ALASKA WORK HISTORY

February 1984 to Present. Deputy Commissioner, Department of Natural Resources.

December, 1983 to Feb '85. A founder and partner of Capital Information Group, a firm established to report to clients on activities in the State Administration and in the Alaska Legislature. Set up BOOKS of the new firm as the first managing partner and established procedures for client contact and agreements. During the Legislative session covered tort reform, telecommunications issues, resources issues and cable television issues. Monitored hearings and provided indepth reports or newsletters as required by the client. During the interim, continued reporting services on State agency activities.

June, 1983 to December, 1985 Policy Analyst, Division of Governmental Coordination, Office of the Governor. Functioned as Special Projects Analyst for issues such as Exclusive Economic Zone, the Outer Continental Shelf, and the ANILCA related issues. Staffed for the Land Use Advisors Committee and the Land Use Council. Also spent some time working for the Southeast Regional Office doing specific project analysis for permitting purposes, coordinating the State agency positions on projects and issuing coastal consistency determinations.

December, 1982 to June, 1983. Special Assistant to the Governor of Alaska for resource issues. Coordinated positions of resource agencies and facilitated correspondence for the Governor's Office with resource agencies. Acted as liaison for resource constituent groups and Governor's Office contact for citizens with concerns regarding resource issues. Established and chaired mini-cabinet on Resources. This forum was used for interagency discussion and decision making on resource issues, major projects, and state responses to federal initiatives. Issues not decided in this forum were prepared for gubernatorial decision. Staffed for the Governor at the National Governors' Association and Western Governor's Association as well as trips to Washington, D.C. for purposes of meeting with Federal Cabinet members on Alaskan issues. 212

July, 1978 to December, 1982 Special Assistant to the Commissioner of Natural Resources for oil and gas issues. Acted as liaison between the Commissioner's Office and industry and the public. Staffed for the Commissioner in negotiations for royalty oil contracts, development of oil and gas lease sales and schedules, development of royalty oil policy and regulations. Coordinated the first competitive royalty oil sale ever held in Alaska. Represented the Department of Natural Resources in interagency meetings for the formulation of state positions on resources issues. 4

Developed a Village Contact Program and rural offices program for the Department of Natural Resources to provide information to the rural areas regarding the State's five-year oil and gas lease program and other departmental programs affecting rural and coastal areas. In cooperation with other resources departments, established the first North Slope Office for monitoring state permitted activities. Conducted public hearings in coastal communities regarding departmental activities including seismic permits, oil and gas lease sales, and seasonal drilling.

August, 1975 to July, 1978. Secretary to the Commissioner of Natural Resources. In a department with all divisions located outside of the capital city, was responsible for the smooth flow of communications between the Commissioner's Office and departmental divisions. Division Directors and the Commissioner relied heavily upon me for transfer of information. Involved in the EEO program for the Department and worked extensively with the divisions on the department EEO plan. Provided clerical training and supervision for participants in youth employment program. Supervised Commissioner's office secretarial staff. 5

1974. Alaska Lieutenant Governor's Office, Administrative Assistant III, Division of Elections. Responsible for budget preparation as well as all other fiscal and personnel work for the Division of Elections. Responsible for mock-up and printing of ballots and details surround first use of data vote equipment in Alaska. This included securing computers, state office buildings, ballots, and polls, and security across the State.

1970 - 1974. Office of the Governor of Alaska, Secretary to the Administrative Assistant to the Governor. Served as backup for the Governor's secretary and as final proofreader for all correspondence sent from the Governor's Office. Worked closely with the Administrative Assistant on correspondence and Governor's Office procedures, including Executive and Administrative Orders.

1970. Office of the Governor of Alaska, Secretary to the Director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Head secretary for the Division responsible for youth and adult employment programs across the State. Worked on verification of time sheets and payroll processing. In addition to secretarial duties.

August, 1965 to August, 1966. Alaska Department of Health and Social Services, Anchorage. Responsible for all administrative and clerical duties for two public health advisors. Worked with principals in establishing a control system for immunizations, and with Kodiak public health officials on post-earth quake health concerns.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY:

March 1962 to December 30, 1985 STATE OF ALASKA
ALASKA DEPARTMENT OF FISH & GAME
GAME DIVISION

At the beginning of employment with the State my position was that of Fish and Game Aide. This consisted of performing the following duties:

Under general direction, conduct ground and aerial game surveys of deer, elk, bear, goat, caribou and moose. Collect and preserve specimens used for reproduction and aging studies from elk, deer, bear and caribou. Conduct hunter surveys, analyze and compute harvest data including sex and age composition of deer and elk from analysis of the lower mandibles. Participate in the bear-cattle program, including predator control, determination of the extent of predation, public relations and capturing and tagging brown bears. Conduct range surveys to determine the trend and utilization of key plants used by elk. Conduct winter mortality surveys to determine its effect on elk and deer populations. Assist in transplant of elk and moose including capturing and caring for the young animals until their release. Recommend regulation changes pertaining to Unit 8 to my immediate supervisor.

As the Department grew in management techniques and responsibilities and the hunt pressure increased so did the responsibilities of my position resulting in a new job classification.

July 1970-December 30, 1985 FISH AND GAME TECHNICIAN V

The main purpose of this position was to assist the Area Game Biologist in all phases of game management duties in the Kodiak area. In his absence assume all the responsibilities of the Area Game Biologist.

