MEMORANDUM

TO: Representative Brian Porter, Chair BRON
House Judiciary Committee

FROM: Representative Jerry Mackie JM

RE: Scheduling request

Two bills I have sponsored, HB 3, relating to public home care providers, and HB 4, adding as an aggravating factor at sentencing that a victim was elderly or disabled; and relating to failure to report harm or assaults of the elderly or disabled, passed out of the HESS Committee yesterday. I would like to request a hearing in the Judiciary Committee at your earliest possible convenience; I will be traveling in the near future, but will be available March 15, 17, 22 and 26th.

Both of these bills passed the House last session, and I believe they are an important step in protecting the elderly and disabled. I am enclosing a packet of backup material on each bill for your review, and am available to answer any questions.

Thank you.

SPONSOR STATEMENT FOR HB 3

HB 3, An Act relating to public home care providers, restricts the ability of a home care provider to assume power of attorney and requires criminal background checks on any individual providing home care services paid for by public funds for an elderly or disabled person.

This bill will provide some protection to elderly and disabled persons from those responsible for their care; these groups are particularly vulnerable to abuse because of age, illness, disability and the isolation of being alone in their home with a caregiver.

It is important to take these steps now, while Alaska is on the brink of an explosion in home care services. Our senior citizen population is rapidly expanding and the state is pursuing Medicaid Waivers to provider home and community based services as an alternative to institutionalization. Once the Medicaid Waiver is approved, and there is a payment system available for expanded home based services, the home care services industry will see rapid growth - as it has in other states. This bill also requires background checks on home care providers paid through Older Alaskans Commission grants, and respite care providers paid through the Division of Family and Youth Services.

An important aspect of this bill is that the Department of Health and Social Services is required to implement regulations identifying actions to be taken upon reports of harm by a home care provider, and which protects the due process rights of the provider. My companion bill, HB 4, provides that conviction of a person licensed, certified or regulated by a board or the Department of Commerce, for abuse of an elderly or disabled person may be considered ground for disciplinary proceedings or sanctions.

I think this bill is both important and timely and urge your support.

March 4, 1992

Honorable Jerry Mackie
Alaska State House of Representatives
State Capitol
Juneau, AK 99811

Dear Representative Mackie:

Thank you for your February 20 memo regarding home health care services for the elderly and disabled. Following are the answers to the questions you set out:

1. How many disabled adults and elderly persons were receiving services under home health care services programs throughout all the divisions of H&SS for FY87 - FY91?

ANSWER: The Division of Public Health, through the section of Nursing, has only been overseeing the Adult Homemaker Services contract (AMTECH) since FY90. Prior to that time the Homemaker Services were administered by DFYS.

In FY91 there were:

492 age 68-80

214 over age 80

706 total clients over age 65

The total number of all clients served by AMTECH in FY91 was 1,122.

The above FY90 information was requested of the contractor for the purpose of this report; AMTECH was unable to provide information at this time.

The section of Nursing provides home health to a limited number of clients each year in a small number of communities, using State general funds. Home Health Aide services are, or have been, available in the following communities:

Mat-Su/Palmer/Wasilla/Talkeetna
Fairbanks/North Star Borough
Juneau
Sitka
Seward/Kenai
Soldotna/Homer
Ketchikan
Wrangell
Petersburg
Bethel

In three locations (Fairbanks, Ketchikan, Juneau) skilled (Registered Nurse) services are available through a pilot project (which began in 1981) with services provided by state employees (PHN II's and Nurse II's).

The following chart shows the number of clients served through the Home Health Aide and Home Health Skilled Nursing programs:

FY	Number of Clients/Patients
91	376 (330 are over age 65)
90	358 (311 are over age 65)
89	349 (341 are over age 65)
88	363 (315 are over age 65)
87	359 (319 are over age 65)

The data system does not break-out the number of disabled children or adults, although only those clients with moderate to severe needs are provided services. Most clients are not Medicaid eligible due to income level that places them slightly above the financial criteria and do not have third-party insurance that will reimburse for homecare for health aide services.

2. How much money was spent on salaries for public home health care providers throughout all the divisions of H&SS from FY87 - FY91?

