SJR 24 & SCR 19

SENATOR JAY KERTTULA

SJR 24 and SCR 19, respectively, request vigilant enforcement of the federal and state age discrimination statutes.

Although Alaska has always been a "young" state, our older population has more than doubled in the past decade and is one of the fastest growing age groups in the state. Additionally, Alaska has one of the most rapidly growing senior populations in the nation.

This "graying" of the population means our workforce is also getting older. But, participation in the workforce by older Alaskans does not seem to be keeping pace with the changing demographics.

*In 1970, 28 percent of the older population were active in the labor force

*By 1980, this figure had declined to 20 percent

*Current estimates show that only 15 to 18 percent of older workers are in the labor force

*Well-paid positions in state government are predominantly occupied by Alaskans under 50. (See attached.)

Age-related stereotyping and age discrimination, a poor economy, and a widespread lack of understanding about the employment needs and capabilities of older persons are a few of the reasons for this. The age group of 55 to 62 year olds can be especially vulnerable in terms of experiencing age discrimination in employment and yet are too young to be eligible for Social Security, Medicaid, Longevity Bonus and other age limited benefits that help other seniors who are unemployed.

I urge passage of SJR 24 and SCR 19.

Paula, here is some information on Alaska's older workers. If you need more or in another area please give me a call.

Though Alaska has always been a "young" state, our older population has more than doubled in the past decade and is one of the fastest growing age groups in the state. Additionally, Alaska has one of the most rapidly growing senior populations in the nation.

This "graying" of the population means our workforce is also getting older. But, participation in the workforce by older Alaskans does not seem to be keeping pace with the changing demographics.

- * In 1970 28% of the older population were active in the labor force
- * By 1980 this had declined to 20%
- * Current estimates show that only 15-18% of older workers are in the labor force

Age related stereotyping and age discrimination, a poor economy, and a widespread lack of understanding about the employment needs and capabilities of older persons are a few of the reasons for this. Retirement incentive programs in both the private and public sector have resulted in many persons leaving the workforce prematurely.

The Older Alaskans Commission recently co-sponsored three state-wide public meetings to hear the experiences and concerns of older workers and job seekers. Over and over these older workers described experiences with employers that indicated ageism or age related stereotyping and discrimination.

"A Profile of Older Alaskans", Alaska Economic Trends,

One individual reported being asked directly in a job interview whether he "thought he'd have any problem taking direction from someone younger than himself". Others present at the meeting said they had been asked similar questions in interviews or told they were "overqualified".

Nearly every person attending the meetings felt frustrated in their efforts to find meaningful work. Many felt they were given only perfunctory consideration in a job interview -- that as soon as their age was known the interview was over.

The age group of 55 to 62 year olds can be especially vulnerable and in need of employment assistance services. They are vulnerable in terms of experiencing age discrimination in employment yet are too young to be eligible for Social Security, Medicaid, Longevity Bonus and other age limited benefits that help other seniors who are unemployed.

WHO ARE ALASKA'S OLDER WORKERS ?

- * Currently over 48,000 Alaskans are over age 55 ... there is a growing trend for middle aged and older Alaskans to remain in the state
- * Older workers are more inclined to be "discouraged workers" not registered with Job Service or actively seeking employment (less than 3,000 of the over 48,000 persons 55 or older were registered with the Job Service statewide in June 1986)
- * Older persons themselves often believe the "myths of aging" and think employers are not interested in hiring them
- * Older workers are often older women --- "displaced homemakers", over age 50, and living at or below poverty level ... once they lose economic self sufficiency, older persons tend to slip faster and stay longer in poverty
- * Older workers often call themselves "retired" (to save face) even though they want or need to work
- * Older workers may be between age 40 and 55 -- not yet targeted for services but already experiencing age discrimination in employment.
- * Half of this group have incomes below $10,000 a year and want and need to work.

WHAT ARE THE MYTHS AND REALITIES ABOUT OLDER WORKERS ?

MYTH	REALITY
* Attendance is poor	* Older workers attendance is as high or better than younger workers
* Productivity declines	* No consistent pattern exists to show superior productivity in any age group
* Learning capacity is obsolete	* Little evidence to suggest any significant change in learning ability
* Intellectual functioning decreases	* Intelligence remains constant for most persons until at least age 70
* Not worth the investment to train	* Employees age 20 to 30 are less likely to stay with a company as long as those age 50 to 60
* Motivation decreases	* Older workers display greater job satisfaction, less stress on the job
* Accidents on the job increase	* Older workers have fewer accidents in situations that require judgement based on experience

WHAT ARE THE CURRENT PROGRAMS FOR OLDER WORKERS ?

The Title V Senior Employment and Training Program is administered by the Older Alaskans Commission (OAC) and funded by the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration. Title V provides training and part-time employment opportunities for low income persons age 55 years and older.

The OAC funds approximately 200 Title V positions through grants to non-profit agencies in 45 communities in the state. Title V positions provide a variety of community services and give work experience and on job training to Title V workers.
