ANALYSIS: There will be no fiscal impact for FY90. This fiscal note provides the resources to run a special program, to review cases with successful attempts to locate obligor and to mail notice of accruing liability. The Federal funding is computed IAW the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act, which set the Federal Financial Participation for child support programs at 64.846%.

REC'D MAR 15 1990

Dear Representative Goll:

Following up on your phone conversations with Ardith Lynch of our Division, we have had an opportunity to review HB 571 in light of the comments of the HESS committee and the public who testified last Tuesday.

Since the intent of the bill is to provide notification to obligors that the support rights for their child have been assigned to the State before a substantial AFDC liability accrues, we suggest that the scope of the bill be limited to cases in which support has been assigned to the State under AS 47.23.345. (As a practical matter, notice of the support obligation is also promptly given in other cases enforced by the agency; however, since arrears to the State do not accrue in non-AFDC cases, it is unnecessary to include them in the scope of HB 571.) To clarify that notice must be given regardless of whether a support order has been entered, we suggest that the language "delinquent in paying" should be deleted as indicated in the attached copy of HB 571.

We also suggest that 30-day notice not be required in cases in which the duty of support (i.e. paternity) has not been established. The agency is prohibited by AS 47.23.040 and Federal regulation from attempting to establish paternity in cases involving incest or forcible rape, when legal proceedings for adoption are pending, or when it would not be in the best interests of the child. Therefore, an exception to the notice requirement is necessary for these cases.

There is also a good policy reason to waive the notice requirement in all cases in which paternity has not been established. Before we file a paternity complaint, we obtain a sworn affidavit from the mother to verify the allegation of paternity. We could certainly notify putative fathers within 30 days on the basis of the minimal information provided with the AFDC application. However, since the new Federal program standards require the agency to serve paternity complaints within 90 days of locating the putative father, these potential obligors will receive timely notification. The slight additional delay to obtain detailed factual support for this serious allegation must be balanced against the potential disruption to an obligor which could be caused by an unsubstantiated claim.

Representative Peter Goll
March 12, 1990

Finally, to address the concern that obligors are unable to pay both the liability and the interest when there has been a delay in notice, we suggest that no interest accrue on the liability to the State if timely notice is not given, as stated in proposed subsection (b). AS 47.23.120 should be amended to provide that an obligor is liable for public assistance provided regardless of receipt of notice under AS 47.23.277. It then would read as follows:

AS 47.23.120. OBLIGOR LIABLE FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE FURNISHED OBLIGEE.

(a) An obligor is liable to the State in the amount of assistance granted under AS 47.25.310 - 47.25.420 to a child whom the obligor owes a duty of support except that if a support order has been entered, the liability of the obligor may not exceed the amount of support provided in the support order. An obligor is liable to the State regardless of receipt of notice under AS 47.23.277.

(b) An obligor is liable to the State in the amount of the cost incurred if the State is maintaining a child whom the obligor owes a duty of support in a foster home or institution, except that if a support order has been entered, or an agreement for payment of that cost executed between the obligor and the State, the liability of the obligor may not exceed the amount provided in the support order or agreement. An obligor is liable to the State regardless of receipt of notice under AS 47.23.277.

Sincerely,

Linda Langston

Subject: HB 571

Dear Johnny:

We have had an opportunity to review HB 571 in conjunction with the new Federal standards for program operations (45 CFR Part 232, 301 through 304, 306 and 307). The new Federal standards become effective for all States on October 1, 1990. They establish specific time frames for child support case actions that will now be uniform across the nation.

The new Federal rules stipulate a 90-day notice requirement, and we would like to recommend that that standard be adopted in HB 571. We also recommend that the bill, instead of adding a new section as AS 47.23.277, be entered as a new subsection (c) to AS 47.23.120. It then would read as follows:

AS 47.23.120. OBLIGOR LIABLE FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE FURNISHED OBLIGEE.

(a) An obligor is liable to the state in the amount of assistance granted under AS 47.25.310 - 47.25.420 to a child whom the obligor owes a duty of support. [except that] If a support order has been entered, the liability of the obligor may not exceed the amount of support provided [for] in the support order. An obligor is liable to the State regardless of receipt of notice under (c) of this section.

(b) An obligor is liable to the State in the amount of the cost incurred if the State is maintaining a child whom the obligor owes a duty of support in a foster home or institution, except that if a support order has been entered, or an agreement for payment of that cost executed between the obligor and the State, the liability of the obligor may not exceed the amount provided in the support order or agreement. An obligor is liable to the State regardless of receipt of notice under (c) of this section.

(c) An obligor who resides in the State shall be notified of the accruing liability for a child for whom a duty of support has been established within 90 days after the agency knows the identity and address of the obligor.

You will note that we have added language to clarify that the obligor's liability for support is not affected by the notice requirement, since it could be construed under HB 571 that the notice requirement imposes a 30-day statute of limitations on the State's right to recover support to offset the State's public assistance debt.

