MEMORANDUM

TO: Senate State Affairs Committee Members

FROM: Senator Pat Pourchot, Chairman Pat

RE: SB 8, Women's Commission

DATE: January 18, 1989

Please find attached a draft committee substitute for SB 8, which is scheduled for committee action today at 1:30 p.m. The only change from the original bill is in Sec. 3 (page 2, line 5). The members' term of office has been reduced from five to three years.

The transitional provisions contained in Sec. 7 (page 3, lines 3-10) have not been changed. The Interim Women's Commission will expire June 30, 1989, which means its membership will be disbanded. The Governor will need to appoint members to serve on the reconstituted Alaska Women's Commission beginning July 1, 1989.

The Governor has the discretion to appoint new members or to reappoint members who are currently serving on the Interim Commission. All of the members appointed July 1 will serve staggered terms as specified under current law, which provides for three members to serve one-year terms, three members to serve two-year terms, and three members to serve three-year terms.

Also attached is information on the terms of office of other state boards and commissions.

The members of the Sixteenth Alaska Legislature honor Ralph Centoni, Craig Johnston, Gary Runa, Dale Cobb, Ann Gabler and Jeff Eastgate for their teamwork and quick, decisive action in saving the life of Cliff Cullings.

Early in the morning of Tuesday, September 13, 1988, Mr. Cullings was swimming in the Service High School pool. He lost consciousness and floated to the bottom of the pool. Mr. Centoni noticed this and dove in and pulled Mr. Cullings to the side of the pool. He called to Craig Johnston, the lifeguard, who was able to lift him out of the pool. Mr. Cullings' heart stopped soon after. Mr. Johnson commenced CPR along with Gary Runa, a swimmer at the pool.

Five minutes later, Firefighter Dale Cobb appeared and stood by while Mr. Johnston and Mr. Runa continued the CPR. Eight minutes after Mr. Cullings lost consciousness, Paramedics Ann Gabler and Jeff Eastgate arrived. Because Mr. Cullings had no pulse, they used paddles carrying a mild electric shock to get his heart beating. He soon had a pulse and continued to improve.

Although Mr. Cullings spent several days in a coma, he recovered fully. Had it not been for the excellent work of all the people involved in his rescue, that would probably not have been the case.

The Sixteenth Alaska Legislature salutes Ralph Centoni, Gary Runa, Dale Cobb, Craig Johnston, Jeff Eastgate and Ann Gabler for their heroic actions.

Dear Ms. Anderson:

Good news! This afternoon the Senate State Affairs Committee approved Senate Bill 8, which would extend the Alaska Women's Commission through 1993. As chairman of the committee, I scheduled SB 8 as our first order of business because I strongly believe that the function the commission serves is vital.

As you know, legislation to continue the commission failed to receive approval last session. However, the Governor continued the commission administratively through the end of this legislative session to allow the legislature time to act on a statutory continuation.

SB 8 is now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee. The bill has 13 co-sponsors here in the Senate and a similar bill is moving through on the House side as well. I am hoping for quick passage this session and will keep you posted as progress is made.

Sincerely,

MY TURN

Alaska Women's Commission

By SUE E. MILLER

Was proposed legislation to permanently reestablish the Alaska Women's Commission, (A.W.C.), on a fast track in the legislature to avoid public debate and participation?

There are three good reasons that would indicate that the answer is "yes": first, because the commission doesn't represent all women, second because the public spoke last year loudly and clearly that it did not want the commission and so it ceased to exist, and third, because it is not a commission, but a political action group which takes positions on bills contrary to the views of mainstream women. As an example, the Alaska Women's Commission presents the agenda of the National Organization for Women (N.O.W.), which has a stated nationwide membership of less than 200,000.

Most women hold views similar to organizations such as Concerned Women for America, with a stated national membership of 500,000 women.

The fact that A.W.C. does not represent the views of most Alaskan women can be seen by studying last year's election results and the H.E.S.S. report that 57 percent of women in the state who testified at the H.E.S.S. hearing last year were in opposition to the commission.

The A.W.C. would have you believe that they represent the views of the majority of women; this is simply not true. Their stated purposes of research, advocacy and education are geared toward one ideology: i.e. FOR ERA, FOR pay equity (unequal pay for equal work), FOR gender based insurance (which raises the premiums of the more careful woman driver), FOR licensing of all child care providers (which takes away your freedom of choice)? In the past they have openly supported abortion and homosexual/lesbian "rights." See the commission's status reports, 1983/85.

So we ask, why are our elected officials attempting to placate a minority of women who act not as a commission but as a political action group?

We question: is the political process being rigged to ensure that only the voice of feminist leaning women is being heard?

In fact we question a commission that purports to be nonpartisan and impartial that presently contains only Democrats and nonpartisans (no Republicans).

