Analysis

Since the majority of the expenditures for the reopening of the filing period would be in FY 84, a fiscal note which would be effective July 1, 1984 would be inappropriate. Rather, a special appropriation with a June 30, 1985 lapse date would allow the funds to be expended in FY 84 and early FY 85 as the legislation would require.

The attached schedule presents the total special appropriation required, with an allocation for dividends and a second allocation to cover the administrative expense of the Department of Revenue for administering the reopening. This summary schedule and the detailed schedules presented for each of the three operational divisions involved in the PFD program are based on the following key assumptions:

- 1) The legislation and the special appropriation is signed into law by the end of February, 1984.
- 2) The Department of Revenue is to pay or deny all applicants filing during the extended period by June 30, 1984. This expedited processing minimizes the possibility of public confusion between the 1983 reopening and the 1984 PFD filing requirement. The 1984 filing period is from June 1 through September 30, 1984. Any overlap of these two periods is going to create a great deal of unnecessary confusion and resultant additional costs to the program.
- 3) All estimates are based on a conservative estimate of the potential late filers of 30,000, roughly the difference between the number of 1982 applicants and the number of timely-filed 1983 applicants. If, in fact the total applicants turns out to be less, some costs, such as personal services in Administrative Services and Enforcement and data processing will be less. Other expenditures, such as forms cost, rural assistance and advertising will have already been made. It is the intention of the Department that all administrative costs appropriated be separately accounted for and any balances lapsed when the program is completed.

Administrative Services Division
January 16, 1984

The Administrative Services Division is responsible for the physical processing of PFD applications, from opening the incoming mail to releasing the actual checks. This includes batching, microfilming, date-stamping, affixing a document locator number for later retrieval, reviewing for errors and completeness and coding for data capture. The division is also responsible for forms production and management, designing, creating, modifying and maintaining the myriad data processing programs that make up the PFD data processing system and for processing, balancing and certifying the actual check runs, including all accounting functions, and cancellation and subsequent reissue of returned warrants.

Although the majority of the extra processing effort would be absorbed by existing staff, there are certain direct costs that are unavoidable such as forms cost and postage. Also, since this represents an additional demand on the Department of Administration's mainframe computer, the Department of Revenue would be billed for the additional CPU run time. This amount of $62,784 would be transferred to the Department of Administration by a reimbursable services agreement based on actual use.

To expedite the processing, so that all applications would be on file, reviewed, and either paid or denied by June 30, 1984, three part-time employees are needed from approximately March 1 through June 30, 1984 at a total cost of $21,354.

The schedule below details the estimated costs.

 Public Services Division Component

The Public Services Division is charged with assisting the public in meeting the application requirements of the PFD program. This assistance comes in several forms; a) walk-in assistance at three service centers in the state, b) toll free telephone service, c) assistance provided at selected shopping malls on weekends, and d) scheduled assistance in selected rural communities throughout the state.

This Division will conduct an advertising campaign aimed at reaching those eligible individuals that were unable to file during the original filing period. It is anticipated that this campaign will rely heavily on public service announcements coupled with eye-catching posters throughout the state. Approximately half of the advertising exposure will be used for local advertising just prior to the scheduled visits to the rural communities.

During the filing period and prior to payment this Division attempts to resolve any problems the applicants may encounter with the program including a change of address.

Program Analysis

The impact of this bill on the Enforcement Division is strictly dependent on the number of applications filed under the extended deadline and the corresponding number of investigations which are likely to be necessary. If, as a matter of policy, we choose not to investigate any of the applications filed under the extended deadline, we could probably absorb the incidental increased workload in stop payment requests and garnishments with current staff. However, this policy would likely result in a substantial number of fraudulent or erroneous filings being paid. Therefore, for the overall integrity of the program it is essential some investigative effort be focused on applications filed under the extended deadline.

The most positions we would likely be able to efficiently absorb would be five Investigators, one in Anchorage and four in Juneau. With the supplemental clerical support, one Clerk Typist each in Anchorage and Juneau, we would likely be able to have our investigators complete 20 investigations per week.

Clerical staff is needed to answer incoming telephone calls, requisition supplies, enter updated information on PFD files, file cases, type correspondence, including denial letters and inquiries for information, provide general support for our investigative staff.

Assuming we can hire personnel and have equipment installed by the second week of March, 1984, this leaves a little over 14 weeks of review time prior to the June 21 data entry deadline required by the payment deadline of June 30, 1984. If each of the five investigators can complete investigations on 20 applications per week for 14 weeks, 1400 applications would be reviewed. Our denial rate is estimated to be 40% of those selected for review. If 1400 were reviewed, then approximately 560 would be denied. We would estimate a 10-11% appeal rate, resulting in 55-60 appeals.

Once the investigations are complete, we would keep the two PFD Investigator II positions for up to two months each, with the clerical support, in order to help resolve appeals at the informal conference level.

The Enforcement Division review process is the only part of the current program which generates actual overall cost savings to the PFD program. The monies saved by identifying invalid or fraudulent applications have historically exceeded the cost of the reviews. In this case, given the scenario described above, the potential savings to the PFD program would be $$386.15 \times 560 = $216,244$ or 192% of the requested budget of $112,896.