We thank you for the opportunity to comment and look forward to working with you on this bill.

Sincerely,

ATTENTION: HOUSE H.E.S.S.

H.B. 472 I strongly support this bill. This Bill will put the child support award system in to the democratic process.

In my opinion it is good policy for parents and elected officials to be directly involved in formulating child support laws.

H.B. 571 I strongly support this bill so that obligors will be notified when a duty of support begins accruing.

H.B. 538 and 539 I strongly support these bills. I believe that children have the right to have access to both parents and both parents have the right to access their children. This visitation project will benefit families and children by providing mediation for visitation problems.

I am a member of the Alaska Support Group.

Dear Representative Ellis and members of House HESS:

I had the opportunity to listen in on the discussion on HB 571, and the clarification regarding the intent of directing this bill towards absent parents who are accruing a debt to AFDC. The Women's Commission supports the speedy notification to absent parents who do not have a child support order in place and who are accruing a debt to AFDC. It is, of course, incumbent upon that parent to respond in a timely manner.

The Women's Commission strongly supports HB513. This legislation is long overdue. Many youth are in school at age 19. Completion of their education is our first concern.

Regarding HB472, the Women's Commission at their meeting on Mar 2 and 3 in Anchorage, made a decision not to support HB472. Last year I observed the court appointed child support guidelines committee. This committee took extensive testimony and carefully addressed all issues. A review of their committee notes would easily persuade you of this. There were good reasons for their decisions and the process was cost effective for the State.

Only the court has the opportunity of actually knowing both sides of the story. The obligors have been very vocal. It is my experience from years of working in the domestic violence field that where there is ongoing harassment in relation to custody and support there is often past or present violence or threats. We are only hearing one side of the story at these hearings. Custodial parents rarely feel able or safe to testify. If guidelines are decided legislatively, I believe that we will not have a fair and balanced process because we will only hear from obligors.

The present guidelines, with allowance for special case exceptions, provide for adequate support if the non-custodial parent is working. They are not high compared to other states. One of the problems that is most often brought up is second families. Some non-custodial parents who have been paying low support amounts have suddenly, through a modification, had their obligation increased. This problem will decline with time as all new awards are determined by 90.3 and non-custodial parents do not therefore experience large changes in their obligations.

Notify Obligor within 30 Days

RECOMMENDATION 37:

THE TASK FORCE RECOMMENDS THAT IN CASES WHERE THE UNCONTESTED IDENTITY AND THE ADDRESS WITHIN ALASKA OF THE NON-CUSTODIAL PARENT ARE KNOWN, THE CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT DIVISION MUST NOTIFY OBLIGORS THAT A SUPPORT OBLIGATION HAS BEEN ACCRUING BECAUSE OF NON-PAYMENT OF COURT-ORDERED SUPPORT AND/OR BECAUSE OF PAYMENT OF AID TO FAMILIES WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN BENEFITS FOR WHOM THE PARENT HAS A DUTY OF SUPPORT, WITHIN 30 DAYS AFTER THE DATE THAT THESE FACTS BECOME KNOWN TO THE DIVISION.

Issue

Sometimes government agencies take a long time to notify non-custodial parents that the custodial parent of their children is receiving AFDC benefits. Because of this, non-custodial parents can build a large debt to the state without knowing that the debt is being incurred, with interest. How can this be avoided?

FSA Criteria

The Act strengthens the relationship between the public assistance and Child Support Enforcement agencies, both of which operate on the assumption that parents are responsible for the support of their children, even if they don't live in the same house.

AFDC benefits can sometimes be viewed as child support payments paid by the government on behalf of the non-custodial parent. Just because the parents don't make the payments doesn't mean they are not still responsible for some or all of the payments. Therefore AFDC cash benefits can be considered a loan to the non-custodial parent, which must be repaid, with interest. This debt and interest accrual begins when the first AFDC check is issued for a parent's children.

Therefore when single parents apply for AFDC, they must provide the name and address of the children's other parent, so that child support payments can be collected to offset the government-paid AFDC benefits. The government then notifies the non-custodial parent that the other parent is receiving AFDC benefits for their children and that a debt is therefore developing.

Rationale

Neither the Act nor existing regulations provide guidelines for when the State must notify the non-custodial parents that costs are being incurred for which they are responsible. This recommendation provides a reasonable time frame. The intent is to allow the non-custodial parent as much time as possible to repay or make plans for repaying AFDC debts.

9 * Section 1. AS 47.23.120 is amended by adding new subsections to read:

10 (c) Within 30 days after the agency knows the identity and 11 address of an obligor who resides in the state and who is liable to 12 the state under this section, the agency shall send written notifica-
13 tion to the obligor of the obligor's accruing liability. The notice
14 required under this subsection must be in clear, concise, and easily
