MEMORANDUM

To: Committee Members
From: Committee Staff
Date: March 4, 1986
RE: HJR 51 Relating to Coast Guard User Fees

Tomorrow, Wednesday the 5th, the committee will be taking up HJR 51. This resolution was sponsored by Representative John Sund.

HJR 51 calls for the Alaska Congressional Delegation to work to prevent the passage of Federal House Bill 1932. House Bill 1932 would establish user fees for Coast Guard Services. The first item in your packet, labeled "Rep. Sund's Analysis" includes a listing of the services that would be subject to a user fee.

Included in your packet, in addition to the Sund analysis, is a copy of the HJR, a zero fiscal note from Representative Hurley, and a copy of the draft bill in front of congress at this time.

Representative Sund's packet is a good source of information on the Coast Guard User Fee issue and breaks down the financing expected if HB 1932 were to pass on the federal level.

MEMORANDUM

TO: House State Affairs Committee

FROM: Rep. John Sund

RE: HJR 51 - Coast Guard user fees
.....

Enclosed in your packet is a copy of Federal House Bill 1932, schedules of proposed direct and indirect fees, and a summary of the bill's status. Should it pass, this legislation would require Alaskan commercial and sport vessels to pay user fees for the following Coast Guard services:

- seaman's documents and licenses
- vessel inspection
- merchant marine investigations
- maintenance for aids to navigation
- non-emergency search and rescue

The intent of the proposal is to raise the following revenue during the ensuing three years.

- FY 86 - $150 million
- FY 87 - $250 million
- FY 88 - $350 million

The following is a sample fee breakdown. The lower figure is that suggested by the Senate/White House and the high figure was the original OMB proposal.

Commercial vessels UNDER 5 GROSS TONS - $540 - $720 per year
(this could include skiffs, set net skiffs, handtrollers, etc.)

Commercial vessels between 5 - 99 gross tons - $810 - $1080

Recreational Boats - approximately $23 per boat average.

This information was provided by K.C. Bell of Congressman Young's office and David Dye of Senator Stevens office.

HJR 51 opposes coast guard user fees overall, and specifically opposes the proposed distribution of fees.

Ren. Sund's Analysis

Please telecopy these four pages to :

Mr. Howard Wayne
Office of Rep. John Sund

Mr. Wayne:

I am sending to you the SAMPLE fee breakdown supplied as part of H.R. 1936. As you can see, it reflects a $23 charge for recreational boaters. It should be noted that the 1987 fiscal year budget presented to Congress still assumes that revenues will be collected through a Coast Guard user fee, although it is NOT factored into the Coast Guard budget request. The Subcommittee on Coast Guard and Navigation last year made it very clear that it continues to oppose such user fees.

I could not get a copy of S.Con.Res. 32 in time for you, however, I have enclosed a summary of the status of that legislation.

Please let me know if you require further information.

Sincerely,

K.C. BELL

(b) Section 2110 of Title 46, United States Code (P.L. 98-89, August 26, 1983), is repealed.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE AND NEED

The purpose of this bill is to amend Title 14, United States Code, to authorize the recovery of a proportion of the operating expenses incurred in providing certain Coast Guard services. The recovery of the Federal costs of providing services from those who primarily benefit from them has long been established and accepted as sound public policy.

Two major concepts underlie this cost recovery principle. One concerns fairness and equity in the distribution of the Federal tax burden. Those who obtain special services from the government above and beyond those that accrue to the public at large or who use government funded facilities should pay for them; those who do not should not be expected to share the cost. The second has to do with efficiency. For the market to operate as an efficient allocator of resources, the prices of goods and services should reflect their costs. The basic purpose of this legislation is to allocate the costs of providing certain Coast Guard services to those who primarily benefit from them.

User fees are a widely accepted, equitable means of supporting public programs and services. For many years user fees have been the principal means of supporting other transportation programs. In the 1986 budget, President Reagan proposed to increase or institute numerous types of user fees, including those for certain Coast Guard services.

This proposal would authorize the Secretary of the department in which the Coast Guard is operating to collect from users the operating expenses proportionately allocable to the users of the following Coast Guard services:

1. Search and rescue;
2. Short range aids to navigation;
3. Radionavigation aids;
4. Domestic icebreaking;
5. Commercial vessel safety;
6. Recreational boating safety;
7. Port and environmental safety;
8. Marine environmental response; and
9. Bridge administration.