Honorable Jerry Mackie
Page 3

ANSWER: The following is cost of personal services to provide skilled, home health nursing in the communities of Fairbanks, Juneau, and Ketchikan:

	FY88	FY89	FY90	FY91
PERSONAL SERVICES	348,018	385,174	448,501	384,579

Note that cost of personal services were lower in FY91. This was due to a turnover in home health staff at the Fairbanks Health Center. Senior employees at advanced salary steps were replaced by employees at lower salary steps.

How many individuals were employed as public home health care providers in these same fiscal years?

Since its beginning, the staffing pattern for the Home Health Program has remained the same with one exception. In FY91 the Juneau Health Center Clerk Typist III position was transferred out of the Home Health program (*).

Program Nurse Consultant	Central Office
Public Health Nurse II	Juneau Health Center
Nurse II	Juneau Health Center
*Clerk Typist III	Juneau Health Center
Community Health Aide	Ketchikan Health Center
Clerk Typist III	Ketchikan Health Center
Public Health Nurse II	Fairbanks Health Center
Nurse II	Fairbanks Health Center
Nurse II	Fairbanks Health Center
Clerk Typist III	Fairbanks Health Center

3. How much money was spent on contracts with private home health care services agencies?

The Section of Nursing has approximately 65 -- 75 active Home Health Aides working under agreements. Due to turnover of the Home Health Aides, there may be as many as 100 individuals who have agreements (active or inactive) with the Department during the fiscal year. An additional 8 -- 10 Registered Nurses are working under professional services contracts to provide home health services.

Total number of hours paid at $20.34 per hr			(71,568)
paid at $21.72 per hr				(68,535)

Is there breakout information available as to amounts spent for services provided to children, disabled adults and elderly adults?

This is information for the Home Health skilled nursing contract with Home Health Care/Providence Hospital

FY	Total No. Clients	HHA Visits	RN Visits	Over 60	disabled	cost
91	127	5,471	370	107 (84%)	11 (9%)	$238,000

88	116	5,259	385	99 (86%)	12 (10%)	$229,612
87	107	5,920	358	86 (80%)	15 (14%)	$249,107

The existing data system and reports have no simplified means of extracting the information pertinent to the number of disabled children and adults, so the percentages listed above are an estimate of the total number of clients from reports submitted.

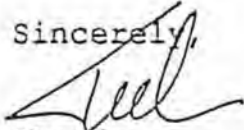

4. Can you provide an update as to the status of the Medicaid Waiver Application of the State of Alaska?

Honorable Jerry Mackie

Answer: We will be applying for our package of waivers in the very near future. The applications are first filed with the federal Department of Health and Human Services, Region X. We anticipate that we will have approval and be fully operational by July 1993.

If you need further information on these or any other Department programs, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Housing and household statistics from the 1990 census show that for persons age 65 years and over, 74.3% of their housing units were owner occupied. Only 67.2% of housing units were owner occupied for the age group 35-64 years. In Alaska 22.1% of all households consist of one person living alone, with 13.7% of these households consisting of persons over the age of 65.

The number of persons age 65 years or older living alone increased 108% from 1980-1990 from 2,758 to 5,737. The United States' 1990 figures show 39.1% of one person households are persons over the age of 65.

There is no single explanation for the large increase in Alaska's older population during the 1980s. However, the primary factor is likely the aging of the population that migrated to Alaska during the post statehood period. Alaska's median age has increased from 22.9 in 1970 to 29.4 in 1990. The United States' median age in 1990 was 32.9 years. Other factors that have contributed to keeping Alaska's older population in Alaska include improved health care and long term care facilities, elimination of Alaska's income tax, the Permanent Fund Dividend program, the Longevity Bonus program, and property and sales tax exemptions.

(b) A report of harm made under this section may include the name and address of the person reporting the harm and shall include

- (1) the name and address of the elderly person;
- (2) information relating to the nature and extent of the harm;
- (3) other information that the person reporting the harm believes might be helpful in an investigation of the case or in providing protection for the elderly person.

