HEALTH, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL SERVICES COMMITTEE

ALASKA STATE LEGISLATURE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

P.O. BOX V, JUNEAU 99811

M E M O R A N D U M

TO: The Honorable Ron Larson and
The Honorable Lyman Hoffman
Co-chairs, House Finance Committee

FROM: Rep. Johnny Ellis J.E.

RE: HB 66, establishing the Alaska Commission on Children and Youth

DATE: March 7, 1989

I respectfully request that you schedule a hearing on HB 66 at your earliest convenience. The House Health, Education, and Social Services Committee passed out this bill on March 1st and it has been transmitted to the House Finance Committee.

The state of Alaska is in great need of a comprehensive approach in addressing the current needs of its young people. HB 66 will create an eleven member board to help bridge the gap between the needs of our youth and the formulation of remedies to solve the many problems that now exist. Areas of concern include youth employment, mental health, general and special education, social services, and parent/staff training.

CSHB 66 (HESS) will appropriate $208,400 of general funds towards the staffing and operating needs of the Commission. In addition, bill provisions allow for supplementary funding from both federal and outside sources. The House HESS Committee has carefully debated the merits of HB 66, and our CS has reduced the original fiscal note while expanding by four persons the number of public members on the board. This enlargement will enable the Commission to broaden its effectiveness with a more extensive input base from the public sector.

The committee has also fine-tuned portions of HB 66's original language to better suit the overall purpose of this legislation to promote a comprehensive, affordable approach.

The Commission's role is to identify problem areas pertinent to our youth and promote channels of remedy through recommendations and direct support. HB 66 is an effort to offer a better quality of life and a brighter future for our most important future resource, the young people of Alaska.

RE: CSHB 66 "An Act establishing the Alaska Commission on Children and Youth; abolishing the Office of Child Advocacy; and providing for an effective date."

NEA-Alaska supports and encourages passage of CSHB 66.

The Governor's Interim Commission on Children and Youth is a group that addresses many essential services to children. The original report was an excellent documentation of the many issues and problems relative to young people in Alaska.

The recognition of those problems is only a beginning, however, and we need a comprehensive and aggressive effort to deal with the solutions.

Obviously, during an economic decline stretching resources to meet increasing needs is not a simple task. The formation of the Commission on Children and Youth allows for the best priority of those needs and provides an effective advocate for them.

The most important reason for us to support the formation of the commission lies in the crucial need for coordination of services amidst the many agencies serving children.

This commission probably represents both the best effort at this coordination to date and the best hope for the future of such coordination and efficient delivery of services to children.

We continue our belief that a member of the commission needs to be a practicing classroom teacher, which we believe would further enhance the effectiveness of the group.

We encourage your expeditious and positive action on CSHB 66.

RE: Attached comments

During discussion of proposed foster care legislation in the House HESS Committee on March 9th, one of the young people in the audience passed me the attached comments. I was moved by his statement and wanted to share it with you. His remarks may have bearing on the legislation before you today, the establishment of a permanent Commission on Children and Youth.

The young man's name is Tony Boykin, he is a student at East High School in Anchorage, and he was one of a group of students in attendance as part of his participation in the CloseUp Program.

Thank you for your attention.

During the time I've sat here and listen to this meeting, I haven't heard anyone try or tell the kids side of it. Before you start making parallels and making any other moves, you should have your experts talk to kids because the things we kids tell other kids are the same things they will never tell a expert because an expert is not a friend but a person wanting to help so bad that they listen but don't feel the pain with the kid. In shorter words, the system doesn't work because the kids don't understand why there lives are controlled by rules and strangers that don't love them and only about how smoothly the system works. All I'm trying to say is talk to the kids and listen and feel.

INTERIM COMMISSION ON CHILDREN AND YOUTH

TO: Representative Johnny Ellis DATE: February 9, 1989
Chair
House HESS Committee

FROM: Carla Timpone SUBJECT: House Bill 66
Program Coordinator
GICCY

On behalf of the members of the Governor's Interim Commission on Children and Youth, I want to thank you and the members of the Committee for the prompt hearing on HB66, and for arranging statewide testimony on the bill. I know that all of those who testified appreciated the opportunity to do so, and the Commission appreciates the Committee's interest in this legislation.

I'd also like to take this opportunity to clarify several issues that were raised at the hearing. Regarding Representative Goll's inquiry related to the terms of appointed members and the Governor's authority to remove members (Section 2), the Department of Law has indicated that this is standard language in such legislation. In short, an appointed member may serve for three years unless the Governor chooses to have them removed. I have contacted Representative Goll regarding this clarification.

Representative Goll also questioned the language in Section 4 of the CS regarding "repealers." Section 4 repeals the statute which created the long defunct Office of Child Advocacy. As I told Representative Goll, Governor Cowper approves of this repeal in order to avoid duplication of services.

Section 3 of the CS adds the Alaska Commission on Children and Youth to the list of boards and commissions subject to the ethics code and repeals them when the Commission terminates on June 30, 1994.

Section 6 of the CS was included in the Interim Commission's original draft legislation. While the Interim Commission felt the new Commission should have the authority to review laws of the state, they did not want to absolutely require that that be accomplished; hence, use of the word "may" rather than "shall." This section requires that if such a review is done, a report must be submitted.

