lobbying are completely different, and as I suggested to the Legislative Committee, the lack of clarity in the Lobbying Act is tantamount to a declaration that the very practice of law before State administrative agencies constitutes "lobbying"---and is therefore subject to the strictures of the Lobbying Act. I also pointed out my belief that the Lobbying Act was not intended to apply to the practice of law before State Administrative Agencies, but it did seem reasonable that perhaps certain types of "contacts" with State officials may well need regulation. The ambiguity in the Act with respect to administrative "lobbying" had been recognized by the Alaska Public Offices Commission, and therefore the Commission found no way to enforce it. There was some opposition to this point of view from others present, but even after more discussion the Interim Committee took no action at the meeting. I believe the only bill presently wending its way through the Legislature with regard to Lobbying does not address the concerns I expressed to the Interim Committee.

On another Legislative front, a member of the Administrative Law Committee made a spirited attempt at getting the 1978 Legislature to adopt a bill creating a central corps of hearing examiners to preside at administrative hearings of certain State regulatory agencies. This concept has been a priority of the Administrative Law Committee for years, and has even been the subject of a resolution adopted at an Alaska Bar Convention. Bills to accomplish this objective have been introduced in every legislature since 1972, but none, of course, have been enacted. Although the 1978 Legislature is still in Session, it appears that the Hearing Examiner bill is again doomed to failure.

Other than these two efforts, the Administrative Law Committee took no other actions. An ill-fated attempt was made to have a joint meeting with the Public Utilities Committee, and other attempts were made to coordinate committee meetings, but schedule conflicts of various committee members made it impossible to meet at those particular times. The fault must be laid at the feet of the Committee Chairman, and it must be acknowledged that some members of the Committee expressed a clear desire that the committee meet and discuss various issues. This did not happen, and schedule conflicts and the press of business on committee members--and the Committee Chairman--were the prime causes.

However, the Committee Chairman is making every effort to convene a meeting of the Committee and re-institute regular meetings as the Committee did in the past when it was acknowledged to be one of the Bar's hardest working committees. The Chairman proposes to continue these efforts to convene a meeting, conduct business, and report to the President-Elect in writing at the earliest possible opportunity on the success of these efforts, assuming the President-Elect chooses to retain the present Chairman for a fifth year.

Respectfully submitted,

James Grandjean

Re: Alaska Bar Association
Bench, Bar, Press Committee

Dear Donna,

Though I didn't receive notification of my appointment as chairman of the above committee until the first issue of the Bar Rag last summer, I did attempt to make the committee function. My first efforts did, however, place the status and thus the effectiveness of the committee in a state of limbo. I asked my old friend Ken Jarvi if I could expand the committee membership to include attorneys and representatives of the Press in each of the major cities in Southeast Alaska.

As I ride a circuit from Yakutat to Ketchikan, including every village and town in between I had hoped to meet with small satellite committees in each place and after a few meetings be able to achieve some consensus of opinion from all of the committees and present recommendations to the Board of Governors, which might then be forwarded on to the Supreme Court and the Legislature for implementation.

However, this scheme apparently required additional Board action and my last correspondence from Ken indicated I should wait the boards direction and guidance.

Though I have met informally with members of the Bench, the Bar, and the Press to discuss areas of mutual interest and conflict I have yet to hold a formal meeting of this committee.

This is regrettable as the challenges currently facing the Bench and the Bar in this state need to be addressed. The Press also has the dilemma of source confidentiality vs. the defendants right to disclosure and they are certainly interested in that subject.

I had hoped this committee might be in a position at this time to send some recommendations along to you and the board - but as you see I'm still awaiting the boards advice and guidelines on this matter.

Please be assured that I'm willing to work in any capacity on this subject or on any other topic as you might designate.

I'm personally very proud of our Bar and the fine people who labor daily in the legal vineyards. If I can be of any further assistance please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

R. L. Taylor
Robin L. Taylor

P.S. I've not found a single attorney or member of the Press that does not agree with the following:

No person should be allowed to apply for a judgeship in this state without first having practiced law at least 10 years.

Re: Bar-Polls and Elections Committee

Dear Donna:

I write in response to your letter of April 20, 1979, a copy of which is attached hereto. This letter is designed to function as the formal report you requested in that letter.

The activities of the Bar Polls and Elections Committee can be summed up very briefly. Suffice it to say that the members of the committee appeared and counted ballots each and every time their services were required. We made every attempt to do our work rapidly and accurately, and the required tabulations were, to the best of my knowledge, furnished to the Bar on a timely basis.

I have every hope of attending the convention in Sitka. Unfortunately, however, problems have developed with my reservations, and I may not be able to attend. Needless to say, I will contact you as soon as my plans are firm.

Very truly yours,

Re: Alaska Bar Association Business Law Committee

Dear Donna:

In response to your letter of March 5, 1979 I am enclosing a copy of a letter which I circulated to our committee members in December. I was not aware that we had been requested to draft a "purposes statement" but I believe the letter essentially accomplishes the same thing.

