SJR 64: "Relating to resident hire on United States Department of Defense projects at Amchitka Island"

This measure expands upon CSSJR 19 (SA)am, which passed the Legislature during the 1987 session. The whereas clauses in the resolution are rather typical for local hire measures, (i.e. chronic unemployment, social ills, ratio of resident to nonresident workers, seasonal nature of the Aleutian Region economy etc.) and the resolution also contains a reference to the latest "Murkowski local hire" amendment to the 1988 Defense Appropriations Act.

Additionally, we have added Shemya Island and Adak to the specific Department of Defense projects which are being undertaken on the Chain, and following the "resolve clauses" we have added Frank Carlucci, recently appointed Secretary of Defense to the "address section".

I thank yourself and the committee for your prompt consideration of this measure.

Honorable Ted Stevens
United States Senate
522 Hart Bldg.
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Stevens:

This letter is written to you regarding the large Department of Defense project on Adchitka Island in the Aleutian Islands. We are requesting your help with a local hire issue which is of paramount importance to residents of the Aleutian and Pribilof Islands.

The Department of Defense has recently entered into contracts with construction and service industry firms to do the work at Adchitka. Work on the island is already underway. Many of the employees hired by the contractors are from outside of Alaska and most, if not all, are from outside the Aleutian Pribilof Region. With so few employment opportunities in the Region, access to Department of Defense jobs on Adchitka is very important to the people of the Region for a number of reasons.

First, as you know the unemployment rate among Alaska residents is one of the highest in the nation. This condition is amplified in the Aleutian/Pribilof Region. Further, the number of residents unable to find work is quite a bit higher than the unemployment figures indicate. Many rural residents who wish to work do not seek employment as frequently as necessary to meet federal definitions of unemployment because of a chronic lack of opportunities in rural areas.

Second, Alaska has one of the highest ratios of nonresident to resident workers in the nation, and nonresident workers displace a large number of qualified and available Alaskan workers. Again, this is even more prevalent in the Aleutian/Pribilof Region.

Senator Ted Stevens

January 22, 1988

Third, employment in the Aleutian/Pribilof Region is largely seasonal and does not provide year-round income for local residents. In addition, many of those who were employed in the fishing industry this year did not enjoy good seasons. Here again, local residents face heavy competition from nonresidents. In general, the Region is suffering from high unemployment rates.

Unfortunately for our Region, extensive research has shown that chronic unemployment often leads to social problems such as alcoholism, domestic violence and outmigration from the Region. Many qualified residents are ready and able to work and would benefit greatly by gaining access to jobs associated with this project.

Both the United States Government and the Alaska Legislature have taken actions which support the concept of local hire. Section 3072 of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act contains requirements for local hire on Department of Defense contracts in Alaska. In the last session of the State Legislature, the Senate passed a Joint Resolution (SJR 19), sponsored by Senator Zharoff, encouraging the Department of Defense to encourage residents of the Aleutian Islands to apply for work on the Adnitka Island project and to give them preference in hiring for the project.

Many employees currently working on the project are from out of state and almost all are from outside the Region. We are requesting your help to influence the Department of Defense and its contractors to adhere to local hire provisions. In particular, we are asking that you strongly urge the Department of Defense and its contractors to actively recruit workers from the Aleutian and Pribilof Islands Region. This is important not only for the construction phase of the project, but for the post-construction phase as well. Your assistance is greatly appreciated.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Anita H. Perry

SUBJECT: Section 8078, 1986 Defense Appropriations Act - Restrictions on the Employment of Personnel for Work on Construction/Service Contracts

On 24 January 1986, the DAR Council approved the attached new Subpart 22.72 of the DFARS for publication in the Federal Register as an interim rule and for immediate Departmental implementation. This action is necessary because Section 8078 of the FY 1986 Defense Appropriations Act, enacted on 23 December 1985, requires that whenever the unemployment rate in Alaska or Hawaii exceeds the national average as determined by the Secretary of Labor, service and construction contracts awarded in FY 1986 and calling for performance in whole or in part within those states must contain a restriction on who can be employed to perform work on that contract. This requirement is implemented by a new clause at DFARS 52-222-7002. Contracting officers shall include the clause in all new solicitations, as well as modify existing solicitations to incorporate the clause when to do so will not unduly delay the procurement. For contracts already awarded in FY 1986, contracting officers should attempt to modify them to include the clause on a no cost basis, provided the Government's interests are adequately protected.

This Departmental is effective immediately.