Commission Chair Patty Meritt, Vice Chair Peter Scales, Special Assistant Caren Robinson, and I discussed the suggestions made related to inclusion of the word "family" in the title of the bill, and the addition of language related to appointment of youth to the Commission. Although these specific issues were not discussed by the full Commission in this context, we would recommend that neither suggestion be incorporated.

Broadening the scope of the Commission's work to include all issues related to "families" would require significantly more resources than are provided for in the bill and the accompanying fiscal note. In addition, we hesitate to change the focus of the Commission's primary concern - children and youth as individuals, as well as members of families and recipients of services.

Although there were several concerns addressed regarding appointment of young people to the Commission, the Commission has heard much testimony about this issue and the suggestion certainly has merit. We have found, however, that the input we have received from young people, in settings where they are outside of the "system", has been extraordinarily valuable. Among other things, we are concerned that having appointed spokespersons would negatively impact the quality, credibility, and degree of that input.

Perhaps an acceptable compromise would be to include language in the bill that more clearly speaks to the need to solicit input from young people, rather than just including them in the listing of people with whom the Commission should consult.

Finally, the Commission feels strongly that the fiscal note for HB66, including additional travel funds for an increased number of public members, is reasonable and conservative and reflects the funding necessary for the Commission to fulfill its duties and responsibilities. As you know, boards and commissions can be easily rendered ineffective if they are not provided adequate funding. The Commission feels that this relatively small investment is more than justified given the important work the Commission will accomplish and the challenges with which it will be faced.

Thank you, and the members of the Committee, for your continued support and interest in children's issues. Please feel free to contact me if you'd like anything additional.

Dear Commissioners,

I was recently informed that the Commission is taking testimony on the Governor's proposal to form a permanent Children and Youth Commission.

As a Child Care Provider, DCAP Administrator and President of the Day Care Administrators Association of Alaska, I whole heartedly support the concept of a permanent Commission.

However, My understanding at this time is that the Commission will be composed of 7 members. I would rather see a larger Commission - to fairly represent the many factions of child care issues. It has been suggested a 9 member ~~commission~~ would enable us better representation. I agree with the 9 member suggestion.

SUBJECT: Service at the pleasure of the governor
 (HB 66)

TO: Representative Johnny Ellis
 Attn: Jim Nordlund

FROM: Terri Lauterbach TL
 Legislative Counsel

You have asked whether the phrase "at the pleasure of the governor" broadens the power of the governor to dismiss members of boards and commissions beyond what would exist if a statute merely said the members were "appointed by" the governor.

I have not found any helpful cases on this matter. I have found many statutes that explicitly state that members of a particular board or commission serve at the pleasure of the governor. I therefore think that if it is important to the legislature that the governor be able to remove an appointee at will that the pertinent legislation include the phrase "at the pleasure of the governor." If it is important to the legislature that a member be removed only for cause, then the legislation should state that instead.

If I may be of further assistance, please let me know.

Dear Johnny,

Unfortunately, a prior commitment prevented me from testifying at yesterday's hearing on the Interim Commission on Children and Youth. I wanted, however, to voice my support for establishing the Commission as a permanent body.

During the past year, the Commission has been very successful in focusing public attention on youth programs in Alaska. Covenant House, as all other programs dealing with youth and family issues in our state, has benefitted from this increase in public awareness.

The Commission is an excellent vehicle for discussing and promoting solutions for the many problems facing Alaskan youth and their families. I urge you and your colleagues to enact legislation which will make the Commission a permanent body within our system of human services.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Fred Ali

RE: Permanent Commission for Children & Youth

I would like to encourage the Legislature to establish a permanent Commission for Children & Youth for the State of Alaska. The State of Alaska should be proud of the gains made by the present Commission regarding services for children/youth thus far.

As a social worker and educator I feel strongly that this Commission continue to be an advocate for children, adolescents and teenagers. The issues affected this group needs to stay out in the forefront. Too often, other issues, other concerns popular to the legislature/state take priority and children's needs are left out. Who else is there to advocate for them? Taking a hard look at the issues involved in dysfunctional families, for example, alcoholism, sexual abuse, emotional and physical abuse. Taking the steps necessary to provide services for the children in these families alone, can save the state thousands of dollars in the long run. It has been proven that these children grow up to be dysfunctional adults and are highly represented in first the juvenile justice system then on to adult corrections, alcohol treatment centers, etc. We have the research available now that tells us what to do to help children and youth and how to provide the healthiest environment for their growth. We need additional research to ensure the information is specific to the cultures of Alaska. We need interested members from the public to help address these issues and work with State Departments to ensure quality services for children. I would recommend 6 members from the general public (representation from each region in the state), and 3 from State Departments.

Please invest in the future of Alaska's children and establish a permanent Commission on Children and Youth.

Thank you.

REC'D FEB 10 1989

Dear Rep. Ellis:

The Alaska Association of Homes for Children wishes to support the establishment of an Alaska Commission on Children and Youth as proposed in HB66. The Association strongly recommends that the Commission be enlarged to nine members with five of these members coming from the public.

