Dear Michael:

This is in response to the question you posed last week on Senate Bill 53. If Alaska failed to enact the verification provisions in Section 1 of the bill, $22,652,100 in federal administrative funds for our Employment Service and Unemployment Insurance programs would be jeopardized in FY 86.

You may recall that last year we were dealing with some conformity provisions which jeopardized employer FUTA tax credits as well as our administrative grants. Accordingly, I would like to clarify that the amendment we are dealing with this year is not attached in any way to the employer FUTA tax--this year we just have our administrative grants "on the line."

Thanks for your help; and please give me a shout if you need anything else.

Sincerely,

Eileen Plate

The Honorable Don Bennett
President of the Senate
Alaska State Legislature

Dear Senator Bennett:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to the disclosure of unemployment insurance information.

The bill has two provisions. The first is in response to amendments made to the Social Security Act by the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (P.L. 98-369). The latter Act establishes an income and eligibility verification system under which the state must disclose unemployment insurance benefit and wage information to appropriate state and federal agencies in order to qualify for federal money for payment of administrative costs of the unemployment insurance program (42.U.S.C. sec. 1320b-7).

The system is intended to verify the eligibility of recipients of certain benefits in federally assisted state programs, such as the medicaid, food stamp, and unemployment insurance programs, among others. The bill will allow the Department of Labor to make the appropriate disclosures.

The second provision allows the department to disclose information to the Internal Revenue Service. Under federal law, the IRS has the duty to seek information necessary for enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code, and it is empowered to compel the cooperation of persons and agencies in its performance of that duty. Although under current state law the department may not voluntarily disclose unemployment insurance information to the IRS for that purpose, the Department of Law has concluded that the Department of Labor must respond to an IRS subpoena which requests such information. The proposed amendment would eliminate the need for the issuance and processing of subpoenas, a costly procedure, which has become especially burdensome due to the increasingly large number of subpoenas issued.

Section 2651(1)(2) of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (98 Stat. 1151) basically requires compliance with the provisions of that Act as of April 1, 1985. Therefore, I urge your prompt and favorable consideration of this measure.

Sincerely,

Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 53 amends a provision in Alaska's unemployment insurance law which deals with disclosure of unemployment insurance claim and wage information.

Specifically, this bill provides for the Department of Labor to disclose unemployment insurance benefit and wage information to appropriate state and federal programs funded by the Social Security Act (Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Medicaid, Food Stamps, etc.).

This provision is in response to a 1984 amendment to the Social Security Act which establishes a system for verifying the income and eligibility of persons receiving benefits from programs operating under the Social Security Act. Basically, the verification system consists of the exchange of income and eligibility information among the programs.

State unemployment insurance programs are required, under the amendments to the Social Security Act, to participate in this exchange of information by April 1, 1985. The amendment to Alaska's unemployment insurance law set out in CS SB 53 is necessary to enable the Department of Labor to make the appropriate disclosures and thereby assure that federal funding received by the Department for administration of its Unemployment Insurance program is not jeopardized.

The Department supports passage of this bill. It will not have a fiscal impact on the Department.

SB 53 Sectional Analysis:

Section 1) (h) Establishes an income and eligibility verification system (PL 98-369) requiring disclosure of U.I. benefit and wage information to appropriate state and federal agencies. Receipt of federal funds ($22,652,100) for the administrative costs of the UI program are conditioned upon being in conformity with the provisions of the 1984 amendments to the Social Security Act.

(i) proposed subsection would allow the Department of Labor to voluntarily disclose UI information to the IRS. Current law requires the issuance of a subpoena before an information exchange takes place.

Section 2) Immediate effective date

CSSB 53 (L&C): Deletes subsection (i) with respect to voluntary disclosure of information between the IRS and the Department of Labor.