(c) A person who fails to comply with this section is guilty of a violation as defined in AS 11.81.900(b).

(d) This section does not prohibit a person listed in (a) of this section from reporting cases of economic or physical harm to an elderly person that have come to the person's attention in a nonprofessional capacity. This section does not prohibit any other person from reporting economic harm to an elderly person that the person has reasonable cause to believe is a result of theft, fraud, or coercion by a caretaker of the elderly person, or physical harm to an elderly person that the person has reasonable cause to believe is a result of abuse, neglect, or abandonment.

(e) If immediate action is necessary to protect the elderly person from imminent harm, the person shall make the report of harm to a police officer or a village public safety officer. The police officer or village public safety officer shall take immediate action to protect the elderly person and shall, at the earliest opportunity, notify the department.

(g) Failure to make a report under subsections (a) and (d) of this section is not the basis of civil liability unless otherwise provided by law.

(h) If a person makes a good faith report of harm under this section, an employer or supervisor of the person, or a public or private agency or entity that provides benefits, services, or housing to the person, may not discharge, demote, transfer, reduce the pay or benefits or work privileges of, prepare a negative work performance evaluation of, deny or withhold benefits or services, evict, or take other detrimental action against the person because of the report. The person making the report may bring a civil action for compensatory and punitive damages against an employer, supervisor, agency, or entity that violates this subsection. In the civil action there is a rebuttable presumption that the detrimental action was retaliatory if it was taken within 90 days after the report of harm was made. However, if the department has reasonable cause to believe that the elderly person is incapacitated, the department may petition the superior court under AS 13.26 for appointment of a guardian or temporary guardian for the elderly person for the purpose of obtaining consent to continue the investigation. (§ 2 ch 36 SLA 1983)

Sec. 47.24.030. Protective services. (a) The department shall provide available protective services to a harmed elderly person if and to the extent to which the elderly person consents. If the department has reasonable cause to believe that the elderly person lacks the capacity to consent to receiving protective services, it may petition the superior court under AS 13.26 for appointment of a guardian or temporary guardian for the elderly person for the purpose of obtaining consent.

(b) If an elderly person who has consented to receiving protective services is prevented by a caretaker from receiving the services, the department may assist the elderly person to petition the superior court for an injunction restraining the caretaker from interfering with the provision of protective services to the elderly person. (§ 2 ch 36 SLA 1983)

Sec. 47.24.040. Review and referral. The department shall, not later than 90 days after initiating the provision of protective services to an elderly person, initiate a review of the case to determine whether continuation or modification of protective services that are being provided is warranted. Sec. 47.24.050. Confidentiality of reports. (a) Investigation reports and reports of harm filed under AS 47.24.010 — 47.24.100 are confidential and are not subject to public inspection and copying under AS 09.25.110 — 09.25.125. Sec. 47.65.010. Older Alaskans service programs account. The older Alaskans service programs account is established in the Department of Administration. An amount to carry out the provisions of AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050 may be appropriated annually by the legislature to the account. The amount appropriated to the account shall be fully distributed by the Older Alaskans Commission to sponsors of older Alaskans service programs in accordance with the provisions of AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050. (§ 1 ch 152 SLA 1980; am § 5 ch 79 SLA 1981; am § 1 ch 37 SLA 1990)

Effect of amendments. — The 1990 amendment substituted "AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050" for "this chapter" in the first and second sentences.

Sec. 47.65.020. Sec. 47.65.040. Required contribution by sponsor. (a) A sponsor receiving a grant under AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050 shall contribute to the total cost of the program or project. The contribution may be in cash or in-kind services. The amount of the sponsor's required contribution is determined by the application of the following formula: average per capita full and true value of all property in the municipality or community in which the project or program takes place divided by the average per capita full and true value of all property in the state, and then multiplied by the contribution percentage to the estimated total program or project cost as determined by the commission at the time of approval of a grant application. However, the amount of the sponsor's contribution may not amount to more than 10 percent of the total program or project cost.