Since the primary interest of the Bar Association, as expressed to me, was to have our committee monitor legislation, this has been our primary objective. However, business law legislation does not appear to be the primary objective of the current legislature, so we have not yet tested our effectiveness. For your information, subjects under review by our committee are summarized in the following table:

COMMITTEE MEMBER	TOPIC	BILL NO.
Garretson	Liens	HB 24 and HB 149
Stoller and Wonnell	Landlord and Tenant	Senate Bills 36, 37, 38, 42, 43, 44, 57 and House Bills 57, 58 and 77

Donna C. Willard, Esq.
March 9, 1979
Page 2

COMMITTEE MEMBER	TOPIC	BILL NO.
Eggers and Hillard	Corporations	SB 112
Cole	Executions	HB 56
Cole, Eggers and Hillard	Commerical Code	HB 35 and SB 55

Our committee also will be presenting a panel discussion at the Sitka Bar meeting regarding developments in business law.

I have the impression that few if any of the bills under review by our committee will be acted upon during this session of the legislature. As a consequence, some continuity in committee membership might be advisable. However, I am frankly not in a position to identify effectively the working and nonworking members of the committee since none of us (especially including the chairman) has made this a full-time occupation to date. Considering the number of possible topics for consideration by the legislature, an expansion in the committee membership would probably not hurt.

Please call me if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

Members of the Business Law Committee

Re: Business Law Meeting - Summary

The following is a summary of my understanding of the conclusions reached at the initial meeting of the Business Law Committee which was attended by Hoyt Cole, Ken Eggers, Walt Garretson, Steve Hillard, Bob Stoller and myself.

Committee Objectives.

Although several alternatives were considered, it was the consensus of the committee that our activities should be limited at the present time to monitoring legislative activities of interest to business lawyers. To implement the monitoring activities, I will contact Norm Gorsuch and request that he send copies of all pending legislation to me. I will then route items to the appropriate committee member for comment and action on behalf of the committee. Legislation in the following areas of interest will be reviewed by the committee members designated below:

Administrative Law	Stoller/Wonnell
Banking	Cole
Commercial Transactions	Booth/Eggers/Hillard
Construction	Garretson
Corporate	Eggers/Hillard
Securities	Booth
Tax	Bartlett

During the legislative session, items which do not fall in the above categories will be referred to committee members at the whim of the chairman.

In connection with our legislative activities, the chairman will prepare and circulate a letter to each legislator advising them of the existence of our committee and our willingness to be of service in connection with any business-related legislation. A similar letter will be addressed to the Legislative Affairs Committee and to selected administrative agencies.

Sponsoring Legislation.

The general attitude of the committee was that it would be unwise at the present time to undertake sponsorship of major items of legislation. However, two matters were considered worthy of additional attention. 1) The chairman will contact the code revisor and Norm Gorsch to determine what must be done in order to conform the numbering system in Alaska Statutes Section 45.05 to the corresponding provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code. 2) Walt Garretson will prepare an amendment and supporting statement in connection with a proposed increase in the pre-judgment interest rate.

Other Activities.

Although priority will be placed on the legislative monitoring function, if time (and committee member enthusiasm) permits, the committee may engage in the following activities:

1. Bob Stoller will establish a liaison committee with the Administrative Law Committee.
2. Wayne Booth will explore publication of a catalog of continuing legal education materials available to Bar members with business law interests.
3. Wayne Booth will contact Practising Law Institute and other sponsors regarding the feasibility of a program in Anchorage on the Bankruptcy Reform Act; and
4. The chairman, having read the above summary, will explore better ways to delegate further responsibilities to committee members.

Members of the Business Law Committee
December 12, 1978

Additional Meetings.

Regular meetings will not be scheduled. Once the legislative session has begun we will meet when, if and as necessary. On those occasions when we do meet, committee members are all encouraged to invite others who may be interested in the work of the committee.

Enclosed for each of you is a list of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the current committee members. The chairman makes no representation, express or implied, regarding the accuracy of this list.

Sincerely,

Wayne C. Booth, Jr.

Re: Civil Rules Committee

Dear Donna:

Please forgive me for not responding to your letter of March 5 any sooner. I am living in Juneau during the legislative session and find very little time to keep up with the committee work. When the legislature adjourns I will have more time. This letter is to bring you up-to-date on the activities of the Civil Rules Committee.

The committee has had one meeting, the minutes of which I am enclosing. The Supreme Court has agreed to cooperate with the committee and has requested certain actions of it. The relevant correspondence is also attached.

I am not aware of any non-functioning members. All members either attended the November meeting or specifically expressed interest in further involvement.

Matters before the committee at present are 1) the proposed rules of evidence, 2) the Parsons inquiry regarding subpoena of witnesses, 3) the proposed changes to Civil Rule 81, and 4) review of rule-adoption procedures of the Supreme Court.

I am willing to continue serving as chairman of the Civil Rules Committee and to continue the work started by this newly formed committee.

Please call if you have any questions.

November 21, 1978 Meeting

Present were Skladal, Hellenenthal, Thorsness, Burke, and Clocksin.

After a discussion of Resolution 15 from the Alaska Bar Association Convention (leaving space after each interrogatory), the Committee tabled consideration until the next meeting.

Susan Burke indicated that the Supreme Court may be taking some action on such a rule and a rule limiting the number of interrogatories which may be submitted.

Next, the Committee approved the sending of a letter to the Chief Justice of the Alaska Supreme Court announcing the existence of the Civil Rules Committee and requesting that all proposed rules and requests for rules be forwarded to the committee for review and screening. Further, the committee requested of the Supreme Court that we meet with them to discuss possible changes in rule adoption procedures. Further, the Committee decided to address only the Alaska Civil Rules at this point, and not the U.S. District Court Civil Rules, nor the Appellate Rules, Children's Rules, District Court Rules, etc. The Committee also decided not to conduct any legislative activity at this time. That decision may be reviewed later.

