SUBJECT: SB 255 - State Policy on Human Resource Development

---

The Senate Community and Regional Affairs Committee introduced SB 255 on behalf of the Alaska Joint Training Council.

This bill establishes a state policy on human resource development for state government agencies and requires public officials responsible for education and training programs to coordinate their programs.

- (2) Increased coordination of workforce development programs to maximize available resources.
- (3) Programs that assist economically disadvantaged youth, dislocated workers and the marginally employed to become self-supporting.
- (4) Assist students in the transition from school to work

On behalf of the Alaska Job Training Council I urge your support for Senate Bill 255.

CSSB 255(CRA) establishes a comprehensive human resource development policy for the State of Alaska. This legislation establishes requirements for the University of Alaska and all of the major state agencies involved in economic development, job training, education, and social service programs to coordinate their efforts toward a common goal of enabling people to work and support themselves.

Public assistance costs are influenced by a number of variables. While this legislation establishes policies that may be expected to produce long-term improvements in employment prospects for low-income Alaskans, it establishes general policy and cannot be projected to directly impact public assistance program costs.

BASED ON OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE SENATE CRA CS FOR SB 255 WILL AMEND THE LANGUAGE ON PAGE 2, LINES 20 AND 21, TO DELETE THE REQUIREMENT FOR CENTRALIZED SERVICE LOCATIONS AND COORDINATED SERVICE HOURS FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS, we project no fiscal impact by this bill.

ALASKA JOB TRAINING COUNCIL

MEMO TO: Members of the AJTC

FROM: Debra Call
Chair, Executive Committee

DATE: January 18, 1994

SUBJECT: Policy for Human Resource Development

Everyone is aware by now that the Executive Committee of Council has been working for the past year on drafting a policy for human resource development in the state. The Committee met on January 15, 1994, to consider language contained in a working draft of proposed legislation. The attached copy of Senate Community and Regional Affairs Committee Bill No. 255 entitled "An Act establishing a comprehensive policy relating to human resource development in the state" is that adopted by the Executive Committee at its meeting on January 15.

Background. As you will recall, at the last meeting of Council on November 18, 1993, a resolution was adopted which endorsed development of a human resource development policy and provided direction to the Chair to carry the issue to the Governor. Following recess of Council that first day, the Executive Committee met in worksession to decide upon strategy to move the issue forward given the direction by Council. At that worksession it was agreed that the policy would be moved along three tracks simultaneously. That is, the AJTC would take draft policy to the Governor (1) at the same time that the legislature considered a 'policy' bill (2) while the Council was then taking the policy to other public advisory bodies for support and endorsement (3). The consensus at the meeting was to proceed with this strategy. I then briefed the Council of the results of our committee work at the earliest opportunity, which was the morning of November 19.

Policy Drafted. Staff of DCRA and Legislative Legal Services began developing a policy statement in the form of draft legislation. The first working draft was presented to the Executive Committee for review and comment on January 15. Committee members spent nearly three hours reviewing the document, line by line. Comments were provided with directions for changes. The attached copy incorporates the language as passed by a majority vote of 3 to 1 (Chair abstaining).

Following discussion of specific language, the Committee then spent time discussing strategy to carry the policy to the Governor, Legislature and advisory groups, given the fact that legislative session was already underway. It was moved that due to severe time constraints in the required readings of legislation, the Committee vote to allow introduction of the bill in the Senate Community and Regional Affairs Committee on Tuesday, January 18, 1994, with the understanding that there may be changes resulting from the full Council review at this January 24, teleconference. The motion passed with no opposition (Chair abstained).

Council Review. In accordance with the terms of the Committee's motion, this legislation is being presented to the full Council for review and comment at next week's meeting. Please review the document carefully and come to the meeting prepared to discuss.

If you have questions regarding this bill please contact Bruce Geraghty in Juneau at 465-4700 or Tony Nakazawa in Anchorage at 269-4607. I hope to hear all members on line next Monday.

Goal #1: Provide employers with a diversified, multi-skilled workforce.

1. Objective: Participation by employers.
2. Objective: Develop private/public partnerships to train employees.
3. Objective: Encourage new and expanding businesses to hire job training participants.

Coordination Criteria:

- Job Training Plans of Private Industry Councils (PICs) must describe ways in which employers will be involved in the development of training programs.
- Create incentives to maximize participation by employers ie. monetary advantages, reduction in paperwork or simplification in program delivery.
- Market and promote programs to educate employers of benefits to participation.
- Analyze market information to determine employers' needs.
- Target training resources to occupations having high non-resident employees.
- Design training programs to meet the needs of employers.