RESTRICTIONS ON THE EMPLOYMENT OF PERSONNEL FOR WORK ON CONSTRUCTION/SERVICE CONTRACTS IN ALASKA
AND HAWAII

22.7200 Policy.

(a) Except as provided in (b) and (c) below, Section 8078 of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act requires that notwithstanding any other provision of law, every contract awarded during FY 1986 calling for construction or services to be performed in whole or in part within the State of Alaska or the State of Hawaii shall include a provision requiring the contractor to employ, for the purpose of performing that portion of the contract work within the particular state, individuals who are residents of that state, and who, in the case of any craft or trade, possess or would be able to acquire promptly the necessary skills to perform the contract.

(b) This section shall not apply at any time during FY 1986 when the unemployment rate in Alaska is not in excess of the national average rate of unemployment as determined by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) This section shall not apply to contracts to be performed in whole or in part within the State of Hawaii unless in FY 1986 the unemployment rate in Hawaii is in excess of the national average rate of unemployment as determined by the Secretary of Labor.

22.7201 Waivers. This section may be waived by the Secretary of Defense, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Logistics, and any Secretary, Undersecretary, or Assistant Secretary of the Army, Navy, and Air Force, in the interest of national security. Requests for waiver shall be processed in accordance with Departmental or agency procedures.

22.7202 Contract Clause. The contracting officer shall insert the clause at 52.222-7002, Restrictions on Employment of Personnel, in all solicitations and contracts in accordance with 22.7200.

Add a new clause as follows:

52.222-7002 Restrictions on Employment of Personnel. As prescribed in 22.7202, insert the following clause.

(b) The Contractor agrees to insert the substance of this clause, including this paragraph (b), in each subcontract.

Navy to build new radar in Aleutians

By DAVID HULEN
Daily News reporter

The Navy plans to spend approximately $92 million over the next two years to build an advanced, largely-secret surveillance system in the Aleutian Islands, apparently to monitor Soviet naval and air activity in the North Pacific.

The project, planned for Amchitka Island near the end of the Aleutian chain, uses an "over-the-horizon" radar similar to a system planned by the Air Force for southcentral Alaska.

Such systems, developed over the past decade, use the electrically-charged ionosphere to bounce radio signals around the curve of the Earth, giving them far greater range

He faces new charges of attempted murder

CAMPBELL

Newcomb, a past-master at eluding police, was taken in shackles before a Superior Court judge Wednesday afternoon with a $100,000 bond on his head, facing new charges of attempted murder. District Judge Victor Carlson set Newcomb's bail at $1 million for two first-degree murders. His arrest came five hours after Newcomb allegedly shot Anchorage police Officers Preston "Jack" Chapman and Francis O'Brien. Acting on a tip that the wanted man had been spotted, the patrolmen confronted Newcomb in the Anchorage Barber College in Mountain View late Tuesday afternoon.

In court papers filed Wednesday, state-stead of absolute values.

If references to theistic religions such as Christianity and Judaism are excluded from public school texts, the plaintiffs contended, then so must references to secular humanism.

The defendants, who included the Alabama state board of education and 12 parents who entered the case secular humanism as a catch-all term for any textbook, classroom course or teaching method contrary to their fundamentalist religious beliefs.

In his 172-page decision, Hand said: "For purposes of the First Amendment, secular humanism is a religious belief system, entitled to the protections of, and subject to the prohibitions of, the religion clauses of the U.S. Constitution that may be promoted and advanced in the public schools."

He also said that the case represented neither an "attempt of narrow-minded or fanatical pro-religionists to force a public school system to teach only those opinions and facts they find digestible" nor an "attempt by anyone to censor materials deemed undesirable, improvthe allegedly improper promotion of certain religious beliefs, thus violating the constitutional prohibitions against the establishment of religion..."

At a news conference on the steps of the federal courthouse in Mobile after the decision was released, Robert Sheirling of Mobile, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said: "This is exactly what we were accused at the outset of having some hidden agenda in this matter, and I think Judge Hand... has stated very succinctly what this case is and what it is not."

But John Buchanan, a former Alabama congressman and Baptist minister who is chairman of People for the American Way, said: "Today's order is judicial book-burning. By this ruling is nothing less than government censorship of the school curriculum.

The challenged textbook included those used in teaching home economics, history and social studies. Among other things, the plaintiff charged that passages in the books about one-parent families and divorce offended their beliefs about traditional families.