The committee also agreed to prepare a column of sorts for the Alaska Bar Rag which would report on proposed rule changes it had received from the Supreme Court.

The committee also agreed not to review the Report and Tentative Recommendations of the Committee to Consider Standards for Admission to Practice in the Federal Courts. Finally, the committee agreed to request from the Supreme Court the latest proposal on the Rules of Evidence so that it may comment.

The next meeting was tentatively scheduled for December 15.

Re: Continuing Legal Education Committee

Dear Donna:

I apologize for taking so long to reply to your letter of March 5. I am not sure what the "purposes statement" is, but I will tell you something about the Committee's activities.

As you no doubt are aware, Ron Kull is interested in C.L.E. and experienced in this area. He has, to a great extent, taken on the administrative burden of scheduling, lining up speakers, etc. He has numerous contacts based on his past C.L.E. experience, and has been drawing on these liberally in order to find and schedule speakers. We will begin to see the results in the next month or so as this year's series of C.L.E. programs gets under way in May with the evidence program.

I am pleased by the interest and involvement of our Southcentral Committee, most of whom attend meetings regularly. Sandi Saville had originally indicated that she could not participate, but I persuaded her to take on the mandatory C.L.E. project. We will have a proposed rule on mandatory C.L.E. by early May, and the substance of a report to the Sitka convention. As you may know, the C.L.E. portion of the Sitka convention will be taken up primarily by "up-dates" in various areas of law, as well as some videotapes to fill what we assume will be sparsely attended afternoon sessions. So far everything looks good for this program.

Donna C. Willard
April 3, 1979

After a rocky beginning, plans for the 1980 Hawaii program are underway. Although there are some who are not particularly happy with leaving the Kuai Surf or scheduling the meeting in mid-January, I think everybody now agrees that this is our only viable option and that we should proceed with it. We are, in any event, working on this assumption. I am certain that we can put together a fine program.

On mandatory C.L.E., which could be a fairly time-consuming matter on the convention agenda, I would expect that our Committee will come up with a fairly low-key, dispassionate recommendation. I do not think that the Committee will use a "hard sell" to get mandatory C.L.E. adopted. Our inclination is to present a proposed rule, taking into consideration all of the factors which we thought were important, and to give the convention some idea of how we think a mandatory program would work. At this point the Committee has not developed a philosophical commitment to pushing mandatory C.L.E. through. In fact, even if the convention did adopt such a proposal, I would be inclined to recommend that we wait at least one year to implement it. I think that we need this time to get some further C.L.E. experience under our belt and to organize ourselves for what will be a fairly substantial task.

One comment on the administration of C.L.E. Ken Jarvi chose, for good reasons I believe, to set up three committees to cover the three major areas of the State. Each has its own chairman. As it has turned out, and as was surely anticipated, the Southcentral Committee does all of the State-wide program planning. In fact, I am not sure what the other regional Committees have done in the way of C.L.E. There has been an interaction between the various Committees. As an example, I expect that there will be little, if any, input from Fairbanks or Southeast on mandatory C.L.E. prior to the convention. Thus the proposal presented to the convention will, of necessity, be the proposal of the Southcentral Committee.

I suppose that we could have a system of sending minutes of meetings back and forth and that sort of thing. But you know how that goes. The work really gets done when several people sit down together face to face. This is not to suggest that the regional committee system be dismantled or that it is not accomplishing exactly what Ken Jarvi thought it should. But I want you to be aware that the Southcentral Committee tends to work pretty much in a vacuum, with only occasional opportunities (such as Hawaii and the summer convention) for the entire Committee to get together. This is probably the best we can do. One solution would be to budget some money for Committee travel, so that members from other areas could attend meetings in Anchorage, at least on (say) a bi-monthly basis.

By this letter I would ask that Ron Kull schedule a time during one afternoon at the Sitka convention when all C.L.E. Committee members could get together. Ideally, this would occur before the business meeting so that we could have at least one discussion of the mandatory C.L.E. proposal.

I will appreciate your comments on C.L.E. performance and your expectations for the future.

Very truly yours,

Theodore E. Fleischer

Re: Criminal Law Committee/Annual Program Plan

Dear Donna:

The Criminal Law Committee had its first meeting on Tuesday, August 14, 1979 at 4:00 p.m. in the offices of the Alaska Judicial Council. At that meeting it was decided that the next year's work would concentrate on the following areas:

1. Review of Criminal Code.

Last year the committee went through the code and had numerous sections under discussion and a great many ideas about how it should be changed. However, because of time pressures relatively few of these suggested changes were crystalized into specific language in bill form. This year we intend to go back over the old territory but make more progress toward getting specific amendments. When we have these, we hope to get Board of Governor approval and then pre-file them before the opening of the next Legislature. (Even without Board approval, we would like to pre-file them as Committee recommendations.)

2. Revision of drug laws.

Right now there is a house bill that proposes a wholesale amendment to the drug laws and the senate bill which proposes the same thing. They are at extreme odds and the speculation reculation is that neither one will go anywhere. There seems to be some interest in the creation of a commission to study the problem of revising drug laws, much the same as the Criminal Code revision subcommission. (There is even a bill that was introduced to this effect-- HB497.) At any rate, our committee favors such a commission and would like the Bar to take an active role in it. The Judicial Council has also voted that a study of the drug laws are one of its priorities for next year. I would like to bring the subject up for discussion at the next Board of Governors meeting on September 6-8.