4. Objective: Promote training and placement opportunities for women in 'nontraditional' employment.*Coordination Criteria:

- Broaden employers' awareness of any mandated requirements for entry of women into 'nontraditional' employment.
- Provide technical assistance and a one-stop environment to employers to meet the established goals of the '92 job training reform amendments.

PRIORITY ACTION STEP: Maximize employer participation by having a meeting or meetings between employers and providers.

Goal #2: Increase coordination of workforce development programs to maximize service delivery from the available resources.

1. Objective: Remove barriers to collaboration.

Barriers to Collaboration:

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| °Lack of communication                             | °Political changes resulting in loss of jobs                 |
| °Differing performance standards                   | °Lack of overall state policy for human resource development |
| °Changing regulations and program requirements     | °Knowing who to collaborate with, ie. AR DORS                |
| °De-funding programs or changes in program funding | °Geographic separation and transportation costs              |
| °Number of federal programs                        | °Number of agencies involved at the state and local levels   |

Coordination Criteria :

(Ways to remove barriers to collaboration)

- Participate in the development of a statewide human resource investment policy.
- Institute an ongoing forum for communication among all relevant programs.
- Develop an electronic bulletin board (make use of current technology).
- Develop a resource directory for workforce development.

2. Objective: Provide Incentives.

Coordination Criteria :

- Develop economic and programmatic incentives ($) for collaboration among programs. The collaboration would result in accomplishment of individual program goals.
- Develop performance standards to reward collaboration.
- Share resources and real information across programs to the extent permissible.

3. Objective: Integrate Services.

Coordination Criteria :

- Use technology to address integration issues linking regions, communities and the state as a whole.
- With the philosophy "Any Door is the Right Door", work toward 'one-stop shopping' permitting programs other than your own to do some basic client intake and assessment.
- Begin joint assessment and joint planning processes across programs.
- Assess confidentiality requirements which impede collaboration among agencies and identify strategies to address them.

4. Objective: Share evaluations of workforce development programs.

Coordination Criteria :

- Develop a central clearinghouse for data/jobs/program evaluations, etc.

PRIORITY ACTION STEP: Participate in the development of a statewide human resource investment policy.

Goal #3: Employment and training programs shall assist the economically disadvantaged, at-risk youth, dislocated worker and the marginally employed to become self-supporting.

1. Objective: Provide workforce development services to welfare recipients, particularly JOBS participants, in order to provide basic skills and training necessary for long term employability.

Coordination Criteria :

- Use 'case management' for clients while agencies work as a 'team' of resources.
- Basic education should be provided to persons determined to need additional education. Where possible, basic education should be concurrent or integrated with job specific skills training.
- Job skills training must be tailored to the abilities and interests of JOBS clients.
- Training programs must help trainees arrange for child care during training and in transition to the world of work.

2. Objective: Provide services to those people having multiple barriers to employment to enable them to become self-sufficient.

Coordination Criteria :

- Use 'case management' for clients while agencies work as a 'team' of resources.
- Develop and distribute a statewide resource and referral manual.

3. Objective: Provide opportunities for Alaska's older residents to return to work, placing particular emphasis on those who have additional barriers to employment.

Coordination Criteria :

- Use 'case management' for clients while agencies work as a 'team' of resources.
- Programs should promote the benefits of hiring older workers.

Coordination and Special Services Plan.

The following two pages are the EXECUTIVE SUMMARY from the FY 95-96 Alaska Vocational Education State Plan Needs Assessment. The assessment will provide the basis for prioritizing services and programs for FY 95-96 funded by the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Act of 1990.

The Department of Education has requested that members of the Council's Executive Committee and Education Coordinating Committee review the findings and provide comment. Committee members did comment on the draft report at the Executive Committee meeting on January 15. Those comments will be sent on to the Department of Education in written form. Staff will brief all Council members of the Committee comments on January 24. A few copies of the full report are available from DCRA offices in Anchorage. Anyone who would like a copy should contact Joy Moran-Burke at 269-4651.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Alaska Department of Education is required to conduct a statewide needs assessment of Vocational Education programs to determine priorities for the I-Y 95-96 State Plan funded under the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Act of 1990. The following is an executive summary of the needs assessment results.

Information from the survey will be used by the State to prioritize:

- The relative academic, occupational, training, and retraining needs of secondary, adult and postsecondary populations.
- Program funding to meet the needs of secondary, adult and postsecondary populations.