We question why Sen. Pat Pourchot, chair of Senate State Affairs Committee, used obvious maneuvers to rush this bill out of his committee the first three days his committee met. Was the rush in order to slip it by the public and deny them equal opportunity for input?

Why are his and other legislators' office staffs telling the public there is no fiscal note to this bill, implying no cost, instead of informing the public that there is a line item cost in the governor's budget of nearly a third of a million dollars?

Why are our elected officials (legislators and governor) insisting that the A.W.C. be implemented and funded when the Budget and Audit Committee recommended two years ago that it be abolished, based on the fact that the results could not be measured (we were not getting anything for our money)? Mainstream women who spoke loudly and clearly that they did not want the Women's Commission were shocked when Governor Cowper said that he would establish an interim commission regardless of their 10-year battle to be heard.

They decided that if the Commission was going to be forced on them, they would seek a hearing from the governor and his chief of staff, with a proposal that would make the commission responsive and accountable to all women. A task force was formed. Before he signed the present interim commission into existence, numerous timely attempts to gain an appointment to present this alternate proposal were made. (A hearing was never allowed.)

So the question remains, why did the governor's office deny the Task Force of Advocates for Women access in order to present an alternate proposal for a representative commission?

Why haven't legislators and the Governor run polls like the Dittman poll in Kenai last year whereby it was learned that 70 percent of the Kenai population were opposed to the commission? Are they afraid to discover the reason for the controversy? That the present commission is seen as a political action committee, which advocates for only one particular legislative position, seen as extreme and discriminatory to the very women they say they represent?

Are they afraid to let the public know they are funding a lobbying group?

Why hasn't it been noted or reported that all four legislators who voted or stood against the commission last year were all reelected?

One woman stated, "The governor and legislature are not only telling us we want something we don't want, but they say they're going to institute taxes to see that we pay for what we don't want."

If you don't think the Women's Commission should be reestablished, call 465-4648 and ask that your message of opposition to the two bills that would reinstate it, SB8 and HB 56, be sent to all legislators.

If you think there should be a commission but more representative of all women, you could support the amendments offered both committees or ask for a new proposal to be heard. Better hurry, before your chance to be heard evaporates in the rush.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Senate State Affairs Committee Members

FROM: Senator Pat Pourchot, Chairman Pat

RE: January 16 Committee Meeting

DATE: January 13, 1989

On Monday, January 16, at 1:30 p.m. in the Beltz Room, the Senate State Affairs Committee will hear the following bills.

SB 8, Relating to the Alaska Women's Commission; extending the date of the Interim Women's Commission.

SB 8 reestablishes the Alaska Women's Commission through June 1993. Last session the legislature failed to act on legislation to continue the commission beyond its June 30, 1987 sunset date. However, the legislature approved funds in the state operating budget for the commission along with intent language directing the Governor to continue the commission administratively. The commission presently exists as the Interim Women's Commission through the end of this legislative session.

SB 8 has a zero fiscal note, as funding for the commission is contained in the Governor's proposed FY 90 operating budget.

The Women's Commission was established in 1978 to improve the status of women in Alaska by conducting research and by making and implementing recommendations on the opportunities, needs, problems, and contributions of women in Alaska.

SB 49, Extending the termination date of the Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault.

SB 49 extends the Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (CDVSA) through June 30, 1993. The bill has a zero fiscal note, as funding for the council is contained in the Governor's proposed FY 90 operating budget. A copy of the sunset audit, which recommends continuation of CDVSA, is attached.

The CDVSA was established within the Department of Public Safety in 1981 to provide for planning and coordination of services to victims and perpetrators of domestic violence or sexual assault and to provide for crisis intervention and prevention programs.

SECTIONAL ANALYSIS

SB 8        An Act relating to the Alaska Women's Commission; extending the termination date of the Interim Women's Commission; and providing for an effective date.

- Sec. 1-4    Delete obsolete language related to the appointment of the initial commission in 1978.
- Sec. 5       Extends the Alaska Women's Commission through June 30, 1993.
- Sec. 6       Extends the termination date of the Interim Women's Commission from the end of the 1989 legislative session to June 30, 1989.
- Sec. 7       Provides that the appointees to the reestablished commission will serve staggered terms as provided in current law. Clarifies that the reestablished commission is a continuation of the Interim Commission with respect to rights, assets, and liabilities.
- Sec. 8-10   Effective date clause.

from Women's Commission Dec. 1988 Status Report

Commission Adopts FY89 Action Plan

In keeping with its mandate to improve the status of women through research, advocacy, and education, the Commission has adopted the following Action Plan for FY89 (July 1, 1988 - June 30, 1989).

ADVOCACY

Legislative Platform: Re-establishment of the Alaska Women's Commission, and amending the divorce and dissolution laws to secure economic equity for Alaska's women and children.