Donna Willard, President
August 20, 1979

3. Alternatives to incarceration under Criminal Code.

The new criminal code provides for alternatives such as work service to the community but sets up no specific structures under which these alternatives might be effectuated. The committee will look into this further.

4. Bush justice problems.

Recent reports have indicated great disparities in the quality of justice rendered in remote areas of the state, in comparison to what is available in Anchorage, Fairbanks and Juneau. Joe Balfe suggested that we look into how the situation might be improved.

5. Sentencing guidelines.

At the present time a committee of judges and citizens is at work devising guidelines to govern sentences in many kinds of cases. They have already devised one for sentencing marijuana cases and are working on other drugs. These guidelines will be followed by all Superior Court judges except in cases where justice makes it necessary for them to depart. When there is a departure, the judges will have to provide written reasons why the guidelines were inadequate to the particular case. Most lawyers are completely unaware of this ongoing guidelines effort or how it might affect their own practices. Our committee would like to open up lines of communication to the guidelines committee and at least become a vehicle whereby other members of the bar might be informed of what is going on in this area.

Donna Willard, President
Page Three

I understand that I will be invited to appear at the next Board of Governors meeting on September 6-8 to discuss some of the matters on this agenda. I would also like to discuss the Bar poll, but that is Judicial Council business and unrelated to that of this committee. I look forward to meeting with you later.

Dear Ken:

As per your request of March 29, 1978, the following is a brief outline of the Criminal Law Committee's activities during the past year:

On May 17, 1977, the Criminal Law Committee met in Anchorage. After a discussion of an investigation made on the criminal appointments list in state and federal courts, and the Adult Correctional Institutional regulations, the Committee discussed the work of the Criminal Law Revision Subcommittee of the Legislature, and the issue of the Bar's involvement in that process. It was decided that the Criminal Law Committee would work closely to monitor the efforts of the Subcommittee so that the Bar would be well-informed and have an adequate opportunity to participate in the legislative process before the Criminal Law was revised.

On July 22, 1977, the Committee met in Anchorage. After a general discussion of the proposed new Criminal Code led by two members of the staff of the Criminal Code Revision Subcommittee, the Committee discussed its strategy for the coming year and appointed a subcommittee on the agenda and planning.

This subcommittee met on July 28, 1977, when it was decided that the Criminal Law Committee would be divided into subcommittees, one for each volume of the Alaska Criminal Code Revision tentative draft. Each subcommittee would meet to discuss their part of the tentative draft and would write up a memo pointing out all the changes made from existing law and what effect these changes would have on the practicing Bar. A meeting of the entire Committee would then be scheduled to discuss each memo.

On September 7, 1977, the Criminal Law Committee met in Fairbanks for a discussion of four sections of the proposed Criminal Code: theft, burglary and trespass, arson, and forgery. A copy of the minutes of this meeting is enclosed.

On October 4, 1977, the Criminal Law Committee met in Anchorage and discussed part one of the proposed Code, Offenses Against the Person. A copy of the minutes of this meeting is enclosed.

On October 20, 1977, the Criminal Law Committee met in Anchorage and discussed the first three chapters of part two of the revised Code: General Principles of Criminal Liability, Parties to Crime, and General Principles of Justification. A copy of the minutes of this meeting is enclosed.

On November 29, 1977, the Criminal Law Committee met in Fairbanks and discussed some of the proposed statutes that appeared in tentative draft, part four: Conspiracy, Business and Commercial Offenses, and Prostitution.

On January 30, 1978, the Criminal Law Committee of the Alaska Bar Association met in Anchorage to consider what recommendations it would make to the Legislature concerning the revised criminal code submitted by the Criminal Code Revision Subcommittee. Though most of the Criminal Law Committee's recommendations regarding the revised Criminal Code were presented to and adopted by the Criminal Code Revision Subcommittee as amendments to the revised Code, there were several recommendations that were not considered by the Subcommittee. Accordingly, these recommendations were reiterated to the Legislature by the Committee. A copy of the minutes of this meeting is enclosed.

All of the Criminal Law Committee recommendations have been reported out in writing and through oral presentations at meetings of the Criminal Code Revision Subcommittee and legislative sessions. The majority of our Subcommittee recommendations were accepted by the Code revisors and, to a remarkable extent, were actually incorporated into the proposed legislation in its present form. Consequently, our Committee has had a substantial impact on the proposed Criminal Code. In answer to your question whether the committee should continue in existence, my answer is yes. However, not in its present form. I would be happy to elaborate on this topic by phone or face to face.

I hope this information has been of assistance to you. If you require anything additional, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Re: Alaska Bar Association
Environmental Law Committee

Dear Madam President:

Following is a report on the activities of this Committee submitted in accordance with the requirements of the Bylaws of our Association calling for a report to be submitted prior to the annual business meeting of the Alaska Bar Association.

The Alaska Bar Association Environmental Law Committee has been extremely active this year. Thanks to Ken Jarvis' committee reorganizational efforts, we now have a full compliment of active and enthusiastic members. The Committee has held ten meetings during the past year. At several of the meetings representatives of local government agencies and others interested in environmental law in Alaska have attended, given brief presentations, and exchanged ideas with the members.

At our organizational meeting, John A. Reeder was elected Vice Chairman and Jane Pearia was elected Recording Secretary. With the staggered membership terms, the Committee is looking forward to continuity that has been lacking in the past.