The following groups and organizations were surveyed: Secondary Vocational Education Directors, Public and Private Post Secondary Institutions, Alaska's Youth Ready for Work Committee Members, Private Industry Council Members, Department of Labor Employment Security Counselors, , and The Job Training Partnership Act Education Coordinating Committee.

The response rate for secondary vocational education directors was 65%. The postsecondary response rate was 56%, making a combined return rate for Perkins Act grant recipients of 62%. The return rate for all other populations was 44%. The overall survey response rate was 52%.

Needs Assessment Major Findings

- Workplace ethics followed by employability skills and technical knowledge necessary for a specific occupation were selected to be the most important components needed in an approved vocational/technical program.
- Most of the respondents selected employment seeking skills as their number one priority when asked to prioritize a list of work place competencies representing skills required for finding and keeping a job. Occupational skill training and appropriate workplace behavior ranked as second and third priorities.
- Secondary school districts respondents believed that high school graduates entering postsecondary vocational education programs in Alaska have almost always received career counseling in high school that helped them determine which training program would best fit their ability and interest. Postsecondary respondents believe this almost never happened.
- The local vocational advisory council was considered to be the number one source of information used to assure that programs were consistent with labor market demands.
- Secondary and postsecondary education respondents believed that high school vocational education programs offered in their community almost always provided vocational education students basic work habits and life skills concepts. However, private employers and training institutions viewed public secondary and postsecondary institutions as not providing vocational education students with adequate basic work habit and life skills training. In addition, private employers and training institutions indicated postsecondary vocational programs offered in Alaska did not adequately teach work readiness skills as a basic part of the curriculum.

- Respondents noted a significant difference of opinion concerning the skills required for finding and keeping a job. The postsecondary respondents rated occupational skill training as a critical need, while secondary education respondents rated it a high priority.
- Teacher training and/or inservice was rated as the top priority activity to improve vocational training for special populations. Curriculum or job modification was identified as the most critical activity to improve the employment success for special populations.

ALASKA JOB TRAINING COUNCIL

MEMO TO: Members of the AJTC

FROM: Jewel Jones
Chair, Coordination Committee

DATE: January 18, 1994

SUBJECT: Recommended Coordination Criteria

As you know, one of the major responsibilities of the Coordination Committee is to recommend the coordination criteria for the Governor's Coordination and Special Services Plan (GCSSP). Attached are those criteria which the committee has adopted and is recommending to the full Council for inclusion in the upcoming GCSSP.

For those of you not totally familiar with the process, I'll provide a little background on how the Committee arrived at this criteria. You'll remember that the Council adopted goals and objectives for the GCSSP at its last meeting on November 18 and 19. These goals and objectives formed the basis of a workshop on December 16 and 17 which brought together 43 people ranging from state agency personnel, public advisory group members to labor union apprenticeship and training managers. These folks met for nearly two days to develop strategies (criteria or standards) for the delivery of work force development programs in the state. All strategies were based upon the work we did as a Council in November.

The December workshop not only produced criteria, but explored a range of ideas on how service providers would go about implementing the strategies. A full report of the workshop is being developed by staff and I understand that it will be distributed to all council members when completed. However, to move the criteria along, the coordination strategies were delivered to the Coordination Committee for consideration and adoption at its most recent meeting on January 8, 1994.

Following review and discussion of the criteria, members of the Committee adopted those criteria you will find attached. The Committee found the workshop criteria to be totally appropriate. However, it also approved two additional objectives and added several criteria. The first additional Objective is listed as #4 under Goal #1 and has been included to meet the requirements of the Job Training Reform Amendments. The Committee also added Objective #6 under Goal #3 to specifically address the dislocated worker. Criteria were developed for each of the new objectives. All additions to the workshop criteria appear in italics in bold type on the attached pages. The Committee is recommending adoption of all objectives and criteria as presented here.

Member of the AJTC
January 18, 1994
Page Two

It should be noted that an effort was made at the workshop to have participants identify those service providers responsible for each criteria, as done with past plans. This was not accomplished. The Committee felt very strongly that this was a particularly critical accountability measure in past plans and wanted to see it made a part of the current plan. Therefore staff was directed to take the criteria back to workshop participants to identify these measures. This will be done prior to the Coordination Committee's next meeting on February 24. This final element in development of the the coordination plan will then be available for full council review on March 4.