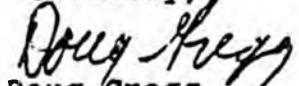

This recommendation comes from our belief that strong public support is a necessary ingredient to the successful implementation of any children's agenda. Having the majority of the Commission represented through public members would lend credibility to any such agenda developed by the commission. We also feel that there are many areas in the continuum of services that have not been represented on the present GICCY. Enlarging the Alaska Commission on Children and Youth would allow for a wider representation of the many services currently and that may be deemed necessary in the future to best serve our youth.

We would like to thank your subcommittee for their work and propose the following specific changes to HB66:

- a) pg. 1 line 17 change "three" to "five" public members
- b) pg. 1 line 23 change "two" to "three" members serve
- c) pg. 1 line 24 change "two" to "three" for two years
- d) pg. 4 line 1 insert the word "residential" in front of child care

If you have any questions regarding these proposed changes please contact Jody Engelman at 789-7610, Doug Gregg at 247-8463, or Sheila Gaddis at 274-6541.

Dear Representative Ellis,

I strongly urge the passage of HB 66, creating an Alaska Commission on Children and Youth.

There is one problem area in the original bill however. I believe the Commission would be much more effective and comprehensive if there were more public members, including youth.

Please consider adding at least two young people (one is not enough, they need peer support), and representatives from community based non-profit youth organizations who are working on the "prevention" areas.

I'm afraid that with predominantly governmental agencies represented on the commission, it would be focusing too heavily on the crisis intervention aspect of youth needs. Hope and progress lie in the prevention of crisis in the lives of our children. While more and better treatment may be necessary, it should not be the primary focus of this commission.

Sincerely,

Pat Shaw, Executive Director

The Northern Light United Church Community of Christian Women support the formation of a permanent Children's Commission. The State of Alaska funds commissions on Fish and Game, Cosmetology Licensing, Utilities, Aging, and many more. Creation of a Children's Commission is a morally responsible step because children cannot speak their own needs. Creation of this Commission is fiscally responsible because the identification of the needs of children and action on those needs may prevent a lifetime of social service costs.

STATE OF ALASKA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

January 9, 1989

The Honorable Sam Cotten
Speaker of the House
Alaska State Legislature
P.O. Box V
Juneau, AK 99811

Dear Representative Cotten:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to the establishment of the Alaska Commission on Children and Youth.

The bill establishes a commission to continue the work of the Governor's Interim Commission on Children and Youth, created by Administrative Order No. 97, dated June 11, 1987, and extended until May 15, 1989 by Administrative Order No. 108, dated April 20, 1988.

Under the bill, the commission on children and youth is created in the Office of the Governor and consists of four executive-branch members and three public members, to be chosen by the governor. The commission would be subject to the conflict of interest laws in AS 39.50. Section 1 of the bill.

The purpose of this advisory commission is to obtain information about resources available to serve children, youth, and families; to identify problem areas and needs; to make recommendations concerning the provision of quality services on behalf of children and youth; and to make recommendations to the governor, the legislature, and state officials based upon those findings.

The relatively small seven-member commission will benefit from the advantages of small-group productivity, and will ensure the maximum involvement of the executive branch while containing operational costs. Under the provisions of the bill, the commission is authorized to use the voluntary services of private persons and organizations. This capability will allow the commission to work with a large number of interested persons while retaining the efficiencies of a small body.

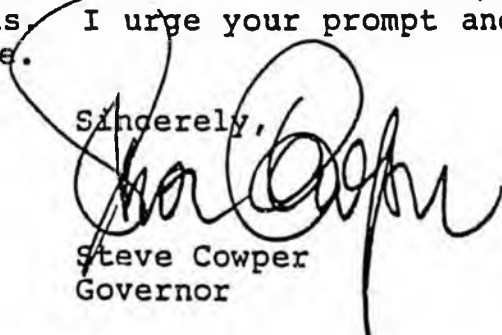

The commission is required to prepare an annual report to advise the governor and the legislature of recommended actions pertaining to children and youth. Additionally, the commission would have the authority to review the laws of the state pertaining to children. If it chooses to do so, a report of findings and recommendations must be filed by January 1, 1991.

The bill would take effect July 1, 1989, and sec. 3 of the bill automatically terminates the commission on June 30, 1994. It is intended that recommendations made by the commission would by then be well on their way to being an established part of state and private programs, and policy.

The bill also repeals AS 47.50.010 -- 47.50.050, which establish the Office of Child Advocacy in the Office of the Governor. Section 4 of the bill. The Office of Child Advocacy has not been funded for some time, and, if it were to be, its duties would largely duplicate the duties of the commission established in this bill.

This bill has been discussed extensively with the current Governor's Interim Commission on Children and Youth, and with commissioners of departments likely to be affected. The concept of a statutorily established commission has been supported by the Children's Caucus, the Alaska Federation of Natives, the Alaska branch of the National Education Association, KIDPAC, and the Older Alaskan's Commission, as well as many other organizations. I urge your prompt and favorable action on this measure.

Sincerely,

Steve Cowper
Governor