The primary focus of the Committee's activity this year has been on the emerging area of coastal zone management in Alaska. In conjunction with the University of Alaska, the Committee is sponsoring a one-day seminar on the implementation of the Coastal Zone Management Act in Alaska, to be held at the Anchorage campus of the University on Saturday, May 19th. An impressive array of speakers has been assembled for this seminar. They will discuss implementation of coastal zone management at the local, state and federal levels. Jon Tillinghast, Assistant Attorney General, will be the lead-off speaker and will present an overview of the Coastal Zone Management Act. He will be followed by various other speakers from around the state. In addition, Roger Beers, an attorney with the Resources Defense Council in San Francisco, will be a featured speaker, directing his remarks to coastal zone management at the national level.

I am enclosing a copy of our program brochure which will be mailed to the Alaska Bar and to numerous other individuals, organizations and governmental agencies.

We would like to note that in planning this seminar Mr. Ron Kull has been extremely helpful to this Committee, and we would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge all the help he has given us.

In summary, I can say that it has been a productive year for the Environmental Law Committee. Although my term on the Committee is now expiring, I have every reason to believe that the committee will retain the momentum that we have gathered this year, and that we can continue to look forward to having this Committee be one of the most active committees in our Association.

Re: Alaska Bar Association
Environmental Law Committee

Dear Donna:

This is in response to your letter of March 5, 1979 requesting a report on activities of the Environmental Law Committee of the Alaska Bar Association.

During the past year the members of the Environmental Law Committee of the Alaska Bar Association have held seven meetings. At our organizational meeting, John A. Reeder was elected Vice Chairman of the Committee and Jane Pearia was elected Recording Secretary. The Committee, as a long-range project, is continuing to consider the possibility of preparing an Alaska Environmental Law handbook which could be made available to members of the Bar. We have delayed going ahead with this project until we can see how the State's new Permit Directory is received by the public and lawyers and whether it seems to fill this need. If, after the Directory receives wide circulation, there still appears to be need for a handbook, then it is our plan to consider going ahead with this project.

In the meantime the Committee has focused its attention upon the emerging Alaska Coastal Zone Management Act. At our meetings we have invited speakers representing the local, state and federal levels to exchange ideas with the Committee members. We are presently working with the University of Alaska toward jointly sponsoring a seminar on Coastal Zone Management, planned to take place sometime in late May.

With reference to membership in the Committee, Committee members were appointed on staggered one, two and three-year terms. In my

Ms. Donna C. Willard
President Elect
Alaska Bar Association

view this is good practice and will give continuity to the work of the Committee while insuring a turnover in membership and injection of new blood and fresh ideas.

Those members initially appointed for one year will have their terms expiring shortly. The one-year members are myself, John Gissberg and Elizabeth D. Cuadra. John Gissberg has already had to withdraw from participation in the Committee because other activities prevented him from taking an active role. This leaves three immediate vacancies to be filled by appointment.

The two-year members of the Committee whose terms will expire in 1980 are: Steve Volker, John Reeder and Robert E. Mintz. Thus far all of these individuals have been active in the Committee and, as far as I know, have evidenced a desire to continue to participate in the Committee until their term of appointment expires.

The three-year term appointees are: W. J. Bonner, Paul Grant and Jane Pearia. These individuals have also been active and indicated a continuing interest in participating in the activities of the Committee.

In addition, Bart Rozell is currently our Board liaison member and he has been active and participated by conference telephone call in most of the meetings. I am not sure what Bart's term on the Board of Directors is but if possible I would suggest that he be reappointed as Board liaison member in view of his active participation in the Committee's affairs.

Finally, with reference to me, personally, I would like to thank the Association for having me serve as Committee Chairman for the past three years. I think that this is long enough for one member to serve on the Committee, and, accordingly, I would ask that with my present term of appointment expiring that I not be reappointed to the Environmental Law Committee. I would, however, like to continue with Bar committee work. My first choice if there is an opening would be the Natural Resources Committee, however, I would also be pleased to serve on any other committee where you think that my participation might be of benefit.

Kindest regards.

Re: Alaska Bar Association

Dear Ken:

Your letter of March 29, 1978 requested a report on Committee activities and a statement as to whether we felt the Committee should continue in existence if it had not been active.

Over the past year the Committee has served as a vehicle for some exchange of information between its members. Other than that the Committee has not been active.

When we received your letter, we scheduled a Committee meeting for the purpose of reviewing the activities of the Committee and deciding what our recommendations should be for the future.

I am pleased to report that we met on May 2, 1978. We had a turnout of five Committee members with four more having previously contacted me to express their interest in the Committee but advising that prior commitments would keep them from attending the meeting.

Based upon discussion at the meeting, it was unanimously decided that the Committee should continue as a functioning Committee of the Alaska Bar Association.

One of the members suggested the Committee might undertake the project of preparing an environmental law handbook for possible dissemination to the entire Bar at a later date. This proposal has been tentatively adopted by the Committee and we have set our next meeting for Tuesday, May 21th at 4:30 p.m., at which time we will develop a specific format for the handbook and then assign sections to be written by each of the members.

As the handbook progresses, we will coordinate with the Bar Association to determine the best method of making it available to all members.

Thank you for your continuing interest in this Committee. Please let this letter serve as our annual report of activities to the President of the Bar Association.

Dear Mr. President:

The Environmental Law Committee of the Alaska Bar Association submits the following report to be presented at the annual members meeting June 8th through 12th, 1977:

Committee appointments were made in January of this year and since that time the Committee has organized itself and the members have been polled for the purpose of determining their wishes as to various future activities of the Committee.