Women's Consortium: Strengthen the network of statewide women's organizations, other agencies, and individuals who work on legislative issues of importance to women.

RESEARCH

Update the socio-economic status of women based on data from the Alaska Permanent Fund and the Department of Labor.

EDUCATION

1. Develop a Women's Calendar that will include dates of regional, statewide, and national conventions; special events in Alaska; key dates in women's history; famous women's birthdays; and political dates.

2. Publish a pamphlet on Divorce and Dissolution for women. The pamphlet will address legal issues and highlight points to consider so that the divorce process is fair and equitable.

3. Update the Directory of Women's Organizations. The directory lists each statewide and local women's organization, its purpose, an address, phone number, and contact person.

4. Catalog the Women's Commission library to make it more accessible to the public as a reference library.

5. Publish the Commission's newsletter, STATUS REPORT, which covers Commission activities and issues of importance to Alaska women.

6. Publish a series of papers celebrating the ethnic richness of Alaska's women. The papers will recount moments of historical significance and highlight exceptional women of that culture.

7. Continue information and referral services to the public.

8. Co-sponsor the Staying Power Phase II Women's Conference. See related story in this issue.

Paula Ziegler, Chair, Juneau, was first appointed to the Commission in 1986 and chaired the Legislative Committee during 1987. She is former state president and lobbyist of the League of Women Voters. Ziegler also serves on the state council of her church, and is employed at an art gallery. She is the Commission's principal volunteer lobbyist.

Joy Green-Armstrong, Vice-Chair, Anchorage, is an account administrator with IBM. She serves as the Commission's representative on the Anchorage School District (ASD) Female Minority Leadership Committee, and was recently elected vice-chair of the ASD's Minority Educational Concerns Committee. Green-Armstrong is the mother of two and is active in school, church and community organizations. She and her husband also volunteer time with Little League and The Alaska Parent-Youth Foundation.

Loretta Bullard, Nome, is a planner with Kawerak, Inc., a non-profit organization that provides socio-economic and educational services to the Bering Straits Region. She is the mother of a five-year-old daughter. As a member of the Commission, she brings an understanding of the issues and interests of rural women. Bullard serves on the Advisory Council for Northwest College and is a former officer of Native Women of Alaska, Anchorage Chapter.

Linda Freed, Kodiak, is the Director of the Community Development Department for the Kodiak Island Borough. She is an active community volunteer, formerly serving on the boards of the Kodiak Women's Resource and Crisis Center and the Kodiak Broadcasting Corporation. Currently, she is a member of the KWRCC's Program and Finance Committees, and is recording secretary for the AAUW. Freed is also a founder of the Kodiak Women's Network, and is a member of the Kodiak Arts Council and the Kodiak Council on Alcoholism.

Merritt Helfferich, College, was recently appointed to the Interim Women's Commission to fill a vacancy left by Kris Chatfield. He has filled a variety of positions at the University of Alaska-Fairbanks since 1966, and is currently the Associate Director of Administration at the Geophysical Institute, UAF. Helfferich is an avid traveler and photographer, and is active in many community organizations including WIC-CA and the Alaska Women's Lobby.

Rebecca Napoleon, Hooper Bay, was recently appointed to the Interim Women's Commission to fill a vacancy left by Mary Pete. She is the Acting Manager of the Paimiut Corporation, and is currently conducting research on "Women's Role in Yupik Society: Past to Present." She is also a volunteer with the Hooper Bay Alcoholic Program and Youth Advocate. Napoleon is a regional board member of the Lower Yukon School District, and is working locally and regionally on a program to develop self-awareness in individuals and in society in general.

Pat Kennedy, Anchorage, is a state attorney and ex-officio member of the Commission appointed by the Attorney General. She is a licensed foster parent for long-term shelter placements. She also serves on the Board of Governors for the Alaska Bar Association. Kennedy is also affiliated with numerous social and civic organizations in the Anchorage area.

Betty Ramage, Anchorage, is an attorney, and as the former chair of the Commission, has been very active in its operations. She was the chair of the Commission-sponsored "Women's Legal Rights Conference" in 1987. Ramage is a member of the Alaska Women's Lobby and remains active in legislative issues. She is married and expecting her third child.

Wendy Redman, Fairbanks, is director of government relations for the University of Alaska statewide system. She has been active in community groups and women's organizations for years. She founded the Women's Center at the University of Alaska-Fairbanks. As a member of the Commission, Redman has been active in promoting its legislative proposals. She has two children.

Susan Smalley, Kenai, is a former teacher and current volunteer in the Kenai schools. She is a member of the United Methodist Church statewide planning committee, and also helped establish the local chapter of League of Women Voters and served as president of it for two years. She currently coordinates a "parents day out" program at her church. Smalley is married and has two sons.