Finally, as a closing comment, I would like to emphasize that the Committee was encouraged by the efforts of the private sector to participate in development of the coordination criteria. However the consensus of Committee members was the necessity for even greater involvement of private enterprise at all levels of public service planning and coordination. Members felt that the burden fell to the public sector to see this accomplished. Specifically, service providers should be encouraged to schedule meetings at times and locations that would bring issues to the private sector not at times and locations that make their participation burdensome or difficult. Service providers are further encouraged to develop and maintain working relationships with businesses and industries who are not yet, but should be, involved with agencies on an ongoing and active basis. I urge the Council to further explore this issue.

ALASKA JOB TRAINING COUNCIL

December 24, 1993

Mr. Mike Young
P.O. Box 70277
Fairbanks, Alaska 99707

Dear Mr. Young:

Congratulations on your recent appointment to the Alaska Job Training Council (AJTC). As Chair of the AJTC, I would like to extend an enthusiastic welcome on behalf of all members. I would like also to take this opportunity to provide you with a glimpse of what you can expect in the upcoming months.

The next meeting of the AJTC is tentatively scheduled for late January, 1994, as a short teleconference. Staff is currently working on confirming arrangements. The purpose of the meeting will be to consider and adopt coordination criteria (standards) for recommendation to the Governor as part of the '94-'95 Coordination and Special Services Plan. While the meeting should be brief, it is very important as the criteria will set the direction for coordination of employment and training programs over the next two years.

Sometime during the next few weeks you will be contacted by staff to introduce themselves to you and to answer any questions you may have. After arrangements are made for the teleconference, you will also receive a pre-meeting packet of materials.

Again, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the Alaska Job Training Council. I look forward to meeting you soon. In the meantime if you have any questions regarding your participation on the Council please feel free to contact staff members Tony Nakazawa or Carol Akereirea at the Alaska Job Training Partnership Office in Anchorage. You may reach them at 269-4607 or 269-4653 respectively.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Call:

While I agree with the lofty goals of literacy and training for all students as stated in the proposed Senate Bill 255, some of the measurement tools and standards are of another time and generation. Section 1, part C, last sentence states: "To this end, the state's educational system shall ensure that students develop competency in basic and technological skills along with work force readiness values." My concern is that some people would use this sentence to implement a "cookie cutter" approach, measuring everyone applying for JTPA training in order to become "job ready" by the same assessment standards that are used for youths new to the job force.

I am writing on behalf of seniors, for whom I find employment in the Senior Community Service Employment Program, to request that the regulations you write be flexible in the application of this policy. I am suggesting in the writing of the regulations you consider the following guidelines for older workers:

1. Allow the use of calculators in doing the math assessment test. All of the older workers I have interviewed who have worked in money-related fields have used adding machines rather than memorized multiplication tables.
2. Allow older workers to take shorter classes with more repetition geared to specific job skills.
3. Use larger sized TV monitors to enhance vision when updating seniors on current data-based software.
4. Having flexible scheduling of classes to allow for make-up work and tutoring of missed lessons for seniors such as illness or death of a family member.

My background as an educator, life member of the National Education Association and worker in Special Education and with Gifted children has emphasized how individual talents and skills are. It was rare to find students' assessment tests not skewed either qualitatively or quantitatively. Most older adults avoid or have learned to compensate for their lack of skill in one area or another and have chosen a vocation in their area of strength.

Older adults, therefore, do not have the same need for basic skills classes and usually only need and desire classes to update and improve on specific technological skills. When I was teaching it was call "individualizing instruction." Please consider individualizing older workers' instruction to enable them to go back to work quickly and get on with the job. Having a flexible resource to provide these specific skills is a top priority.

While I feel literacy for everyone should be an educational goal, many of the older workers I place in employment have a barrier of language and culture. However, they also have skills which can and should be used profitably in the workplace. The bottom line is: What do older workers need right now to make them job ready?

Sincerely yours,

CSSB 255(CRA) establishes a comprehensive human resource development policy for the State of Alaska. This legislation establishes requirements for the University of Alaska and all of the major state agencies involved in economic development, job training, education, and social service programs to coordinate their efforts toward a common goal of enabling people to work and support themselves.

Public assistance costs are influenced by a number of variables. While this legislation establishes policies that may be expected to produce long-term improvements in employment prospects for low-income Alaskans, it establishes general policy and cannot be projected to directly impact public assistance program costs.

BASED ON OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE SENATE CRA CS FOR SB 255 WILL AMEND THE LANGUAGE ON PAGE 2, LINES 20 AND 21, TO DELETE THE REQUIREMENT FOR CENTRALIZED SERVICE LOCATIONS AND COORDINATED SERVICE HOURS FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS, we project no fiscal impact by this bill.