Several members have suggested that a newsletter covering matters of interest to members of the Environmental Law Committee be circulated to the members. This would facilitate the exchange of information on recent developments in the area of Alaskan environmental law. The Committee is now working to implement this suggestion.

It has also been suggested that the Committee might consider sponsoring a continuing legal education seminar and further consideration will be given to this later in the year.

Dear Ken:

Enclosed are the minutes of the first two meetings we held after the first of September. There was a third meeting but we do not have written minutes from that meeting. Our next meeting is scheduled for February 5, 1979, and we will be taking action on a couple of legislative proposals, one having to do with withdrawal of counsel following a decree of divorce and the other having to do with some revisions of the guardianship laws. Nothing earthshaking.

Dear Family Law Committee Members:

The Family Law Committee held its organizational meeting for the 1978-1979 year on September 28, 1978. Of the eight members of the Committee, fourteen were present. So it goes.

The following projects were adopted for pursuit during the next several months. Members of the Committee assigned specific responsibilities to work on each project are noted in parenthesis.

1. Establishment of custody evaluation standards. (Lynch, Palmier, Rawitz, Ames).
2. Clarification of termination of responsibility of an attorney following decree in a divorce case. (Gruenberg).
3. Establishment of domestic relations rules, family court proposal, and liaison with the court system concerning family law matters. (Reese, Johnson, Frenz, others to be announced).
4. Correction of interstate referral resource information with particular stress on interstate child stealing problems. (Unassigned).
5. The problems arising in the dissolution procedures. (Johnson).
6. Development of a dialogue with groups such as the Commission on the Handicapped. (Tennant, Gruenberg).
7. CLE programs. (Gruenberg, Reese, Johnson).
8. Submission of a regular column to the new Bar Rag. (To be announced).

2. Child support standards and administrative establishment of child support obligation. (Lynch, Simpson, Gruenberg).

The committee will attempt to meet monthly for lunch. The next meeting will be on October 26, 1973, probably in the basement of the Woodshed.

At the next meeting we will have a report from each of the subcommittees. The first person listed in the parenthesis above should be responsible for accomplishing something in the meantime and making the report. Don't forget that the Commission on the Handicapped meeting and the public hearings on the child support regulations will occur prior to the next meeting, so there should be some substantial reports on these two subjects.

The proposed child support regulations and covering documents are enclosed for your comments. Please let Tim Lynch, Helen Simpson or Max Gruenberg have your comments immediately. Notice that the present deadline will expire next week.

I was very pleased with the response to this first meeting of the new committee. I hope we will be able to keep attendance up and make some progress. If anyone has any complaints about how things work or don't work, please don't be afraid to mouth off to me. The important thing is to get our work done, hopefully for the benefit of our clients and the families of Alaska.

Yours truly,

JOHN REESE

Dear Family Law Committee Members:

This is a recap of our meeting held October 26, 1978.

1. Bruce Tennant reported on the meeting of the Commission on the Handicapped. The main point was that the commission has hired a law student or lawyer in California to draft a statute for Alaska creating a limited guardianship and a public guardian, (probably the State of Alaska), to care for the several hundred wards in the State who do not have family or others in an appropriate position to look out for them. When this draft statute is received, we will check it out and make our comments.

2. Enclosed is a copy of the California statute relating to termination of attorney's obligations following entry of a final decree. Max has also obtained several annotations to this statute. This issue will be discussed at the next meeting and we will probably take action at that time.

3. Carol Johnson was malingering at the hospital and therefore was not able to report on the problems with the dissolution statute. She did, however, say that she had made some progress and is expected to be back by our next meeting.

4. We had no volunteers to write a column for the next issue for the Bar Rag, although Bonnie Lembo indicated a willingness to do an article on juvenile law in the future. A subsequent conversation with Max Gruenberg indicates that he has two articles in progress which may be completed in time for the Bar Rag deadline. Anyone who has any ideas for an article should go ahead and get started.

5. Tim Lynch reported on the Child Support regulation controversy. Between Lynch's efforts with the bureaucrats and his appearance at the hearing, Bruce Tennant's suggestions to the agency, and a little bit of heat from the ombudsman's office it was announced that the matter would remain open for comments until November 15, 1978. Subsequent to the meeting, I received a call from the ombudsman's office which indicated that the agency had announced it would hold the matter open for comments until December 31, 1978. This was probably in response to the combined efforts of everyone and particularly Bruce Tennant's letter to the agency which suggested that action.

Tim Lynch is to set up a meeting to work on our formal response to the regulations. Members of his subcommittee will be notified by him.

No other reports were received.

The committee on custody evaluation standards has been expanded to include Lynch, Palmier, Rawitz, McMurtray, and Ames. Absent a volunteer, I agreed to be chairman of this subcommittee. A work session on this issue will be announced to these committee members shortly.

The next meeting of the committee will be held November 22, 1978, at noon, probably at McDouald's basement. If anyone thinks we deserve a break that day, please give me your alternate suggestions. Or did we decide to brown bag it at Palmier's office? Stay tuned.

Re: Termination of Responsibility of Attorney Following Decree in a Divorce Case.
(No. 2 on "The List")

Dear John:

Enclosed please find copies of Section 4809 of the California Civil Code which should clear up this problem. There should be enough copies for every member of the Family Law Committee and other interested family law practitioners.

Also enclosed please find a xerox copy of the same section from West's California Civil Code Annotated. This includes most of the California cases construing this section.