Senate State Affairs Committee
The Alaska State Legislature

Mister Chairman, Members of the Committee:

My name is Vicky Borrego. I represent the League of Women Voters of Alaska. The League supports the extension of the Alaska Women's Commission as an autonomous board, adequately funded to fulfill its vital role as the primary advocate on women's issues in Alaska. For more than a decade, the Commission has been the voice raising the issues and the consciousness of Alaskans about the problems and concerns of women. The Commission has addressed such issues as pay equity, access to child care, to decent housing, to health care and championed legal rights -- a entire range of issues that has served the Alaskan woman.

The Commission has been in the forefront on issues leading to positive change in the lives of women. It has been an agent for change by celebrating the contributions of women, by sharing insights and experiences and by doing so, providing role models for future generations. The Commission's work and advocacy has given Alaskan women a better sense of themselves. Women traditionally have been the caregivers and nurturers of others. We have not always been supportive of other women or known how to work together toward common interests. Through the Alaska Women's Commission and others, we have learned how to use networks of professional and individual resources to begin conquering ignorance, inequality and illegality. We are learning to give support to other women and to respect and appreciate each others' skills, talents and abilities. All Alaskans have benefited.

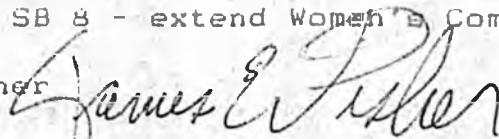

The job of the Alaska Women's Commission is not done. The League of Women Voters believes the issues are as urgent, as pressing as they have always been -- domestic violence, adequate funding for child care, and equal opportunity for women. These issues and many others must continue to be addressed by an independent commission. We all know solutions will not be accomplished overnight. The League asks you to give new life to the Alaska Women's Commission by extending it as an independent commission and making it a permanent body.

Thank you for this opportunity to present our views.

TO: SENATE STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Subject: Need to pass SB 8 - extend Women's Commission

From: James E. Fisher

As a long term observer and participant in Alaskan society, I urge passage of SENATE BILL 8, to extend the Women's Commission, in substantially its present structure.

In this age when women urgently need to work (I REPEAT, URGENTLY NEED TO WORK) outside the home, to maintain their families and themselves, it is imperative this state have the services of an agency staffed and structured as the Women's Commission. The economics of this age have thrust upon us a situation where over 80% of our families no longer fit the more traditional family pattern of husband, wife, who specializes in being a housewife, and children.

We men, who have not been single parent household heads, are probably almost always inaccurate in understanding "women's problems". Those women who operate under the stress of such a family situation probably have neither the energy or time remaining, after caring for families and themselves, to communicate, how their condition affects us. Unless some reasonably accurate information on the status of American families is available, we will be unable to adequately prepare the next, and succeeding generations, to assume their responsibilities.

Adequate understanding of the condition of half of our population, women, must come from inquiries of the Women's Commission until the time arrives when a woman is Governor, half the Legislature are women and half the Alaska Supreme Court are women.

Senator Pat Pourchot, Chair
Senate State Affairs Committee
Alaska State Senate

Chairman Pourchot and Members of the Committee:

My name is Ann Skoe (sko-e). I am Legislative Chair for the Juneau-Douglas Branch of the Alaska Division of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

AAUW has six branches located in Juneau, Anchorage, Fairbanks, Kodiak, Sitka, and Ketchikan. We have over 250 members statewide. Today, I have been asked to speak for them.

The reestablishment of the Alaska Women's Commission is the number one legislative priority for our organization. We have appeared before legislative committees for the past two years in support of the continuation of the commission and our position has not changed. We join the other mainstream women's organizations here today in a united effort to keep this valuable research and advocacy agency functioning for the good of Alaska's women. The commission's job is not done. Only when Alaska's women achieve equity in the areas of education, civil and legal rights, labor and employment, and recognition of the worth of homemaking, will we be willing to consider the demise of this commission.

Thank you for the opportunity of appearing before you today.

Dear Committee Members:

THE ALASKA WOMEN'S COMMISSION

I am too late to attend the teleconference regarding this subject, but I would like to say that this Commission would not represent me as a woman.

The Governor wants to find ways to cut expenses, plus, raise our taxes, one way or another, and yet, may allow another commission. Our dollar is already taxed to death.

There is no need for child care centers in State buildings. Families can hire baby sitters if women need to work, as I did for years. The Lesbians and Gays do not have any rights to my tax dollar. They are the ones causing the epidemic of Aids. Why should they be given money to further their cause? The Government does not pay for other people's sex lives. Abortion is pure & simple "MURDER." I don't want my tax dollar to MURDER. If women do not want children, they should think about it before they partake in what causes them. They should have surgery to prevent children, not murder them, and they should pay for it themselves. If they don't have the money, then stay away from that type of life. I am not in favor of divorce either. Children are so hurt by it. Parents can work at their marriage to make it work. It is a day by day job. Divorce is too easy to obtain.

