CSSB 191 (STA) is an extensive revision of Alaska campaign finance law with new reporting requirements for political contributions and expenditures, revised civil penalties and criminal sanctions, and many other changes directly affecting the Alaska Public Offices Commission (APOC).

Section 19 of CSSB 191 (STA) repeals AS 15.13.120(d) and reenacts the statute to allow a person to file a superior court action relating to a violation of AS 15.13 under certain circumstances (under current law, a person may only file a complaint with APOC). The person must still file an administrative complaint with APOC. If APOC does not complete a report of a preliminary investigation within 60 days following the filing of the administrative complaint, the person may file a superior court action. The civil action could seek an injunction or civil penalties. Section 19 requires the person to serve the attorney general and APOC with a copy of the summons and complaints. The impact on the Department of Law is that APOC could intervene as a matter of right in the superior court action, which will mean that APOC would require more attorney resources. Because

BILL NO. CSSB 191(STA)

ANALYSIS: (continued)

1. Assumption

This expenditure detail is based upon the assumption that SB 191 will take effect midway through FY 97. The first elections to which the new law would apply are the FY 97 Anchorage municipal election including mayoral in April and municipal elections in the fall.

2. Program Summary

This bill would require extensive education of all candidates and contributors of the new limits on contributions, expenditures and behavior. New manuals and forms would be necessary to provide immediate help. Regulations, civil penalty assessments, advisory opinions and adjudication of complaints would provide long term guidance. The computer tracking system would have to be significantly upgraded to accommodate the increased number of reports as well as the new civil penalty structure.

a. Positions

Positions would not be established until January 1, 1997.

1. An investigator III/associate coordinator would write advisory opinions, handle complex civil penalty assessments and inquiries from the public, train candidates and contributors and investigate complaints.
2. An administrative clerk III would be responsible for processing filed reports, statements and registrations as well as accurate and prompt input of data about contributors' and candidates' registering and reporting. This position would assign work to and supervise an existing administrative clerk II; answer inquiries from the public about APOC's expanded databases; and compose reports of contribution, expenditure and candidate activity.
3. A regulations specialist II would draft regulations interpreting this bill's new provisions for consideration by the commission and the Department of Law. This position would also draft new forms and manuals. This is a two year position and would end six months into FY 99.

b. Other expenditures

Travel costs in FY 99 and FY 01 cover training in Fairbanks, Barrow, Kenai and Ketchikan as well as an additional commission teleconference to approve new manuals and forms. Contractual costs in FY 97 cover printing and mailing new manuals and forms, additional office space for 1 1/2 years, and reprogramming the current computer tracking system in FY 98. Equipment costs in FY 97 cover computer equipment for the new positions as well as an improved backup and storage system. Funds in two election years, FY 99 and FY 01 for newspaper ads in six communities would tell the public of the new limitations.

c. Funding

Undesignated revenue to the general fund from civil penalties is likely to increase, but the amount of any increase is speculative. Any increased revenue would go to the general fund, not APOC.

Senator Rick Halford, Co-Chair
Senate Finance Committee
State Capitol
Juneau, Alaska 99801

Dear Senator Halford:

Thank you for this opportunity to provide comments on SB 191, which is now in your committee.

Our April 26, 1996 letter to you expressed our opposition to CSSB 191 (JUD), but we since have been provided with a new draft CS (Version /H dated 4/30/96). While it is not within our ability to determine if it is "substantially the same" as the initiative, Version /H is an acceptable approach that addresses the goals of the initiative.

Please feel free to call me if you have any further questions or issues arise concerning this subject. We appreciate the time the Legislature has spent to date addressing the need for campaign finance reform.

Sincerely,

Mike Frank

TO BE COPIED AND DISTRIBUTED AS WRITTEN TESTIMONY ON CSSB 191 (CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM) TO ALL HOUSE FINANCE COMMITTEE MEMBERS

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM BILL DOES NOT REFLECT WHAT VOTERS WANT

Alaskans will lose the chance to vote on campaign finance reform because the legislature wants to pass a gutted version of the initiative. CSSB 191 substantially weakens the initiative that citizens want in many ways:

- 1) One major purpose of the initiative is to make small contributions count more. CSSB 191 triples and doubles party and group contributions. If the limits are raised, small contributions count less.
- 2) CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit outside contributions. Lawmakers have argued that outside contributions should be allowed on a limited basis to allow family members to contribute to candidates. Section 15.13.071 of the initiative already allows for family member contributions in the form of loans.
- 3) Another major point of the initiative is to "level the playing field." CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit the carry-over of campaign funds. All candidates, winners and losers, can put $ in an account for "future campaigns". Such a provision clearly favors people who have previously run. (Section 15.13.116 p. 17 line-8)
- 4) CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit the use of campaign money for other expenditures—INCUMBENTS can carry over funds to put in their office accounts. Losing candidates cannot. This is sheer privilege. (Section 15.13.116 line 18)
- 5) CSSB 191 does NOT treat breaches of campaign finance regulations seriously. The minimum civil penalty limits under this bill will

TO: Members of the House Finance Committee

FROM: Stephen Conn, Executive Director, AkPIRG

You will shortly review CSSB 191 on campaign finance reform. This bill as received by you is an inadequate substitute for the initiative certified for the November ballot. If CSSB 191 is passed into law, rest assured that you will be asked by the 32,000 Alaskans who reside in your districts why you decided to rob them of the chance to vote for comprehensive campaign finance reform. Please do not repeat the confusion of the Senate Finance Committee wherein Chairman Halford sought to determine from Mike Frank whether the campaign finance reform movement would ask Governor Knowles to veto the committee substitute now before you. Mike Frank does not speak for thousands of Alaskans who desire a vote on the initiative they signed, who will seek a veto and will call to account any representative who signs off on a counterfeit version of campaign finance reform.

AkPIRG is against CSSB 191 because it severely guts the intent of the Campaign Reform Initiative which 32,000 Alaskan voters have signed:

CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit outside contributions

CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit the carry-over of campaign funds

CSSB 191 does NOT prohibit the use of campaign money for other expenditures.

CSSB 191 does NOT limit party contributions enough

CSSB 191 does NOT lower group contributions

CSSB 191 does NOT treat breaches of campaign finance regulations seriously

Alaskan voters have been clear—THEY WANT TO VOTE ON THE INITIATIVE!