User fees would be charged only for Coast Guard services which relate to specific, identifiable persons or classes of users. Among the user groups which would be affected by user fees authorized under this legislation are persons who are issued certificates, permits, approvals, licenses, and documents by the Coast Guard and the owners, operators, and persons in charge of:

1. Commercial vessels, both U.S. and foreign flag;
2. Mobile off-shore drilling units and fixed off-shore structures;
3. Recreational boats that operate on waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States; and
4. Terminals subject to Coast Guard inspections.

Based on a detailed analysis of the programs for which recovery would be sought, the expenses of the programs would be collected on a proportional basis from the various individual users or user groups, either as a charge for a specific service, when the user of the service is directly identifiable, or by an indirect charge in the form of an annual or biennial fee. Every reasonable effort would be made to make the fee schedules equitable and reflective of the actual expenses incurred by the Coast Guard to provide a specific service or benefit to a particular user or class of users.

In response to concerns that have been raised about previous Coast Guard user fees proposals, the bill includes an accounting of the amounts collected and spent on search and rescue activities. This is designed to demonstrate that the amounts collected from marine users for this purpose do not exceed the costs of providing the services to those users.

Although all Coast Guard services benefit at least portions of the public at large in one way or another, there are some that clearly contribute to the general welfare, with little or no identifiable benefit to specific users. Those will not be subject to cost recovery. Activities to be excluded under this concept are as follows:

1. Enforcement of laws and treaties;
2. Polar ice operations;
3. Defense readiness;
4. Waterways management.

The Coast Guard currently collects as direct charges for Coast Guard services, or receives from user taxes, approximately $ 16.8 million, less than 1% of its operating budget, from the following sources:

Motorboat fuel tax for recreational boating safety operating expenses .	$ 15.0 million
Fees for yacht documentation	1.3 million
Fees for issuing certificates of financial responsibility to vessels	.5 million
Marking wrecks and obstructions to navigation	less than .1 million
Total	16.8 million

In addition to the fees currently generated, the Coast Guard, under section 9701 of title 31, U. S. Code, and sections 3317, 3506, and 7114 of title 46, U. S. Code, is authorized to collect additional user fees for the following Coast Guard services:

1. Permits for private aids to navigation;
2. Domestic icebreaking at the specific request of a user;
3. Inspection and examination of small passenger vessels and sailing school vessels;
4. Issuance of certificates, licenses, or permits related to small passenger vessels and sailing school vessels;
5. Providing required copies of laws to passenger vessels;
6. Material and equipment approvals and factory inspections;
7. Inspection of Outer Continental Shelf facilities;
8. Facility inspections;
9. Cargo of particular hazard inspections;
10. Issuance of regatta permits; and
11. Providing regatta patrols.

The proposed legislation will incorporate the above items and will thus result in all categories of users paying for similar services.

It is the policy of the Coast Guard to encourage private commercial provision of certain services which are currently provided by the Coast Guard. To this end, the Coast Guard has sought to establish formal agreements which would delegate specific authority to discharge certain Coast Guard functions to such organizations as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau. Examples of authority which the Coast Guard has delegated or might delegate in the future are new construction plan review and inspection of vessels, vessel measurement, Outer Continental Shelf inspection, load line examinations, and other program responsibilities that would lead to the minimization of direct governmental involvement in the maritime industry. Where delegation takes the place of the authority to provide services which are subject to user fees, the Coast Guard will terminate or reduce those fees when the service is performed and financed by the private sector.

However, it is difficult to shift much of the work to the private sector when the Coast Guard is charged with providing the same service at no cost to the user as a result of the prohibition against charging fees in section 2110 of title 46, U. S. Code. The elimination of this prohibition would permit the delegation of additional services to the private sector.

An evaluation of Coast Guard programs for which expenses may be assessed under this proposed legislation results in the following estimates:

5 YEAR PROPOSED NET RECEIPTS
BY FISCAL YEAR
(In Millions of 1986 Dollars)

	1986	1987	1988	1989	1990
NET RECEIPTS	236	476	476	476	476

Thus, the expenses for which recovery authority is sought represent approximately 13% of all Coast Guard operating expenses, and 9% of the total estimated Coast Guard budget for FY 1986.