I recommend that Section 4809 be added in toto as Alaska Civil Rule 5(g). I further recommend that the supreme court order adding this rule indicate that the rule is based upon Section 4809, and is adopted complete with the construction placed upon it by the California courts prior to the date of its adoption in Alaska. This will give us some common law in construing the rule. See City of Fairbanks v. Schatble, 375 P.2d 201,207 (Alaska 1962).

As you can see from the historical note in the annotation, it is a restatement of a former section in the California Civil Code and has been the law of that state for quite some time. I attempted to re-work it, but do not believe that I can make a proper improvement upon the language (particularly since it has been interrupted upon several occasions by the courts of California). The only change I think we should make is in line one to say "divorce on dissolution". California law no longer speaks of "divorce", only "dissolution". Of course in Alaska "divorce" is a different procedure from "dissolution". This minor amendment will not affect the intent of the statute-rule.

I would suggest your distributing it with your next mailing to the family law members. I do not know if it is necessary to distribute all the annotations too. Possibly we can take this statute up at our next meeting.

With best wishes,

Cordially,

Max F. Gruenberg, Jr.

MARRIAGE

Div. 4

Note 27

27. Collateral attack

An interlocutory divorce decree assigning to successful wife a homestead selected by wife from community property could not, after time for appeal had elapsed, be collaterally attacked by former husband after death of his former wife, on petition in probate court, to have the property set apart to him as surviving spouse. In re Teel's Estate (1949) 210 P.2d 1, 34 C.2d 349.

28. Review

Trial judge, in awarding wife divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty, did not abuse his judicial discretion in awarding wife family home and directing husband to sell parcels of community property and apply proceeds in reduction of indebtedness upon family home, where wife was thereby enabled to rent rooms for $90 per month and apply same to support of her four minor children. Dowd v. Dowd (1952) 245 P.2d 339, 111 C.A.2d 760.

Where husband was erroneously awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce on ground of desertion, wife's appeal from portion of judgment canceling and assigning to husband homestead selected by wife from husband's separate property was dismissed as involving a "moot question". Brooks v. Brooks (1942) 127 P.2d 296, 53 C.A.2d 95.

§ 4809. Modification of judgment, order or decree; service of notice

After the entry of a final judgment decreeing the dissolution of the marriage or the legal separation of the parties, or after a declaration of void or voidable marriage, or after a permanent order in any other proceeding in which there was at issue the custody, support, maintenance, or education of a minor child, no modification of such judgment, order, or decree, and no subsequent order in such proceedings shall be valid unless any prior notice otherwise required to be given to a party to the proceeding be served, in such manner as such notice is otherwise permitted by law to be served, upon the party himself. For such purpose, service upon the attorney of record shall not be sufficient.

RE: Ethics Committee Matters
Our File #A-1945

Dear Donna:

In accordance with your request of April 19, 1979, this is a report on the business of the Ethics Committee during the calendar year 1979.

During that year, the Committee has met approximately every other month to consider formal requests for opinions. During the course of that year, the Committee has adopted several formal opinions, which have been forwarded to the Board of Governors for consideration. In addition, the Committee has met once in joint session with the Committee on law examinations, and adopted formal recommendations to the Board of Governors with respect to examinations on the subject of ethics. In addition, I have responded to approximately a dozen requests for ethical opinions on an informal basis, where the press of events made it necessary to respond without formal reference to an opinion and the Board of Governors. In addition, of course, the members of the Committee receive telephone calls from time to time, to which we respond in an informal manner.

As to the status of the Committee's work, I must reiterate the comments I have made in past years. Though the members are by and large well intentioned, they are all busy practitioners. For that reason, we have a serious problem in completing the research for serious ethical questions which would have wide ramifications, and an equally serious problem in getting formal opinions drafted. The Committee presently has approximately half a dozen requests before it for formal opinions, which have not been acted upon. Those opinions have been assigned to members of the Committee to research and draft appropriate opinions. With respect to two of the six opinions pending, that has been done, and after discussion of the merits of the proposed opinion, various revisions and additional research has been suggested. As to the balance, no draft opinion has been forthcoming. As I have stated in previous years, I do not know the solution to this problem, since only a certain amount of nagging on my part seems to be effective. In all candor, of course, there are occasions on which I am as guilty as anyone in procrastinating on this work. If the Board has any suggestions, we would be more than happy to try and implement them, but so far the various tactics we have tried have not been successful.

I anticipate arriving in Sitka the afternoon of June 7, and will look forward to discussing the affairs of the Committee with you at that time.

Very truly yours,

Re: Ethics Committee

Dear Ken:

In response to your letter of March 29, 1978, regarding the proposed committee reorganization within the Bar Association, I am afraid my comments must be relatively limited. Our committee has been reasonably active, although it meets only on a sporadic basis. During 1978, we have met on February 7 and May 2. The meetings are basically dictated by the number of questions which are presented for our consideration, however, and no predetermined schedule is established.

As you undoubtedly know, the committee's primary function is advising members, frequently on a prospective basis, about the ethical propriety of various actions. We generally get two types of questions. The first is probably of a less serious and far-reaching character, and involves telephone calls from people who have an immediate and specific problem with which they need guidance. In the past I have responded verbally to those questions myself, or referred them to one of the committee members if I felt for some reason I should not be involved, with the proviso that my opinion was just that, and that it had no binding weight whatsoever.