(b) For purposes of this section

(1) the contribution percentage for

(A) a program or project in a municipality or community having a population of 5,000 or less is 10 percent of the total program or project cost;

(B) a program or project in a municipality or community having a population of 5,001 to 10,000 is 20 percent of the total program or project cost; and

(C) a program or project in a municipality or community having a population of more than 10,000 is 30 percent of the total program or project cost.

(c) If an application is submitted for a program or project in a municipality or community for which no average per capita full and true property value determination has been made,

(1) if the population of the municipality or community is 750 or more, the commission shall request the state assessor to compute the average per capita full and true property value of that municipality or community and report it;

(2) if the population is less than 750, the commission may substitute for the average per capita full and true value of property in the municipality or community an amount equal to the average per capita full and true value of property in the smallest municipality for which that amount has been determined by the state assessor.

(d) The required contribution rate of the sponsor may not exceed the contribution percentage established in (b) of this section;

(e) The grant awarded by the commission may not exceed the estimated total program or project cost as determined by the commission less the contribution by the sponsor determined in accordance with this section. (§ 1 ch 152 SLA 1980; am § 8 ch 79 SLA 1981; am § 2 ch 37 SLA 1990)

Sec. 47.65.050. Administrative requirements. Payments received by a sponsor under AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050 may be used only to meet costs of services which the commission has determined directly benefit older Alaskans. A payment may not be made by the commission under this section unless the commission determines that the sponsor

(1) meets accepted standards of fiscal accountability for public funds;

(2) can demonstrate, when requested, the actual cost of services that it is providing for the benefit of older Alaskans; and

(3) agrees to make available, upon request, all fiscal information relating to service for which payments are provided under AS 47.65.010 — 47.65.050. (§ 1 ch 152 SLA 1980; am § 9 ch 79 SLA 1981; am § 3 ch 37 SLA 1990)

Sec. 47.10.230. Powers and duties of department over care of child. (a) Subject to (e) and (f) of this section, the department shall arrange for the care of every child committed to its custody by placing the child in a foster home or in the care of an agency or institution providing care for children inside or outside the state. The department may place a child in a suitable family home, with or without compensation, and may place a child released to it, in writing verified by the parent, or guardian or other person having legal custody, for adoptive purposes, in a home for adoption in accordance with existing law.

(b) The department may pay the costs of maintenance that are necessary to assure adequate care of the child, and may accept funds from the federal government that are granted to assist in carrying out the purposes of this chapter, or that are paid under contract entered into with a federal department or agency. A child under the care of the department may not be placed in a family home or institution that does not maintain adequate standards of care.

(c) The department may receive, care for, and make appropriate placement of minors accepted for care for a period of up to six months on the basis of an individual voluntary written agreement between the minor's parent, legal guardian, or other person having legal custody and the department. The agreement must include provisions for payment of fees under AS 44.29.022 to the department for the minor's care and treatment. The agreement entered into may not prohibit a minor's parent, legal guardian, or other person who had legal custody from regaining care of the minor at any time.

(d) In addition to money paid for the maintenance of foster children under (b) of this section, the department

(1) shall pay the costs of caring for physically or mentally handicapped foster children, including the additional costs of medical care, habilitative and rehabilitative treatment, services and equipment, special clothing, and the indirect costs of medical care, including child care and transportation expenses;

(2) may pay for respite care; in this paragraph "respite care" means child care for the purpose of providing

(A) temporary relief from the stresses of caring for a foster child who has a physical or mental disability or a physical or mental impairment; in this subparagraph

(i) "physical or mental disability" has the meaning given in AS 18.80.300(12)(A), (B), and (D); and

(ii) "physical or mental impairment" has the meaning given in AS 18.80.300; and

(B) protection for the child when the foster parent is

(i) away from the home because of an emergency and other care is not available for the child; or

(ii) on vacation and the child, because of age or infirmity, cannot be placed in any other type of temporary care facility; and

(3) may pay a subsidized guardianship payment under AS 25.23.210 when a foster child's foster parents or other persons approved by the department become court-appointed legal guardians of the child.

