2. Source of funds to offset fiscal impact of bill:

No information provided.

3. Assumptions:

The sponsor substitute for HB 100 sets and clarifies the felony levels for assaults upon peace officers and other emergency responders. As was noted in our original Statement of Fiscal Impact, approximately 50-100 criminal cases would be prosecuted as felonies rather than misdemeanors. Therefore, because of the increased likelihood of trials, increased length of trials, and more aggressive motion practice, additional attorney and other staff resources would be required.

4. Disclaimer:

This statement has not been reviewed by the OMB in the Office of the Governor. It therefore does not represent the final estimate of fiscal impact.

The Judiciary Committee Substitute to SSHB 100 is the result of excellent committee work and I fully support the proposed changes.

The amendments added to SSHB 100 in the House Judiciary CS provide more comprehensive legislation, covering all of the relevant Statutes. The Judiciary CS combines the positive aspects of both the Senate and House bills. I view these changes as an improvement on SSHB 100 and fully endorse the Judiciary Committee Substitute.

The increase in penalties and clarification of the law, in terms of the full range of emergency responders, is a much needed piece of legislation. I urge your committee to pass out CSSHB 100.

Subject: SS HB 100

You previously considered HB 100, and many questions and problems were brought to light at that time. Therefore, I had this sponsor substitute prepared. I believe this new legislation will answer your concerns, as well as addressing the concerns of our emergency responders, fire-fighters, and peace officers.

The sponsor substitute increases the penalty for an assault on an emergency responder by one degree. For example, if an assault upon a person would normally be considered a Class C felony, it would become a Class B felony if the assault were upon a peace officer, fire fighter, emergency technician, paramedic, ambulance attendant, or other emergency responder while in the performance of official duties.

My goal is to increase protection for emergency responders, while decreasing the number of assaults on them. These people are the protectors of our society. Endangering them and interfering with their efforts to protect our lives and property should be a more serious crime.

I believe that, if we make the public aware that these assaults will result in more severe penalties than would normally be dealt by our courts, we can curb these attacks. I urge your wholehearted support of HB 100.

HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Hearing on House Bill No. 100 Relating to Assaulting a Peace Officer, Fire Fighter, or Emergency Responder

February 14, 1983

Mr. Chairman:

My name is E. Robert Haag representing the Alaska State Firefighters Association and the Alaska Fire Chiefs Association.

We wish to speak in favor on the intent of House Bill No. 100 now before your Committee.

Our two Associations at their annual meetings last October 1983 passed a number of resolutions pertaining to the Fire Service. We did not make a resolution dealing with the specific subject in Hous Bill No. 100 for additional wordage to AS 11.41.220 (a). However, we do believe that the suggested additional sub paragraph (3) is important in that it defines responders.

We would suggest consideration of some wordage chane in lines 18 and 19. The suggested change is the same we made in the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on Senate Bill No.24 on February 2, 1983.

Lines 18 and 19 revised to read "or other emergency responder, regardless of rank, functions or duties being performed".

Subject: Background: House Bill 100 BL

I introduced HB 100 at the request of firefighters in my district. The intent of the bill is two-fold: to ensure that peace officers, firefighters, emergency medical technicians, and other emergency responders are recognized by the law as "persons", so that those assaulting emergency responders are successfully prosecuted; and to raise the penalty for assaulting emergency responders.

As I understand the problem, there was a court decision in which a judge ruled that emergency responders are not "people" in the eyes of the law. This bill defines emergency responders, and the penalty for assaulting one.

Further, there is apparently no middle ground in assigning penalties for assaulting emergency responders; the assault is termed either a misdemeanor or a Class B felony. Peace officers, firefighters, and other emergency responders would like a penalty that falls in between the two, for those times when physical injury is not "serious" as defined by statute (part of the criteria for the Class B felony), but when physical harm is caused to the responder that should be considered more serious than a misdemeanor.

Last Friday, the Senate Judiciary Committee heard teleconference testimony on SB 24, the companion bill to HB 100. Officer George Novacky, on behalf of the Anchorage Police Department, indicated in his testimony that 113 APD officers were assaulted in 1982. These officers missed a total of 253 work days in 1982 due to the injuries they received--approximately one work year lost because of assaults on officers.

