HOUSE RESOURCES COMMITTEE LETTER OF INTENT REGARDING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 83

The House Resources Committee has considered Executive Order Number 83 and has voted to move it out of Committee. However, the committee wishes to express its concern about a legal issue which was brought to the committee's attention by attorney Terri Lauterbach of the Legislative Legal Services Division. According to Ms. Lauterbach, "It concerns whether an executive order can validly remove from partially exempt service an employee put there by the legislature through statute. Executive Order No. 83 attempts to do so."

As Lauterbach explains, "Section 9 of the order repeals AS 41.35.375 and AS 39.25.120(c)(9)(G). These statutory sections placed the executive director of the Alaska Historical Commission in the partially exempt service. Section 15 of the order enacts new language relating to the hiring of staff without any reference to the partially exempt service. This would have the effect of placing the executive director in the classified service."

The House Resources Committee recognizes that the Governor could probably accomplish this personnel reclassification without the executive order or legislative action through other means. However, the fact remains that Executive Order 83 appears to go beyond constitutionally determined limits of what can be accomplished in an executive order. The Committee wants to state for the record that its approval of Executive Order 83 in no way implies approval of violation of the legal parameters of executive orders, nor should it be construed to mean that any inappropriate substantive changes proposed by executive order in the future will be accepted.

JAN 19 1993

For the purpose of determining if there are legal or technical drafting issues to bring to your attention, our office has reviewed Executive Order No. 83, which merges the State Geographic Board and the Historic Sites Advisory Committee into the Alaska Historical Commission in the Department of Natural Resources.

There is only one potential legal issue to bring to your attention about this order. It concerns whether an executive order can validly remove from the partially exempt service an employee put there by the legislature through statute. Executive Order No. 83 attempts to do so.

Section 9 of the order repeals AS 41.35.375 and AS 39.25.120(c)(9)(G). These statutory sections placed the executive director of the Alaska Historical Commission in the partially exempt service. Section 15 of the order enacts new language relating to the hiring of staff without any reference to the partially exempt service. This would have the effect of placing the executive director in the classified service.

It could be argued that this change in classification of an employee goes beyond what the state constitution says can be accomplished in an executive order, i.e., the transferring of an agency's duties. However, the committee could choose to view this as an insignificant extension of an executive order since AS 39.25.130(c) already allows a position in the partially exempt service to be moved to the classified service by the personnel board upon recommendation of the commissioner of administration. This means that the governor indirectly could probably accomplish the personnel reclassification without the executive order or legislative action anyway.

Your options are to

- (1) recommend disapproval of the executive order, citing the attempt to accomplish more than the transfer of duties;
- (2) recommend approval of the executive order but note that this approval should not be construed in the future as precedent for acquiescing to other types of substantive changes that go beyond the transferring of agency functions;
- (3) recommend approval of the executive order.

Please let me know if this memo prompts further questions or if I can be of other assistance.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

The Honorable Rick Halford
President of the Senate
Alaska State Legislature

Juneau, AK 99801-1183

Dear President Halford:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 23, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting an Executive Order merging the State Geographic Board (AS 44.19.054 - 44.19.062) and the Historic Sites Advisory Committee (AS 41.35.110 - 41.35.190) into the Alaska Historical Commission (AS 41.35.300 - 41.35.380). The commission will remain in the Department of Natural Resources, where the Historic Sites Advisory Committee is also located.

I believe that this change will have several benefits to the state. First, it will place in one entity, instead of three, the closely related functions of recognizing and presenting Alaska's history, evaluating and approving historical sites in the state, and naming geographic places, which often involves names of historical figures, places, and events. Second, it will increase public access because the public will know that any historical concerns can be addressed to the merged entity; the public will not have to figure out which of three entities is the appropriate one for a specific matter. Finally, the consolidation will save money because the single resulting entity will have far fewer members than do the three existing ones combined.

Sec. 8 of the Order repeals and reenacts AS 41.35.310(5) which is identical in substance to existing AS 41.35.320.

Sincerely,

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

FACT SHEET

EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 83: ALASKA HISTORICAL COMMISSION

Executive Order No. 83 combines the State Geographic Board and the Historic Sites Advisory Committee into the Alaska Historical Commission. It maintains the Alaska Historical Commission in the Department of Natural Resources, where the Office of History and Archaeology is located.