(e) A child may not be placed in a foster home or in the care of an agency or institution providing care for children if a blood relative exists who requests custody of the child. However, the department may retain custody of the child and provide for its placement in the same manner as for other children if it makes a determination, supported by clear and convincing evidence, that the custody of the child by the blood relative will result in physical or emotional damage. In making that determination, poverty, including inadequate or crowded housing, on the part of the blood relative, is not considered prima facie evidence that physical or emotional damage to the child will occur. This determination may be appealed to the superior court to hear the matter de novo.

(f) If a blood relative of the child specified under (e) of this section exists and agrees that the child should be placed elsewhere, before placement elsewhere the department shall fully communicate the nature of the placement proceedings to the relative. Communication under this subsection shall be made in the relative's native language, if necessary. Nothing in this subsection or in (e) of this section applies to child placement for adoptive purposes.

(g) The department may enter into agreements with Alaska Native villages or Native organizations under 25 U.S.C. 1919 (Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978) respecting the care and custody of Native children and jurisdiction of Native child custody proceedings. (§ 1 art III ch 145 SLA 1957; am § 5 ch 100 SLA 1971; am § 6 ch 104 SLA 1971; am § 1 ch 76 SLA 1976; am §§ 36, 37 ch 126 SLA 1977; am § 132 ch 6 SLA 1984; am § 1 ch 127 SLA 1986; am § 90 ch 138 SLA 1986; am § 1 ch 48 SLA 1988; am § 6 ch 204 SLA 1990)

Cross references. — For legislative intent in enacting (e) and (f) of this section, see § 35, ch. 126, SLA 1977 in the Temporary and Special Acts. For duties of custody review panels in connection with custody decisions made under (c) of this section, see AS 47.10.440.

Effect of amendments. — The first 1986 amendment added subsection (g).

The second 1986 amendment in subsection (c), substituted "must include provisions for payment of fees under AS 44.29.022" for "may include provisions for payment, in whole or in part" in the second sentence and substituted "may not prohibit" for "shall not operate to prohibit" in the third sentence.

The 1988 amendment, in subsection (d), divided the formerly undivided language into an introductory paragraph and paragraphs (1) and (2). The amendment also substituted "and transportation expenses; and" for "transportation expenses, and" in paragraph (d)(1); and, in paragraph (d)(2), divided the formerly undivided language into an introductory paragraph and subparagraph (B), rewrote the introductory paragraph, inserted item (A), divided the formerly undivided language in subparagraph (B) into an introductory paragraph and items (i) and (ii), deleted "not to exceed 12 hours in any 30-day period; it also means child care for a period not to exceed seven days in a year for the purpose of providing emergency" at the beginning of the introductory paragraph of subpara-tory, the person may in writing request review by the commission within 60 days of the decision of the agency. The commission, its representative or agent shall, in a case in which it finds a basis for complaint, conduct a hearing at which the person may appear with counsel, present evidence, and examine and cross-examine witnesses. Written findings and conclusions shall be issued. If the record in question is found to be inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading, the commission shall order it to be appropriately purged, modified, or supplemented by an explanatory notation. An agency or person in the state with custody, possession, or control of the record shall promptly have every copy of the record altered in accordance with the commission's order. Notification of a deletion, amendment, and supplementary notation shall be promptly disseminated by the commission to persons or agencies to which records in question have been communicated, as well as to the person whose records have been altered.

(d) An agency holding or receiving criminal justice information shall maintain, for a period determined by the commission to be appropriate, a listing of the agencies to which it has released or communicated the information. These listings shall be reviewed from time to time by the commission or staff members of the commission to determine whether the provisions of this chapter or any applicable regulations have been violated.

(e) Reasonable hours and places of inspection, and any additional restrictions, including fingerprinting, that are reasonably necessary both to assure the record's security and to verify the identities of those who seek to inspect them may be prescribed by published rules. Fingerprints taken under this subsection may not be transferred to another agency or used for any other purpose.