RADAR: Navy plans to spend $92 million for advanced surveillance system on Amchitka Island

Navy officials have said details of how the Amchitka system will work — and what it will be used for — are classified, and they have refused to discuss it in any detail. A lengthy environmental assessment of the project, prepared by the Navy last year for federal and state agencies, says only that the system is "required for strategic defense purposes" and is "in the interest of national security."

The system's mission is apparently different from the Air Force's $450 million over-the-horizon "backscatter" radar tentatively scheduled to be built over the next several years near Tok and Gulkana. That system is primarily an early-warning system aimed at watching for Soviet planes and cruise missiles, Air Force officials have said. The system, with a range of about 1,800 miles, will be directed north and west and Air Force officials claim it will be able to track planes flying hundreds of miles inside the Soviet Union.

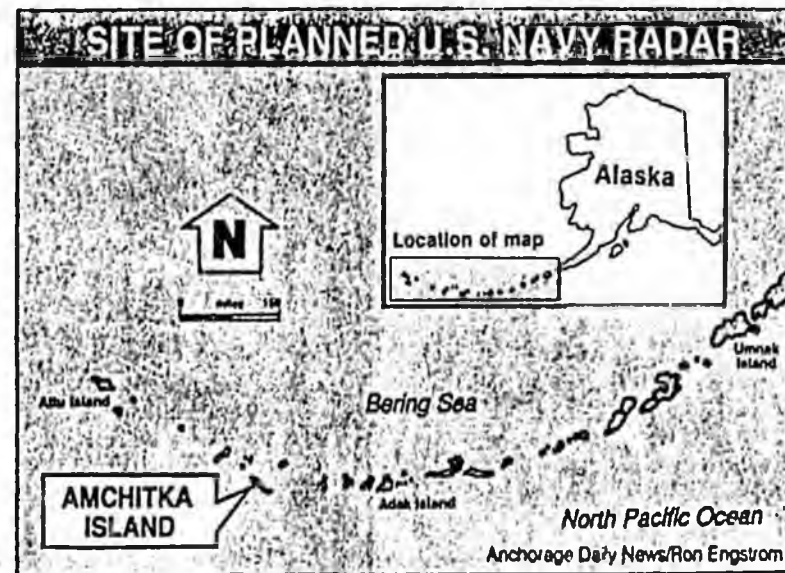

A spokesman for the Air Force's Electronic Systems

Division in Massachusetts said the Navy system "has a different mission. It's not related at all" to the Air Force's Alaska project. The spokesman, Kevin Gilmartin, said he understood the Navy project was to primarily monitor sea-launched missiles in the North Pacific, as well as Soviet sea and air movement, but he said the Air Force could not provide details.

"That's essentially what it does," said Shawn O'Keefe, a staff member for the Senate Defense Appropriations Subcommittee. "It has other capabilities, too, as I understand it. It's the capabilities and the mission that are classified.... The basic point is to further the range. The more range you have, the more information you can collect."

Amchitka is a treeless, uninhabited, 35-mile-long strip of land in the Rat Island group, about 1,400 miles southwest of Anchorage. An American air base was built there during World War II and it was the site of underground nuclear tests in the 1960s and early 1970s.

The Navy has increased its activity in the North Pacific in recent months, including sea exercises in the Gulf of Alaska and Aleutians. There is a Navy base at Adak, about 200 miles east of Amchitka, that includes surveillance and communications facilities, an underwater weapons detachment and a group of P-3 aircraft that track Soviet ships and submarines.

Military researchers at the Washington-based Center for Policy Studies have reported that Adak is the storage site for some 70 nuclear anti-submarine depth bombs. The Navy has refused to comment on whether there are nuclear weapons at the base.

About 250 miles west of Amchitka is Shemya Island, site of a largely-classified Air Force base that includes radar systems and reconnaissance planes which monitor Soviet missile tests.

According to diagrams in the Navy's environmental assessment, the Amchitka radar antennas will be pointed directly west, toward the Kamchatka Peninsula in the Soviet Union. The major Soviet Pacific submarine base is on the eastern shore of the peninsula, at Petropavlovsk, and the sea between there and the Aleutians is a major Soviet naval operating area, according to "Soviet Military Power," an annual U.S. Defense Department publication.

About 800 miles separate Amchitka from the Kamchatka Peninsula.

According to the Navy budget office, about $92 million has been budgeted for the project through the scheduled completion in late 1988. Site work is scheduled to start this spring, with construction of the transmitter and receiver antennas sometime next year.

The project is being coordinated by Navy officials in Silverdale, Wash., but all questions were referred to a spokesman at the Pentagon, who said he could not discuss the project.

