WORK EXPERIENCE

July 1992 - Present - Director and psychotherapist of Family and Children's Clinic. Services offered include individual, group, marriage, family and child psychotherapy, hypnotherapy, sex therapy, evaluation and treatment of sexual offenders and victims, and divorce-mediation.

1980-1992 - Psychotherapist in private practice and owner of the Family and Children's Clinic in Palmer, Alaska. Services offered include individual, marriage, family and child psychotherapy, hypnotherapy, sex therapy, evaluation and treatment of sexual offenders and victims, and divorce-mediations.

1980-1983 - Associate Professor of Social Work for the University of Alaska, Anchorage. Courses taught led students to Bachelors degree in social work. Teaching position was full-time 1980-81, and half time 1981-82, and 1982-83.

1977-1980 - Psychiatric Social Worker with the Langdon Clinic in Anchorage, Alaska and to the Matanuska Valley 40 miles north of Anchorage. Responsibilities include individual and group psychotherapy, marriage and family counseling and sex therapy.

Instructor, University of Alaska, Matanuska-Susitna Community College in Palmer, Alaska. Classes taught were in Sociology.

1976-1977 - Clinical Director, Western Wyoming Mental Health Association in Afton, Wyoming. Responsibilities included psychotherapy with both individuals and families. An important part of the practice was marriage counseling and sex therapy. I also had responsibility for the administrative and clinical management of the program.

1974-1976 - Management consultant to the Department of Health and Social Services, State of Alaska, Juneau. Through a contract the Department had with the Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration of HEW, I provided consultation to the Commissioner of the Department on issues related to the delivery of state services in Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health.

Products included a plan to reorganize the State Offices of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse and the Division of Mental Health into a single administrative organizational unit under an umbrella

Division in order to provide more responsive, effective and efficient services by these programs. A plan for deinstitutionalizing the Department's institutions into community based facilities was developed. A plan was formulated to provide Native Alaskans with increased participation in state planning for rural natives in Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health programs.

Private practice with the Valley Medical Clinic in Juneau, Alaska as a psychotherapist. The focus of my practice was on individual, marriage, family and sex therapy.

1972-1974 - Executive Director, North Idaho and Panhandle Child Development Center, and Family Life Enrichment Associates, in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Initially, the position was within State of Idaho Government. When some of the services were spun off to a private non-profit agency, I chose to direct the private agency's development of its new programs as the Executive Director.

As director, my responsibilities included the overall planning and management of programs served by the child development programs. These programs responded to a five county area of North Idaho that was staffed by 17 teachers, 18 aids, 5 speech therapists, 3 social workers, 4 psychologists, 6 project directors, and 6 support staff with a total budget exceeding $850,000.

Programs included preschool screening and classroom experiences for handicapped children in nine classrooms. Parent skills and infant stimulation training of parents with high risk children. Family counseling of families and marriages through a branch agency titled Family Enrichment Associates. Speech and language dysfunctions. A life skill acquisition program for youth age 13-21 with emotional and/or developmental disabilities in classroom situation in four communities.

In addition to my work directing these programs, I shared a weekly column titled Family Fireside with a psychologist on the staff. Column spoke to issues related to family living, which was printed by the local newspaper, the Coeur d'Alene Press.

1967-1972 - Director, Lutheran Youth Center, and Program Director, Alaska Children's Services. Alaska Children Services developed when two other directors of private agencies and myself presented a plan to our boards and national missions to merge the three agencies under a single agency in order to better serve children and their families in Alaska. The programs were located in the Anchorage area, in Unalaska and Wasilla.

I was responsible for the planning and managing of the treatment services of the agency. These services included residential treatment for 55 disturbed children, emergency shelter for 10 children, group home services for 18 children, family therapy provided by 3 family therapists, day care for 40 children, foster care for a limited number of children from residential treatment, a halfway house for drug abusers and a community action program to develop a health center in the native community of Unalaska.

The budget for these programs exceeded one million dollars and employed over 50 professional and paraprofessional staff.

1967-1972 - Instructor, University of Alaska, community colleges located in Anchorage and Palmer, Alaska. Classes included introductory courses in Sociology and Social Welfare, Social Problems, Sociology of Deviant Behavior and the Family.

1965-1967 - Executive Director, McCrossan Boys Ranch, Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Responsibilities included the planning management and development of a custodial program for boys into a residential treatment program of professional quality. The program served 48 boys from the state of South Dakota and the Minneapolis - St. Paul area of Minnesota.

1964-1965 - Youth Rehabilitation Counselor for the State of Idaho Department of Health in Lewiston, Idaho. Responsibilities were the intake, probation and parole supervision of children and youth seen by the juvenile court.

1962-1963 - Clinical Social Worker, Idaho State Hospital North in Orofino, Idaho. Duties included individual therapy on a men's receiving ward. Involved some of the men's families in family therapy and provided follow up services to the patients upon discharge. I also participated in a family care NIMH demonstration project that discharged patients into family foster care.

1961-1962 - Psychiatric Social Worker, Stockton State Hospital in Stockton, California. Responsibilities included individual case planning, group, and family therapy.
