Position Paper

RE: House Bill 493

SPONSOR: Representative Herrmann

Program Effects:

This bill would establish in this department a grants program for municipalities and unincorporated communities to be used for the collection of marine garbage in state water.

Comments:

The problems this bill is designed to address are serious ones, particularly in the Bristol Bay region. The intent is apparently to provide easier access for fishing boats and processors to waste disposal systems in coastal communities to encourage lawful disposal of marine garbage, rather than unlawful dumping. The method adopted by this bill is to give grants to municipalities which may be expected to provide directly, or contract for, floating collection barges, which may then transport the garbage to an appropriate waste disposal site.

This department has less expertise in the areas of waste disposal and environmental quality that are essential to the solution of this problem than, for instance, the Department of Environmental Conservation. However, that department does not currently administer operating grants programs of this nature and is not prepared to go into the grants area. The nature of the proposed program will require a close coordination of effort with DEC, as this department does not have the resources to independently evaluate some of the criteria listed in the bill for consideration in making the grants.

HB 493
March 25, 1988
Page Two

The department has one technical concern that should be addressed. While the bill would make unincorporated communities eligible to receive grants, an unincorporated community by its nature is unable to receive a grant. The department would recommend specifying eligible entities within such a community to receive funds under the program and would propose the approach taken in the State Revenue Sharing Program at ~~AS 29.40.160~~ as a model.

AS 29.60.140

The impacts of marine garbage collection on communities will become even greater with the recent adoption of federal law dealing with the disposal of marine garbage. This bill provides a means to assist municipalities deal with those impacts. However, while the department is sympathetic to these goals, because of the current revenue situation, it is unable to support the bill.