If women want all these privileges, let them pay for it themselves. Why should I pay for their sins?

We didn't have it easy when we were bringing our children up. We had very little money and very little material goods, but we had love for our children and with God's help, we made it. Others can to, if they try, instead of expecting handouts.

Sincerely,

Hazel J. Nowlin

SB 8

Alaska Women's Political Caucus Legislative Agenda
January 1989

1. Improve the economic and social status of women.

- * Legislatively reestablish and fund the Alaska Women's Commission.
- * Revise divorce and dissolution statutes. Promote economic equity for women and children following divorce by increasing judicial scrutiny of property settlements in dissolution cases where there is a potential imbalance of power between the parties. Include career assets as marital property that can be divided at the time of divorce or dissolution.
- * Adopt legislation to guarantee sex equity in insurance.
- * Oppose tort reforms that include caps on non-economic damages.

2. Improve protection for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault.

- * Continue the Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault.
- * Extend the Violent Crime Compensation program to allow victims of third and fourth degree assaults to apply for compensation (AS 18.67.101) and increase funding accordingly.
- * Amend AS 25.24.150(c) to require consideration of domestic violence when awarding child custody.

3. Improve the care of Alaska's children.

- * Continue to implement recommendations of the Governor's Interim Commission on Children and Youth (GICCY). Continue funding, with a $10-12 million increment, of those provisions adopted in 1988. Increase funding for Head Start programs and emphasize prevention of child abuse.
- * Expand efforts to improve child care by increasing funding for day care assistance, child care grants, and education and training, and establishing funding for a statewide network of child care resource and referral networks.
- * Establish a state policy on parental leave, ensuring job security for those who take time off (unpaid leave, if necessary) to care for newborn or newly adopted children.

4. Re-establish public trust in campaigns and in elected officials.

- * Amend campaign financing laws to address inequities in raising funds.
- * Adopt a resolution to amend the Alaska constitution to allow the courts to enforce the open meetings laws.

Sharon Rhoades
1545 South Hoyt, #19
Anchorage, Alaska 99508

Dear Sharon:

Thank you for contacting me to express your views on SB 8, which provides for continuation of the Alaska Women's Commission.

As you may have heard, last week the Senate voted to extend the commission for an additional four years. Although some concerns with the role and goals of the commission were expressed during public hearings on SB 8, an attempt was made in the Senate bill to address these concerns.

Specifically, the term of office for commission members was reduced from five years to three, and the number of years any single member may serve was limited to six. In addition, the procedure for appointing members to the commission was modified to allow the two major political parties in the state to each nominate two of the members. All of these measures attempt to ensure that the make-up of the commission is representative of all women throughout the state.

Sharon, thank you again for taking the time to share your views with me.

Sincerely,

STATE OF ALASKA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
JUNEAU

ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER NO. 110

It is in the best interests of the people of Alaska that government promote equity to whatever extent possible and that government identify and eradicate discriminatory laws and policies wherever they exist. The Alaska Women's Commission and its predecessor the Alaska Commission on the Status of Women created by the legislature in 1978 and governed by statutes now codified as AS 44.19.165 - 180, has been actively involved in conducting professional research and in identifying problems and solutions to many family and equity-based problems. A majority of the legislature expressed its support for the continuation of the Alaska Women's Commission and its work. Nonetheless, under AS 44.66.010(a)(12) and (b) the Alaska Women's Commission will cease existence after June 30, 1988.

Therefore, I, Steve Cowper, Governor of the State of Alaska, under the authority of Article III of the Alaska State Constitution and of AS 44.19.028 order the following:

Section 1. Creation

There is established in the Office of the Governor the Interim Women's Commission ("the commission").

Section 2. Composition

The commission consists of nine members and an ex officio member representing the office of the attorney general who all serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Section 3. Appointment

The current members of the Alaska Women's Commission created by AS 44.19.165 are hereby appointed as the members of the Interim Women's Commission created by this order. The commission shall elect one of its members as chairperson and may select other commission officers as it considers necessary.

Section 4. Meetings

A majority of the members constitutes a quorum for conducting business and exercising the powers of the commission. The commission shall meet at the call of the chairperson, at the request of a majority of the members, or at a regularly scheduled time as determined by a majority of the members.

Section 5. Terms of Office

The term of office of each member ends on the date of adjournment of the next regular session of the legislature. A vacancy shall be filled for the balance of the unexpired term in the same manner as original appointments to the Alaska Women's Commission under AS 44.19.167.

Section 6. Compensation

Members of the commission receive no compensation for their services but are entitled to per diem and travel allowances authorized by law for other boards and commissions.