(f) A person or agency aggrieved by an order or decision of the commission under (c) of this section may appeal the order or decision to the superior court. The court shall in each case conduct a de novo hearing and may order the relief it determines to be necessary. If a person about whom information is maintained by an agency challenges that information in an action under this subsection as being inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading, the burden is on the agency to prove that the information is not inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading. (§ 1 ch 161 SLA 1972; am § 1 ch 66 SLA 1983)

Sec. 12.62.035. Access to certain crime information. (a) An interested person may request from the Department of Public Safety records of all felony convictions, convictions involving contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and convictions involving any sex crimes of a person who holds or applies for a position of employment in which the person has or would have supervisory or disciplinary power over a minor or dependent adult. The Department of Public Safety shall disclose the information to the requesting interested person and shall provide a copy of the information to the person who is the subject of the request.

(b) A request for records under (a) of this section must include within it the fingerprints of the person who is the subject of the request and any other data specified in regulations adopted by the commission. # Alaska's growing, graying

Census reports state is second nationwide in population gain

By PATRICIA SOLOVEICHIK

TIMES BUSINESS WRITER

Alaska is growing and graying far more rapidly than the rest of the nation, a trend spurred by workers lured by tales of high paying jobs and incentives for senior citizens who are remaining in the state or relocating here.

Alaska's population increased 3.7 percent to 570,000 people between April 1990 and July 1991 — the nation's second-fastest growth rate for the 15-month period after Nevada, which gained 6.8 percent, according to U.S. Bureau of the Census data.

However, Scott Goldsmith, an economist with the Institute for Social and Economic Research at the University of Alaska Anchorage, said the trend will not continue.

"The growth rate will drop off pretty dramatically between this year and next," Goldsmith said. "There will always be people coming to look for work, but as the economy in the Lower 48 improves, that will take some of the pressure off."

But the startling rise in older baby boomers and senior citizens among Alaska residents is a trend that will remain with the state as long as incentives are offered to bring them in and keep them here, he said.

Alaska's 38,000 residents in the 45-to-64 age group grew 7.1 percent between the spring of 1990 and last summer, the nation's fastest rate for that population segment. Nationally, the 45-to-64 age group grew at a rate of 1.2 percent during the 15-month period, which is the latest for which census data is available.

And Alaska is second only to Nevada in population growth among people age 65 and older, Census Bureau statistics showed.

The statistics are further indication of a trend that has concerned Alaska officials enough to begin planning sessions on how to deal with caring for that very expensive segment of the population.

"The state has been very involved in looking at the growth of seniors and doing some planning related to what we're going to do about it," said Ruth Gulias, director of long-term care planning with the Commission on Older Alaskans.

Several projects, funded by state and federal sources, are looking for alternatives to expensive institutionalization of frail or impaired elderly residents in an effort to control costs, she said.

"The elderly population is growing at such a phenomenal rate, it is incumbent on us to plan for this group," she said. Meanwhile, the under age 5 population in Alaska is growing at a rate of 1.3 percent, which is far slower than the national average of 2.5 percent.

Children 5 to 17 years old in Alaska have the second-fastest growth rate in the nation for that age group behind Nevada.

However, the number of 18- to 24-year-olds in Alaska shrank by half a percentage point, while nationwide the number shrank by 2.1 percent.

The remaining adult segment of Alaska residents ages 25 to 44 grew at a respectable rate of 2.9 percent between April 1990 and July 1991. That compared with 1.9 percent for the entire United States.

"We are still responding to the employment bank we got from the oil spill cleanup," Goldsmith said.

"And the recession in the Lower 48 has caused people to look to Alaska more than usual as a place of sanctuary from that," he said. "It is typical of what has happened in past recessions that hit the Lower 48."

Workers continue to flood the state in "delayed response" to the jump in employment during the cleanup phase.

"People hear about the good times and even after the good times have passed and the jobs are taken, they continue to come looking for work," he said.

That may explain why the state's 18- to 24-year-olds show a smaller loss than most states as the baby bust plays itself out. Young workers are able to go far afield in search of work, said Greg Williams, a demographer for the Alaska Department of Labor.

Moreover, the 25- to 44-year-old range grew at a faster pace in Alaska than it did nationally, likely due to adventurous job seekers, the experts said.

Williams said growth rates among Alaska's children fell into a pattern according to parental age, with the 57,000 residents in the under age 5 group probably parented by the state's 56,000 18- to 24-year-olds and Alaska's 123,000 5- to 17-year-olds likely parented by the 222,000 25- to 44-year-olds.