Primarily, duties consisted of setting up and accomplishing the mammal inventories and aerial and ground surveys. Issue permits and harvest tickets for hunts in Alaska; inform hunters as to where, when and how to hunt on Kodiak. Continual elk and deer range evaluations to determine the condition of the winter food supply. Collecting data and specimens from various animals. Answer correspondence from the public on securing permits, licenses, and other information on hunting, viewing, photographing wildlife on Kodiak and adjacent islands in GMU 8. Also during the open hunt seasons went on enforcement patrols which required checking hunters for licenses and permits. Conducted winter mortality transects for deer and elk. This work consisted of in the field inspections of key winter areas; searching the area for deer/elk carcasses; determine sex and age, physical conditions and cause of death. When time permitted I also gave talks to civic groups, school classes, sportsmans groups on hunting and wildlife management programs. Attend all meetings held by the public and speak on game regulations and policies in an effort to secure public support for our programs; inform people on regulations and laws. There was also the need for capturing of live animals, use of drugs in the captures and utilizing other marking equipment.

Because of the close work with the public and the Kodiak/Afognak/Shuyak area guides it was extremely important to have a knowledge of the State and Federal laws and Alaska State Game Regulations. In this way it was easier to to make recommendations to the staff regarding changes in the hunting and trapping regulations that the public and guides were most concerned about. Then these regulation changes would be recommend to the Board of Game.

December 1941 - November 1961 Chief Boatswain's Mate
U.S. NAVY, deck supervisor, various responsibilities in connection with maintaining, seamanship, gunnery, navigation, boat handling, marlin spike seamanship and training junior officers of the deck-duties.

March 1956 - July 1958

U.S. Deputy Game Warden, Game and fish patrol on road system of Kodiak.

During my employment with the State of Alaska I also assisted in various wildlife projects throughout the State. These projects are listed below:

Southeastern Alaska - elk transplant in the summers of 1962 and 1963.

Alaska Peninsula - moose and bear hunt monitoring in winter 1967.

Kenai Peninsula - collect biological specimens from moose kills early 70's.

Point Hope/Kotzebue - monitoring polar bear hunts, data and specimen collection for polar bear research teams. Also collected wolf specimens for research teams in Fairbanks.
Winters of 1969 and 1970.

Amchitka - live capturing of sea otters for reintroduction into Washington Oregon and other parts of Alaska. Late 60's.

Administered the Guide Test to individuals in Kodiak in 1962 and 1963 then mailed to Anchorage for correction and evaluation.

EXPERIENCE:

Natural Resource Manager II (March 1, 1988 to present)

Alaska Department of Natural Resources, Division of Oil and Gas (DO&G) 3601 C. Street, Anchorage, Alaska

In addition to duties described below, I am now providing staff support for Governor Cowper and Commissioner of Natural Resources Judith Brady in matters related to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission (IOCC). The IOCC is an organization of 29 producing states dedicated to the conservation of oil and gas; Governor Cowper is the current chairman of the IOCC. My principal functions include planning, coordinating and implementing the governor's IOCC goals and objectives, scheduling the governor's IOCC activities, planning meetings and preparing meeting agenda, writing letters for the governor's signature, preparing remarks for the governor, and interacting with other states' official representatives to IOCC and individuals doing business with IOCC, including Congressional staff and industry representatives.

Natural Resource Manager II (November 15, 1984 to present)

Natural Resource Manager I (September 15, 1984 to November 15, 1984)

Geologist III (January 1, 1984 to September 15, 1984)

Alaska Department of Natural Resources, Division of Oil and Gas (DO&G)

I currently manage DO&G's environmental analysis unit. My principal responsibilities include directing the division's environmental research effort in support of each state oil and gas lease sale; developing lease sale stipulations and permit terms; negotiating with other state and local agencies which offer comments and recommendations to modify proposed stipulations and permit terms to achieve concurrence; supervising the publication of the state's best interest finding and decision, and ACMP consistency determination for each state oil and gas lease sale; coordinating the acquisition of social, economic and environmental information for each lease sale; directing the division's public outreach program to educate local residents about oil and gas development; supervising the publication of the annual Five-Year Oil and Gas Leasing Program; and administering the state's seismic exploration permit and data acquisition program (MLUP Administration Project). I supervise four employees.

Duties of position required progressive upgrades from Geologist III to Natural Resource Manager II.

Geologist III (January 20, 1981 to January 1, 1984)

Alaska Department of Natural Resources, Division of Oil and Gas (DO&G)

Managed Alaska's MLUP Administration Project. This project coordinates all geophysical seismic exploration for oil and gas resources on state land. Principal responsibilities included review and approval of exploration plans, addressing environmental and legal issues and insuring compliance with state regulations governing oil and gas exploration, including submittal of geophysical data. Also, assisted in the review of lease operations and unit plans, and helped evaluate state land for oil and gas potential prior to a lease sale. Supervised one employee.

Managed own business (January 1, 1979 to January 20, 1981)

Provided expertise in the area of Arctic construction. Evaluated soils for proper foundation design and provided recommendations for appropriate construction methods. Prepared bid estimates and proposals for construction and assisted clients in obtaining necessary financing for their projects. Concurrently worked on Masters degree at University of Alaska.

Geologist (October 25, 1975 to January 1, 1979)

R&M Consultants, Inc., Box 2630, Fairbanks, Alaska

Drill rig geologist primarily devoted to soils and permafrost investigations, material site evaluations, and geotechnical studies. Responsible for the geologic logging of drill borings, and collecting of core samples. Results compiled in geotechnical reports, which company engineers used for facility design. Worked on projects throughout the state, including the Trans-Alaska Pipeline. Became head of field operations for R&M on its subsurface investigation of the Northwest Gas Line right-of-way. Additional experience in hard rock geology, mineral prospecting and aerial reconnaissance.

Geologist (September 1, 1975 to October 25, 1975)

U.S. Forest Service, Fort Missoula, Missoula, Montana

Researched geology and mining history of federal forest service lands in Montana to determine mineral potential. Concluding papers were published in Environmental Impact Statements, which outlined management alternatives for these lands.