Section 7. Purpose

The purpose of the commission is to improve the status of women in Alaska by conducting research and by making and implementing recommendations on the opportunities, needs, problems, and contributions of women in Alaska including, but not limited to,

- (1) education,
- (2) homemaking,
- (3) civil and legal rights,
- (4) labor and employment.

Section 8. Powers and Duties

To accomplish its purpose, the commission may

- (1) hire an executive director and additional administrative staff as may be necessary to the commission's function;
- (2) act as a clearinghouse and coordinating body for governmental and nongovernmental information relating to the status of women;
- (3) cooperate with public and private agencies in joint efforts to study and resolve problems relating to the status of women in Alaska;
- (4) accumulate and compile information concerning discrimination against women;
- (5) disseminate the results of research and compilation of data acquired under (4) of this section by publication and other methods such as public hearings, conferences, and seminars;
- (6) study and analyze all facts relating to Alaska laws, regulations and guidelines with respect to equal protection for women under the state constitution;
- (7) recommend legislative and administrative action on equal treatment and opportunities for women;
- (8) select and retain the services of consultants whose advice is considered necessary to assist the commission in obtaining information;
- (9) encourage women to utilize their capabilities and to assume leadership roles;
- (10) establish standing committees among the members to investigate and make recommendations on various areas of concern;

(11) create task forces composed of commission members and other experts as needed;

(12) accept monetary gifts or grants from the federal government or an agency of it, from any charitable foundation or professional association or from any other reputable sources for implementation of any program necessary or desirable for carrying out the general purposes of the commission;

(13) encourage the development of regional and municipal women's councils or commissions.

Section 9. Report

The commission shall file a report with the governor and the legislature of its proceedings for the previous calendar year and shall submit recommendations for legislative and administrative action. Reports and recommendations required under this section shall be prepared no later than the convening of the legislature.

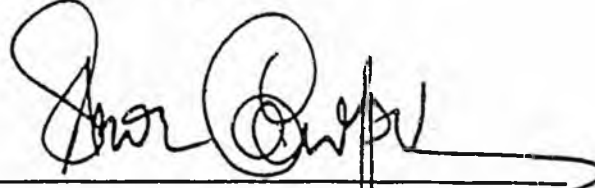

Section 10. Duration

The Interim Women's Commission established by this order remains in existence until the adjournment of the next regular session of the legislature, unless it is extended by legislation.

This order takes effect July 1, 1988, so that there will be no gap between the existing Alaska Women's Commission created by AS 44.19.165 and the Interim Women's Commission established by this order.

DATED at Anchorage, Alaska

June 23, 1988

Steve Cowper
Governor

We the undersigned request that the following language be inserted in the operating budget for FY 89:

It is the intent of the Legislature that the above funding be used to continue the Alaska Women's Commission. The Legislature requests that the Governor, by Administrative Order, take and direct all steps necessary to implement this intent. Further, it is the intent of the Legislature to statutorily re-establish the Alaska Women's Commission in the next legislative session.

HB 55

Section 2 would, for commission sanctions, amend Rule 732 of the Uniform Rules of Criminal Procedure (promulgated by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws in 1984). This rule does not appear in the publication of Alaska Court Rules, but rather was adopted by the Alaska Supreme Court in a decision, State v. Serdahley, 635 P.2d 1182 (Alaska 1981). A Superior Court judge has held that a legislative change of the substance of that rule requires the same procedures as for a legislative change of any other court rule.

Thus, sec. 6 cites the court rule and describes the change, as required by Rule 39(e), Uniform Rules of the Alaska State Legislature. Also, in compliance with that legislative rule, the title of the bill mentions the court-rule change. If this bill passes but the section making that change does not receive a two-thirds vote in favor of it, and if the amended statute is challenged in court, the Alaska Supreme Court will, of course, have the final word on whether these legislative procedures were necessary.

I urge your prompt action on this measure to strengthen the state's UIC program and to update AS 31.05.

Sincerely,

/s/

Steve Cowper
Governor"

HB 56

HOUSE BILL NO. 56 by the Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

"An Act establishing the Alaska Women's Commission as a permanent commission; extending the termination date of the Interim Women's Commission; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the State Affairs and Finance Committees.

A zero fiscal note was published January 9, 1989.

The Governor's transmittal letter, dated January 9, 1989, appears below:

"Dear Representative Cotten:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill that reestablishes the Alaska Women's Commission as a permanent commission. The Alaska Women's Commission presently exists as an interim commission under my Administrative Order No. 110, dated June 23, 1988.

Continuation of a permanent women's commission is imperative for a strong Alaska. Only after the barriers of discrimination are removed and the full participation of all Alaskans is realized can this state achieve economic strength and diversity. The Alaska Women's Commission has been an effective advocate in identifying and removing barriers of discrimination facing women.

Except for some housekeeping and minor editorial changes in secs. 1 -- 4, this bill makes no substantive changes to the statutes creating the previous Alaska Women's Commission, AS 44.19.165 -- 44.19.180.