There has been wide support for this consolidation. The Governor's Task Force on Boards and Commissions, a legislative, executive, and public forum, recommended unanimously the consolidation of the Alaska Historical Commission, the Historical Sites Advisory Committee, and the Geographic Board.

In addition, a task force with representatives from the Alaska Historical Commission and the Historic Sites Advisory Committee, two private statewide groups (the Alaska Historical Society and the Alaska Association for Historic Preservation), and the Office of History and Archaeology reviewed the purposes of two of these boards. The Historical Commission and the Historic Sites Advisory Committee voted in support of their merger.

The functions and duties of the former boards will remain the same under the new commission. A membership of nine members is described on pages three and four of the Executive Order. Requirements such as having certain members nominated by the Alaska Historical Society, and having persons with professionally relevant backgrounds from the fields of history, architecture, or archaeology remain the same. Membership decreases from a total of 21 to 9.

We see several benefits to this consolidation:

1. Provides a coordinated effort between recognizing and presenting Alaska history, evaluating and approving historical sites, and naming geographic places, which often involves names of historical figures, places, and events.
2. Increases public accessibility as there will be one entity, instead of three, that deals with historical and geographical concerns of the public.
3. Saves money because of the decrease in total membership and lower administrative costs associated with one commission.

No additional funds are needed for this consolidation. The Department of Natural Resources and the Department of Community and Regional Affairs reflect zero fiscal notes.

The effective date for this merger is July 1, 1993.

Dear Governor Hickel:

AS 41.35.360 directs the Alaska Historical Commission to submit to you an annual report of its activities. I am pleased to submit the following report for the period January 1 to December 31, 1992.

The Commission is charged with promoting the study and understanding of Alaska's history. It is the only agency with such a charge. It serves as a forum for citizens' voices in the development of State history policy.

Lieutenant Governor John B. Coghill chairs the Alaska Historical Commission. Public members include Marilyn R. Knapp of Sitka, Elizabeth A. Tower, M.D. of Anchorage, and Molly C. Tryck of Anchorage. The fourth seat is not filled. The terms of Ms. Knapp and Dr. Tower have expired, but according to statute they continue to serve until reappointed or until new appointments are made. I serve as ex-officio member of the Commission.

Commission members met once, on October 28, 1992, in Anchorage with the Historic Sites Advisory Committee. Earlier in the year, a task force with representatives from the two boards drafted legislation for merging the two entities. No action was taken during the 1992 legislative session, but the Department of Law has prepared an executive order for your consideration for the 1993 legislative session. It would merge the Alaska Historical Commission, the Historic Sites Advisory Committee, and the State Geographic Names Board into a single entity that would retain the name Alaska Historical Commission.

A major accomplishment this past year was reprinting Alaska's Heritage, the secondary level history textbook prepared by the Commission in 1986. The funds to print the book came from the receipts of sales of previous Commission-supported publications. In other news, between 1987 and September 1, 1992, 5,847 copies of the Commission's video Alaska At War have been sold.

For several years, Commission members have been concerned about the haphazard organization of centennial commemorations. They sponsored a workshop on planning centennial commissions and proposed creation of a State task force to oversee coordination of activities. In October, the Tourism Coordinating Council created a Gold Rush Centennial Task Force and invited Judy Bittner to be co-chair with Wendy Wolf of the Division of Tourism. Commission member Elizabeth Tower will be a member of the task force as well. A survey has been sent out to interested members so that a meeting can be held early in 1993.

At their meeting in October, Commission members approved preparation of a gold rush time line, and authorized expending funds from its special receipts account for the project. The project reflects the members' continuing interest in preparing materials to supplement the textbook and their interest in having commemorative activities make a lasting contribution to our understanding of the past.

For the twelve month period of this report, the Commission expended $4,200 in general funds and $60,000 in special receipts account funds. During the period covered by this report, the Commission received $2,368 in royalties. These will be used for future projects.

Much reduced from the 1980s, commission programs continue to assist Alaskans, historians, and groups including local historical societies, pioneer groups, students, and tourism groups.

Sincerely,