The over-the-horizon system uses the ionosphere — the electrically-charged layer of atmosphere 100 to 250 miles above the Earth's surface — to flex high-frequency radio signals around the curve of the Earth. It's the same principle that causes short-wave radio signals to bounce around the globe.

The signals bounce off the ionosphere and return to earth downrange. Whatever the beam strikes causes the signals to scatter back off the ionosphere and return to a receiver near the transmitter where they are deciphered by computer.

The Navy environmental report doesn't describe in detail what the antennas will look like, but says that both the transmitter and receiver sites will include several hundred acres. The transmitter will be built on the western tip of the island, with the receiver based about 20 miles southeast, in the center of the island.

A base camp, with quarters for 16 crew members, will be built at the west end of the island, near the existing air strip and dock.

The Navy environmental report says the project will require construction of a diesel-fueled power plant to generate about 2 million kilowatts of electricity for the transmitter. Extensive road work also will be needed.

The Navy picked Amchitka, the report says, because of its flat terrain, "important strategic location," and existing dock, airfield and other facilities.

The island is part of the Aleutian National Wildlife Refuge, but federal and state environmental and wildlife groups have raised no serious objections to the project.

The attached material was sent to our office by resident's of the Aleutian region concerning resident hire on the Amchitka project. While the reference is to SJR 19, which passed the Legislature last session, the concept is relevant to SJR 64.

As we are able to generate additional back up for this resolution we will make it available to the committee. The nature of the work being conducted on these DOD projects is very secretive, however to illustrate the magnitude of military funded projects, I have attached a list of federal DOD and DOT projects bid in Alaska in 1987.

IN THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA
FIFTEENTH LEGISLATURE - FIRST SESSION

Relating to resident hire on a United States
Department of Defense project at Amchitka Island.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

WHEREAS the rate of unemployment among residents of the state is one of the highest in the nation; and

WHEREAS the number of state residents who are unable to find work is considerably higher than is reflected by unemployment rates based on nationally accepted measures, in part because many rural state residents who wish to work do not seek employment as frequently as necessary to meet federal definitions of unemployment because of continuing lack of employment opportunities in rural areas of the state; and

WHEREAS chronic unemployment leads to severe social problems including alcoholism and domestic violence; and

WHEREAS the state has one of the highest ratios of nonresident to resident workers in the nation; and

WHEREAS nonresident workers displace a substantial number of qualified, available, unemployed Alaska workers; and

WHEREAS section 8078 of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act contained requirements for local hire on Department of Defense contracts in Alaska; and

WHEREAS employment in the Aleutian Islands is intensely seasonal and the region suffers from the effects of the high unemployment rate; and

WHEREAS the Amchitka Island project of the Department of Defense is located in the Aleutian Islands;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Alaska State Legislature encourages the Department of Defense to comply with the Alaska hire provisions of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act; and be it

FURTHER RESOLVED that the legislature urges the Department of Defense to encourage residents of the Aleutian Islands to apply for work on the Amchitka Island project and to give preference to them in hiring for the project.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19
IN THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA
FIFTEENTH LEGISLATURE - FIRST SESSION

Relating to resident hire on a United States
Department of Defense project at Amchitka Island.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

WHEREAS the rate of unemployment among residents of the state is one of the highest in the nation; and

WHEREAS the number of state residents who are unable to find work is considerably higher than is reflected by unemployment rates based on nationally accepted measures, in part because many rural state residents who wish to work do not seek employment as frequently as necessary to meet federal definitions of unemployment because of continuing lack of employment opportunities in rural areas of the state; and

WHEREAS chronic unemployment leads to severe social problems including alcoholism and domestic violence; and

WHEREAS the state has one of the highest ratios of nonresident to resident workers in the nation; and

WHEREAS nonresident workers displace a substantial number of qualified, available, unemployed Alaska workers; and

WHEREAS section 8078 of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act contained requirements for local hire on Department of Defense contracts in Alaska; and

WHEREAS employment in the Aleutian Islands is intensely seasonal and the region suffers from the effects of the high unemployment rate; and

WHEREAS the Amchitka Island project of the Department of Defense is located in the Aleutian Islands;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Alaska State Legislature encourages the Department of Defense to comply with the Alaska hire provisions of the 1986 Defense Appropriations Act; and be it

FURTHER RESOLVED that the legislature urges the Department of Defense to encourage residents of the Aleutian Islands to apply for work on the Amchitka Island project and to give preference to them in hiring for the project.