Section 5 of the bill gives the commission an expiration date of June 30, 1993 under AS 44.66.010.

Under Administrative Order No. 110, the interim commission terminates at the end of this legislative session. Section 6 of the bill extends that termination date until June 30, 1989. Section 10 of the bill sets a July 1, 1989 effective date for statutory reestablishment of the Alaska Women's Commission.

Section 7 of the bill authorizes the governor to appoint members of the interim commission to the permanent commission.

There are many important and crucial issues facing women in Alaska. Disruptive forces threaten women and their families. The following statistics are significant:

- Over half of Alaskan women work outside the home but earn less than two-thirds of what men earn.
- Most Alaska families have no access to parental leave when their children are born or adopted.
- For many Alaskan families, child care is either inadequate or too costly.
- In Anchorage alone it is estimated that at least 3,000 elementary school children are unsupervised after school every day.
- Alaska women's per capita income declines 31 percent after divorce while divorced men's increases 17 percent.
- Most single parent families are headed by women and most families below the poverty level are headed by women.
- In urban Alaska the teen pregnancy rate exceeds the national figure by 13 percent. In rural Alaska it jumps to 70 percent more than the national rate.

HB 56

-- Eight thousand families, including more than 20,000 women and their children, receive AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) in Alaska.

The Alaska Women's Commission has some important challenges for the next five years. These include advocacy for the needs of rural women and homemakers, welfare reform, improving the economic status and employment options of women, implementation of changes that assist working women who have young children, increasing representation of women in policy making positions, and support for better access to health care, counseling, legal representation, and safety.

Since it is the only agency in state government that speaks to government about issues, policies, and situations affecting women, I strongly urge your support of this bill to permanently continue the Alaska Women's Commission.

Sincerely,

/s/

Steve Cowper
Governor"

HB 57

HOUSE BILL NO. 57 by the Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

"An Act expanding eligibility for violent crimes compensation."

was read the first time and referred to the Judiciary and Finance Committees.

A fiscal note and two zero fiscal notes were published January 9, 1989.

The Governor's transmittal letter, dated January 9, 1989, appears below:

"Dear Representative Cotten:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill expanding eligibility for violent crimes compensation.

The current law governing eligibility for violent crimes compensation is based in large part on the specific type of crime committed. By specifically referring to "assault in the first or second degree," AS 18.67.101 permits compensation in physical assault cases for only the most serious felonies. Because the degree of assault is often dependent on a complex legal analysis, the characterization of an assault as any particular degree often has more to do with the offender's state of mind (or state of intoxication) than with the overall harm suffered by the victim, much of which might not be manifested by physical injury. This bill seeks to remedy this injustice by permitting the Violent Crimes Compensation Board to award compensation in any assault case, regardless of whether it is third degree (class C felony assaults involving dangerous instruments), fourth degree (misdemeanor assaults, including most domestic violence cases), or the most serious first or second degree, assaults.

I urge your prompt and favorable action on this bill.

Sincerely,

/s/

Steve Cowper
Governor"

HB 58

HOUSE BILL NO. 58 by the Rules Committee by request of the Governor, entitled:

"An Act relating to fire protection; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the Community & Regional Affairs and Judiciary Committees.

A zero fiscal note was published January 9, 1989.

The Governor's transmittal letter, dated January 9, 1989, appears below:

"Dear Representative Cotten:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill relating to fire protection laws.

The bill does four things: (1) it assists the division of fire prevention by allowing fire code enforcement to be handled by fire departments "recognized" by the Department of Public Safety, rather than just "city" fire departments; (2) it corrects an oversight that has left violations of hazardous materials laws unenforceable; (3) it requires compliance with a department order unless a motion for a stay has been filed with the court (current law permits noncompliance simply by filing a notice of appeal); and (4) makes enforcement of fireworks regulations more feasible.

Section 1 of the bill amends AS 18.70.090 to allow fire departments that are not city fire departments to be "recognized" under regulations adopted by the Department of

FAMILY EQUITY AT ISSUE: A Study of the Economic Consequences of Divorce on Women and Children

During the 1970's social reformers sought to ease the acrimony of divorce and create more fairness and equity for the families involved. "No fault" divorce reform was introduced in many states including Alaska. In addition, Alaska developed a dissolution procedure that allows people to file without the expense of an attorney. Unfortunately, many of these changes have had unintended economic results for women. It now appears that women and children are suffering major financial inequities as a direct result of some of the changes in divorce law and procedure.

The most striking documentation of the "downward mobility" of women and children created by "no fault" divorce was in the state of California. Because of the seriousness of the findings there, in 1986 the Alaska

Women's Commission undertook a study to determine if Alaskan women and children were suffering the same effects.