The second category of questions involve more serious and long-standing problems, which generally do not require as rapid a resolution. These are submitted in hypothetical, written form to the committee, and the committee attempts to respond in writing, subject to the approval of the Board. These responses are normally issued as ethics opinions, under the authority of the Board of Governors.

I must say that I am not entirely happy with the record of our performance in response to the written queries. The intervals between committee meetings are sometimes long, and the process of having one of the committee members draft a written response to the question for consideration by the Board of Governors sometimes takes even longer. In the past we have had a serious problem with participation in the affairs of the committee, and at the present time there are only four or five members who take an active interest and regularly attend the committee meetings. In addition, I recognize that, since drafting the opinions frequently calls for legal research and writing, which is not being reimbursed, it frequently takes a lower priority on the lawyer's desk than other matters. Thus, the responses to our written questions are frequently not as timely as I would like. As I have indicated, the primary problem in that respect is the research and writing of opinions. I do not suggest that the members of the committee should be paid, even at the minimal rate, for their time in that respect. It does seem to me, however, that some staff support in terms of research and writing would make the committee much more effective. I recognize, however, the inherent difficulty in having the staff of the Association do such work, given the possibility of its involvement in a disciplinary proceeding arising out of the same considerations. Nevertheless, I would commend that to your consideration in terms of speeding up the committee's activities.

Your question regarding payment of travel expenses for committee members conducting committee business is a difficult one. In general, I do not recommend it. On the other hand, it might well be desirable in the consideration of some specific questions to be able to use conference call facilities to get the viewpoints and opinions of lawyers on the committee not residing in Anchorage. As you may expect, on only one occasion have we had a lawyer from outside Anchorage participate, and on that occasion his contribution was quite valuable. In addition, some of the questions presented have a peculiar impact on the practice outside Anchorage, and I believe it would be desirable to get the opinions of the lawyers who would be most affected. I believe, however, that a conference call budget would be sufficient to meet this purpose.

Kenneth O. Jarvi
Alaska Bar Assn.

Your question regarding the long-range purpose of the committee I think should best be answered by reflection on what the committee has done in the past. I think it has met a need in the legal community, and will continue to meet that need. I would not suggest either broadening its warrant to include such matters as unauthorized practice, or abandoning the committee altogether. I think the long-term goal of giving advice on ethics questions of broad general interest to the bar in written form, as well as providing a method for members of the Association to secure informal advice, is a desirable one. I hope the Board of Governors will agree with me.

Very truly yours,

Charles P. Flynn

Re: Alaska Bar Association Law Related
Education Committee

Dear Ken:

Pursuant to our previous discussions, I have contacted several individuals concerning their participation in the Alaska Bar Association's Law Related Education Committee. I have discussed with each of them the objectives that the committee would be seeking to accomplish and each has expressed an interest in participating on the committee. I would therefore request that Keith Goltz, Randy Farleigh, Carol Johnson and John Ulyatt be appointed to the committee to serve with me in our effort to improve the quality and quantity of law related education within the State of Alaska. It is anticipated that our initial efforts will be directed toward the establishment of law related education within the Municipality of Anchorage with future expansion statewide.

We have not yet prepared a purpose statement for the committee and I would like to delay doing so until I have had an opportunity to meet with the entire committee and obtain input and ideas from each of the members. Generally speaking, I am viewing the purpose of the committee as primarily to increase the quantity and quality of law related education in the community. Through the sponsorship of the Alaska Bar Association and the voluntary participation of Alaskan lawyers, we will be seeking, as a by-product of the programs established, an increased appreciation of the Alaska Bar Association and its members by the community. At the outset, I intend to pursue the establishment of a course within the Community Service School System with a curriculum which covers the general principles and procedures under the existing legal system. Since such a program is currently in existence, this should be relatively easy to establish on an annual basis. Second, the committee could develop a program, possibly in conjunction with a local university, to offer a course to high school teachers which would prepare them to teach law at the high school level. Successful completion of such a course and institution of the curriculum in the high schools would have the advantage of reaching a large number of the communities members at once. One legal course is currently offered at Dimond High School. The recent drug controversy and proposal to eliminate elective social studies courses may make a proposal to the School Board to increase knowledge of the law warmly received. The course could be supplemented by voluntary representations by local attorneys. Third, as we discussed, we will be looking into the advisability and use of institutionalized advertising in order to further educate the public about the function of law in their lives and the community. It would be my hope that these programs' purposes (defined to aid in obtaining any necessary grant) would increase understanding of the legal and political systems of our State and nation; increase the understanding of the role of a citizen in a constitutional democracy (including understanding of and commitment to exercising the rights, privileges and responsibilities of citizenship); increase the understanding of democratic procedures and willingness to use them when participating in making of decisions and the management of conflicts; increase the understanding of the need for laws and willingness to abide by legal means for changing laws and policies; increase support for legitimate authority and those in position of authority such as law enforcement officers, judicial officers, teachers, administrators, etc.; and decrease the willingness to use or support extralegal means for securing change. In more specific terms, I am hoping that the programs to be developed by the Law Related Education Committee will help members of the community to recognize the complexities of legal (political) issues; recognize the value of the democratic procedures; recognize the human dimension contained within legal affairs; and recognize and learn to deal with the gap between ideals and realities of our legal system.

Please advise me what, if anything, may be added or eliminated from the above to obtain the support and approval of the Alaska Bar Association. Support of the Board of Governors of the Alaska Bar Association is, I believe, crucial to certain goals. Any ideas or proposals on any of the above will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