"The rises in school-age population are tied to the ages of their parents. We have more mature families coming in, and the highest migration ages are people in their 20s, with kids under 5," he said.

But because Alaska has such a small population, the data tends to be slightly skewed by even minor changes that can appear as large percentages, Williams said.

However, it is clear that Alaska's population is growing and aging far more rapidly than the nation as a whole, Goldsmith said.

"The over 65 group shows strong growth that represents that population group doubling in 10 years," he said. "That is consistent with the growth rate we had between 1980 and 1990."

Goldsmith attributed much of the rise in the number of senior citizens to state fiscal policies that encourage older people to stay here or migrate to Alaska. To someone on a fixed income, as many seniors are, the longevity bonus, Permanent Fund dividend, property tax rebate and the lack of state income tax are strong incentives.

Alaska's encouragement of a graying population is just beginning to put increasing demands on public services at a time when the state can least afford it, he said. And as budgets tighten, more senior citizens will need the expensive basics of medical care and shelter.

"Our population growth doesn't indicate an increase in our tax capacity," Goldsmith said.

Faring down the services likely will discourage elderly residents from moving here and those who are staying in the state strictly for the financial benefits offered, he said.

"There is a real financial incentive to these public programs, and it is a large reason why the over 65 population has doubled in the past 10 years," he said.

Goldsmith said the rise in older baby boomers, Alaska residents ages 45 to 64, is too steep compared with the national average to be a natural increase.

"This is not just an aging of the population. It is people coming in and fewer residents cycling out," he said.

Williams attributed the rise in part to "a wall of folks going over that 44-year-old boundary," who came to Alaska as young adventurers when statehood was attained.

"A lot of our growth came at statehood, and those age groups are now getting older," Williams said. "In addition, the baby boom is more noticeable here because we have not had a larger older population."

Added to that is the tendency for the 44-plus group to bring parents to live with them as they raise their own children.

"It doesn't hurt that there are (state) benefits, and that may be an incentive. But I think of it more in family terms. We don't attract a lot of single older people as a place to retire, although it does happen, such as ex-military," he said.

Alaska is following a national trend in the graying of its population, said Ruth Gulias, long-term care coordinator for the Older Alaskans Commission.

The 75-plus and 85-plus groups are growing even faster, she said. "It is of increasing concern to all of us." But those over 60 comprise just 6.4 percent of the population, and the 24,000 residents over 65 number about 4 percent.

Connie Sipe, executive director of the Older Alaskans Commission, said that while the number of people over 65 almost doubled between 1980 and 1990, those over 75 grew 110 percent. Nationally, the latter group increased by 25 percent.

"People are living longer, more seniors are staying here; Native-aiders are living longer, and Alaska is following the national trend of bringing elderly parents to live in the same household as their children and grandchildren," Sipe said. "And they don't necessarily come as dependents. It is often to help out."

State leaders already are grappling with the question of whether or not they can afford to actively encourage seniors to stay in the state, she said.

"We may not be able to afford the same benefits we offered to a much smaller population of elderly," she said. "We are not sure we can keep it up."

Already, waiting lists at pioneers homes are two to four years, and the average admission age has risen to 82, Sipe said.

"One slip and fall on the ice, and that person can be a long-term care client," she said. "The people in our pioneer homes have much more serious care needs that we used to see."

But the news is not all troubling. More children are growing up with grandparents and contact with older people to enrich their lives. And the economy benefits greatly from the money that comes in from out-of-state in the form of federal funds and retirement checks from corporations and the military.

Section 2 of this bill requires that the Department develop regulations on circumstances requiring reassignment, suspension, or termination of a home care provider alleged to have perpetrated harm and on the appeal rights and due process for such an individual. Section 9 requires that the regulations be adopted by March 15, 1994. A contract will be obtained to draft, conduct public hearings on, and finalize the regulations. The contractor will revise the Adult and the Child Protective Services staff manuals to implement the changes and will work with data processing to plan protective services data collection on home care providers under Section 4 of the bill.
