Project Justification

Project Need Statement

This road is the highway access between Fairbanks and Circle City on the Yukon River. It is extensively used for recreational and mining access. Freight is hauled on this road for trans-shipment on the river system. The existing facility is substandard in width and alignment. In addition, the road base has seriously deteriorated becoming muddy and slick during wet weather and breakup. The road was last improved in 1953. The average daily traffic is 120 vehicles.

Documentation of Estimated Capital Cost

Cost estimates were done by the Division of Highway Design and Construction based on previous experience with similar projects.

Analysis of Estimated Impact on Operational Expense

This project will not substantially reduce maintenance required but will result in a more serviceable facility.

Identification of Alternatives Considered

Delay until facility can be reconstructed to highway standards. This was rejected in favor of providing a more serviceable interim facility.

STATE OF ALASKA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
JUNEAU

May 3, 1982

The Honorable Jalmar Kerttula
President of the Senate
Alaska State Legislative
Pouch V
Juneau, AK 99811

RE: HCS SB 150 (Rls) am H
Chapter 25, SLA 1982

Dear Mr. President:

I have today vetoed about $200 million in capital projects contained in House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 150 (Rules) as amended by the House. In effect, and in fact, I have vetoed the entire House and Senate capital budget allocations.

The purpose of this letter is to inform you of the reasons for this action and present a plan under which a capital budget for the Senate and House could be restructured.

As I stated in my April 26 letter to you, certain conditions must be met before Alaska can afford more than the Administration's proposed cash capital budget, a bond package or sizeable loan allocations.

Several days have passed since I sent my letter with little visible progress made on these issues. Reportedly, some legislators now believe I will not veto projects in House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 150 (Rules) despite lack of positive action on several key measures. To set that speculation to rest, I am vetoing all House and Senate capital budget additions. Two prime reasons are: 1) absent positive action on a more stringent spending limitation, we simply cannot afford to do otherwise; and 2) absent assurance that prior permanent fund commitments are not, as well, going to be met, we simply cannot afford in good conscience to do otherwise.

While the Senate has agreed to accommodate most of my major concerns, they cannot unilaterally compel the House to do

The Honorable
Jalmar Kerttula

so. I commend the Senate for their good faith efforts, however, to veto only House capital projects would do a disservice to those House members who would, as well, make a good faith effort to address matters of crucial importance.

Those who wish to conclude this session with some semblance of harmony, dispatch and productivity, while safeguarding Alaska's financial well-being, can only do so by actions I've cited before. Accordingly, let me urge you to address them while bearing in mind that there remain avenues by which you can then restore some legitimate capital projects which could be approved. To implement this process, I suggest that the leadership first form a conference committee to resolve existing differences on the operating budget. Within the permissible limits of legislative rules, that committee could also be given charge of a new Senate-House capital budget and the appropriation of funds for loan programs. Of course, any new capital budget would still be linked to passage of key legislation. Additionally, I believe such a conference committee could provide an excellent forum for public discussion of appropriations for both the operating and capital budget plus loan programs. Let me urge you to use it in precisely that manner.

Sincerely,

Jay S. Hammond
Governor