In his testimony, Novacky also noted that there are restraints on what an officer can do when responding to a situation, but there are no such restraints on a person who assaults an officer. Raising the penalty for assaulting emergency responders may provide a deterrent to this type of behavior.

A total of ten people testified to the Senate Judiciary Committee. All but one of these people supported the companion bill. The one exception was Gayle Horetzki, who spoke on behalf of the Department of Law; she felt that existing statutes adequately address the intent of the bill.

I have attached a list of the participants in Friday's Senate teleconference, as well as messages I have received in support of the bill.

If you have further questions, I will be happy to be of assistance.

RESOLUTION No. 82-1 Amended

WHEREAS Alaska Statutes, Title 11, Section 11.46.400 states: A person commits the crime of arson in the first degree if, by starting a fire or causing an explosion, he intentionally damages protected property of another; or any property, whether his own or another's, and the act recklessly places another person in danger of physical injury or protected property of another in danger of damage, and

WHEREAS Alaska Statutes, Title 11, Section 11.81.900(39) states: "Person" means a natural person and, when appropriate, an organization, government, or governmental instrumentality, and

WHEREAS in the case of the State of Alaska v. Markland (AKA-882-100 Cr.), the defendant was charged with arson in the first degree, and

WHEREAS in the case of the State of Alaska v. Markland Superior Court Judge Warren Taylor stated in the instructions to the jury that, "a fireman is not a person within the crime of first degree arson",

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE ALASKA FIRE CHIEFS' ASSOCIATION as follows:

Section 1: That the Alaska Fire Chiefs' Association directs the Alaska Fire Chiefs' Association President to have the Alaska Statutes, Title 11 (Alaska Criminal Code) amended to read in Section 11.46.400,

A person commits the crime of arson in the first degree if, by starting a fire or causing an explosion, he intentionally damages protected property of another; or any property, whether his own or another's, and the act recklessly places another person, including fire service personnel, police officers, and public employees, in danger of physical injury or protected property of another in danger of damage.

Dear Representative Bussell:

The City Council of Delta Junction reviewed pending legislation at their March 1, 1983 meeting. They voted unanimously to endorse and provide their support on the following bills:

HB42 An Act relating to the determination of population for purposes of calculating amounts of state aid; and providing for an effective date.

HB100 An Act relating to an avalanche and fire weather forecasting system; and providing for an effective date.

HB119 An Act making a special appropriation for payment as a grant to the community of TOK for a rescue ambulance apparatus; and providing for an effective date.

HB136 An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Revenue for financial assistance to municipalities; and providing for an effective date.

HB153 An Act making a supplemental appropriation to the Department of Revenue for financial assistance to municipalities; and providing for an effective date.

HB162 An Act authorizing general law municipalities to limit the number of consecutive full terms certain municipal officials may serve.

HB172 An Act relating to municipal government; and providing for an effective date. (title 29 rewrite).

House Bill 164 was also reviewed by the Council and they voted four to two against endorsing and supporting this legislation.

Sincerely,

STATE OF ALASKA
PRELIMINARY STATEMENT OF FISCAL IMPACT

Bill No: HB 100 Date on Bill: 1/20/83
 Title: "An Act relating to assaulting a peace officer, fire fighter, or emergency responder,"
 Sponsor: Representative Lacher
 Requestor: House Judiciary Committee

1. Estimated fiscal impacts on:

a. Expenditures:

(Thousands of Dollars)

	FY 83	FY 84	FY 85	FY 86
Capital
Operating		129.5	144.3	153.0
Total		129.5	144.3	153.0

b. Revenues:

Revenue

2. Source of funds to offset fiscal impact of bill:

No information provided.

3. Assumptions: This bill raises to a felony those assaults upon peace officers and other emergency responders which are currently prosecuted as misdemeanors under the criminal code. Based upon the broad coverage of the bill, the Department of Law estimates that approximately 50-100 criminal cases would be prosecuted as felonies rather than misdemeanors. Because of increased likelihood of trials, increased length of trials, and more aggressive defense motion practice, additional attorney and staff resources would be required.

4. Disclaimer:

This statement has not been reviewed by the OMB in the Office of the Governor. It does not represent the policy of the Sheffield Administration or the final estimate of fiscal impact.