The study of divorce is important because so many people are affected by it. The divorce rate in Alaska is 63 percent compared to 46 percent nationally. More than 11,000 people are affected each year, 3,000 of them children. Even though the two-decade increase in the divorce rate seems to have peaked, each year thousands of Alaskan families are affected by divorce.

The study site chosen was Anchorage, where more than half of the state's divorces occur. A statistically valid sample drawn from all divorce and dissolution cases occurring in a one-year period was analyzed.

GENERAL FINDINGS:

- In Alaska, divorce has substantially different economic consequences for women and men.
- Divorced women and their children experienced a 33 percent decline in per capita income resulting in a radical downward shift of their standard of living (see Figure 1). The greatest relative deprivation was experienced by women and children of middle and upper middle class families.
- Divorced men, however, experienced an improvement in their standard of living as a result of a 17 percent rise in their per capita incomes (see Figure 1).
- In many marriages the couple's major investments were in the education and career of the primary wage earner. Yet the division of marital property often excluded career assets. Disregarding this property allows the major wage earner, usually the husband, to keep what are often the most valuable assets of the marriage.

- Fifty-four percent of divorcing men had pensions compared to 33 percent of divorcing women. The median value of the husband's pension was worth more than 3 times that of the wife's ($27,500 and $7,500 respectively). Yet, only 20 percent of the couples in the study divided pensions.
- Other types of career assets such as life insurance, paid leave, professional licenses, medical and dental insurance were rarely included in the division of property, even though they were acquired during the marriage.
- Award of the family home was influenced by the presence of children. In 74 percent of the cases, the home was given to the parent having physical custody. Fathers with physical custody almost always got the home (93 percent) while mothers with custody were awarded the family home only 68 percent of the time.
- Among the families who moved following divorce were accounts of children traumatized by the dislocation. New schools and neighborhoods increased the disruption already generated from economic and emotional distress.
- In the absence of children, husbands were awarded the family home and mortgage more frequently (60 percent) than wives (40 percent).
- Alimony was awarded in only 10 percent of the divorces surveyed. For the few who receive it, this "safety net" appears to be an illusion. Awards usually lasted for only one year and provided an average of only $500 a month, despite the fact that most who received it had no job, no other income or were of an age which makes it difficult to find paid work.
- Divorced mothers are the primary caretakers of children. Sole custody was awarded to mothers in 58 percent of the cases, while fathers received it in 18 percent of the cases. Joint custody was awarded 19 percent of the time.
- Child support was awarded in 80 percent of the divorces where minor children were present. However, the average amount per child was $191. This barely meets half the monthly cost of child care in Anchorage today (see Figure 2). This figure also falls below the standard used to determine eligibility for welfare.
- Cost of living increments were included in only 23 percent of the child support awards. Without these adjustments, the purchasing power of the support award continually declines because of inflation and the increased costs associated with older children.
- Only 22 percent of child support awards were written beyond the age of majority although financial burdens such as education continue for several years beyond this point.

- Only 58 percent of the people in the survey received the full amount of child support awarded. This is consistent with statewide data from the Child Support Enforcement Agency.
- Divorced men are rarely required to pay more than 15 percent of their predivorce income to support their children.

IMPACT OF DISSOLUTION:

In Alaska people can end their marriage in two ways. Both are considered "no-fault." One, a divorce, usually involves attorneys' fees and court hearings, with the judge making a final decision in areas where the two parties cannot agree. The other, a dissolution, can be done without attorneys, with minimal expense, and requires that both parties agree about every issue. About two-thirds of all Alaskan couples who end their marriages choose a dissolution.

Alaska is one of only 8 states that permit dissolutions. It is also one of the most liberal in its provisions. Most *other states do not permit dissolutions if there are minor children, if the marriage is one of long duration, or if the couple has property. Alaska law places no limitations on the use of dissolutions.

In addition to the study's general findings, it appears that women who choose dissolution suffer even more financial hardship than women who go through a divorce.

- Women who used the dissolution procedure received far less than half of the couple's property. Wives received only 29 percent of the property in dissolutions. Women who used divorce received 50 percent of the marital property.
- Child support awards were lower when the dissolution procedure was used. Particularly hard hit were families with one child where average awards were 27 percent lower than in divorce (see Figure 3).

SUMMARY:

The findings of this study together with a growing body of research suggest that the current legal system of divorce creates economic hardships for women and children instead of providing greater family equity. Inadequate and poorly enforced child support awards, the near absence of spousal support, and unequal division of marital property are creating a new class of poor.

Divorced women and their children face a precipitous drop in family income. Some face certain impoverishment. Women who choose the dissolution procedure suffer even more financial hardship than those who go through a divorce.

The Alaska Women's Commission was created to ensure equity for women in Alaska. The Commission's current legislative platform attempts to correct many of the inequities that occur under existing divorce laws. The findings of the Commission's study support these efforts.
