Position Paper

SB 350

The Department of Administration supports the bill in its intent, however, caution is advised concerning the open-ended appropriation to match all contributions. The salary deduction contribution from State employees, assuming a 20% participation, is estimated at $45,000. The real concern, however, is that the potential amount of private donations is unlimited. Large donations from multi-national corporations could conceivably require the State to match millions of dollars. For this reason it is recommended that a "not-to-exceed" amount be inserted in Section 2(c).

The intent of Senate Bill 350 would not pose a major accounting difficulty. Contributions deducted from employee salaries would be accumulated in a miscellaneous deduction account and transferred to an agency trust account established for the Office of the Governor. Private donations would be deposited directly to the trust account. The Office of the Governor would periodically draw a warrant on the trust account, payable to the United States Olympic Committee in Alaska.

Although the payroll system has the ability to automatically deduct authorized contributions from employees' salaries it does have a limit as to the number of deductions that can be made for an employee. When the limit is exceeded for an employee the Payroll Section is required to manually intervene in order to properly apply the deductions.

Currently few employees have reached the deduction limit of the system. Senate Bill 350 will not severely increase the manual payroll effort required at this time. Caution must be used when considering additional legislation of this nature in order to assure that the automated deduction limits of the payroll system are not exceeded and the Payroll Section is not forced to a largely manual effort to properly account for and distribute the payroll deductions.

Based on our reading of this bill, its provisions are effective for FY 85 only and will cease June 30, 1985.