10 * Section 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of AS 43.23 and the regula-
11 tions adopted under that chapter by the Department of Revenue relating to 12 eligibility and application deadlines for 1983 permanent fund dividends,
13 the time period for an Alaska resident applying for a 1983 permanent fund
14 dividend is extended to May 15, 1984 for applicants who met the six month
15 residency requirement on March 31, 1983. A 1983 permanent fund dividend 16 paid to an individual who applies during the extended period may not be
17 paid from money appropriated or otherwise allocated for permanent fund
18 dividends for years other than 1983. The Department of Revenue may not pay 19 1983 dividends to applicants who file during the extended period until 20 after March 1, 1984. The Department of Revenue may adopt regulations to 21 implement this section.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Members of the House Finance Committee

FROM: Representative Al Adams, Chair ABA

SUBJ: HBs 478 and 516: Extension of application period for 1983 permanent fund dividends

I have introduced the above captioned bills because many of my constituents contacted me during the interim to let me know that they were unable to file for their 1983 dividend checks because of the nature of their seasonal employment. Because the original deadline was June 30th, many of my constituents were out fishing or otherwise involved with activities away from home in isolated areas, and therefore they were not aware of the deadline.

Since I have worked closely with the Department of Revenue in the development of this legislation, I do not anticipate that this problem will occur every year, necessitating similar legislation each session. I am confident that the Department will make every effort to insure that Alaskans who leave home for work for part or all of the summer will have adequate opportunity to file for their yearly dividend check.

HB 473 is the bill that actually changes the language of the statute to extend the deadline to May 15, 1984. However, an applicant must have been a resident of the state for six months before March 31, 1983, the date that establishes residency for those who have already received a 1983 dividend. Thus, the application period is extended but not the period for establishing residency in 1983.

The bill also provides that only funding appropriated or allocated for 1983 dividends can be used to pay the dividend checks of new applicants. Further, it states that dividends will not be paid out until after March 1, 1984 (so as not to conflict with the schedule for paying dividends for other years) and gives the Department the authority to promulgate regulations to implement the bill. The bill has an immediate effective date.

HB 516

HB 516 makes the necessary appropriations to pay 1983 dividends to late filers. The funding provided comes from interest earned on the permanent fund principal during FY 83. This is the source of funding established in statute for payment of permanent fund dividends (see AS 43.23.045(b)). As you know, 50% of the interest earned on the permanent fund each year is earmarked for payment of permanent fund dividends. This past year, the Department of Revenue underestimated how much the interest earnings would be. Therefore, the legislature appropriated approximately $19 million less for dividends than what has actually turned out to be 50% of interest earnings. The funding provided in this bill comes from that $19 million.

$11,584,500 is the amount estimated as necessary to pay the dividends of late filers. Obviously, it is difficult for the Department to estimate exactly how many people will file during the extended deadline period. This represents their best guess at this time. Any funding not used for this purpose would lapse at the end of FY 85.

$347,600 is appropriated for processing the dividend applications. I have instructed the Division of Legislative Finance to review the need for these funds. There is a memo in your file from the Division that discusses this appropriation. Basically, the Division has concluded that the appropriation amount is necessary if 30,000 applicants do apply. In the event that there are fewer applicants, the funding lapses. Therefore, the appropriation amount for administration should stand.

The bill would become effective on the same date that a bill extending the deadline becomes effective.

Proposed CS HB 516 (Finance)

I am proposing that we accept the draft CS in your file. The only change in the CS is that any monies left over would lapse back to the dividend fund instead of to the general fund. I think that this better preserves the intent of the program since the funding would then be available for dividends in future years instead of getting lost in the general fund. Money in the dividend fund is invested by the Department's Treasury Division along with other funds.

SUBJECT: HB 478, Extension of 1983 PFD Filing Period

At your request, I have reviewed the Department of Revenue's estimate of the bill's administrative costs. The attached table summarizes this estimate by division and line item. Based on an anticipated 30,000 new PFD applications, the additional costs estimate of $347,634 appears to be reasonable. The key assumption in their analysis is that 30,000 new applications will be received. However, an alternative estimate suggests that there may be as few as 16,000 new applications. This alternative estimate is based on the difference between the March 31, 1983, population of Alaska (456,000¹) and the number of 1983 PFD recipients (440,000²).

Due to a variety of reasons, past attempts at projecting the number of PFD applicants for any given year have generally not been very accurate. Therefore, it may be best to view these two estimates as a range (16,000 to 30,000) within which the actual number is likely to fall. The average (23,000) could then be used to estimate the administrative costs. Or, to be on the safe side, one could go with the higher number (30,000).

¹The Department of Labor July 1, 1983, population estimate is 464,460. This has been adjusted down by a seasonality factor of 1.0196 to arrive at the March 31, 1983, estimate of 456,000. The seasonality factor was also obtained from the Department of Labor.

Re: HB 478

To base this appropriation on an optimistic projection is not all bad because, as pointed out by the department, a significant portion (about 50 to 60%) of the program costs are a direct function of the number of new applications actually received. Should the number of new applications fall short, a part of the monies will lapse provided there is separate accounting and a policy of hiring as the need arises. Resources in the Public Services division will probably have to be committed early in the implementation of this program and, consequently, these costs are not likely to be sensitive to the number of new applications received. Nevertheless, the activities of the Public Services division with regard to this bill may serve to maintain or increase awareness of the PFD program in general and, hence, decrease the need for a similar bill in the future.

A rough estimate of the administrative cost savings of using a 23,000 instead of a 30,000 estimate of new PFD applications is about $60,000. In addition, the direct costs of dividend payments will be $2,703,050 lower.
