MEMORANDUM

TO: Senator Rick Halford
Co-Chairman

Co-Chairman
Senate Finance Committee

FROM: Representative Ben Grussendorf

DATE: April 22, 1995

RE: SCSHB 107 (RES), "An Act relating to restrictions attached to certain commercial fisheries limited entry permits."

I would appreciate your consideration in scheduling a hearing for SCSHB 107 (RES) in your committee. This bill has a zero fiscal note. HB 107 was introduced in response to concerns expressed by the Southeast Dungeness Crab Association and other southeast crabbers for the management of the dungeness crab fishery. The current 300 pot limit set by the Board of Fisheries allows any limited entry management of the crab fishery to actually increase the number of pots fished.

In 1991 the Legislature passed a bill allowing the Limited Entry Commission to place a temporary moratorium on the southeast dungeness crab fisheries and other developing fisheries (such as sea cucumbers). That moratorium expires January 2, 1996. Unless some mechanism is in place to limit entry into the fishery, this fishery will be open to all entrants when the moratorium expires on January 2, 1996. As the other western coastal states limit the entry into their crab fishery, more and more pressure will be put on Alaskan resources by non-resident fishermen.

There were two amendments adopted to the original bill. The House Special Committee on Fisheries deleted the sentence on page 2 lines 22-23 of the original bill: "The fishing capacity allowed under an entry permit may not be changed after the permit is issued." The Department of Law suggested the amendment. It only clarifies that nothing in this bill shall limit the powers of the Board of Fisheries.

The Senate Resources Committee adopted an amendment to the title of the bill and to Section 2 and Section 4 at the request of Senator Taylor. The amendment allows the Limited Entry Commission to consider a "stacking" proposal for permits. Stacking allows permit holders to buy more than one permit. It does not allow fishing more than the limit established by the Board of Fisheries. For instance, in Southeast Alaska Dungeness crab fishery, the limit is 300 pots. If a permit is issued for 100 pots, the crabber could purchase additional permits up to the 300 pot limit.

Thank you for your consideration.

SCS CS HOUSE BILL 107 (RES)

"An Act relating to commercial fisheries limited entry permits."

House Bill 107 was introduced in response to concerns expressed by the Southeast Dungeness Crab Association and other southeast crabbers for the management of the dungeness crab fishery. The current 300 pot limit set by the Board of Fisheries for Southeast dungeness crab allows any limited entry management of the crab fishery to result in an increase in the number of pots fished.

The legislature passed a bill in 1991 which allowed the Commercial Fisheries Limited Entry Commission to establish a temporary moratorium for the Southeast dungeness crab fishery. That moratorium expires January 2, 1996. Unless some mechanism is in place when the moratorium expires, this fishery will be open to all entrants. Since the dungeness crab fisheries in the rest of the western coastal states is already limited, that means out-of-state fishermen will be the main beneficiaries of not passing this bill. The resource is going to be put under increasing pressure.

HB 107 allows the Commercial Fisheries Limited Entry Commission to base any future limited entry plan on the historic use of the fishery. It does not mandate that the Commission adopt any one plan. The amendment adopted by the Senate Resources Committee allows these permits to be "stacked." The original bill allowed permits to be issued for 50 pots, or 100 pots based on the number of pots fished before the moratorium was put in place. The amendment allows the Commission to establish a program for purchasing more than one permit, as long as the 300 pot limit is not exceeded. It is the Commission's decision to adopt a plan or not.

HB 107 will allow the Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission to manage a natural resource and to preserve a local economically viable industry. I respectfully request your support.

SUBJECT: Sectional summary of SCS CSHB 107(RES); An Act relating to commercial fisheries limited entry permits.

TO: Representative Ben Grussendorf

FROM: George Utermohle GU
Legislative Counsel

You have requested a sectional summary of SCS CSHB 107(RES); An Act relating to commercial fisheries limited entry permits.

As a preliminary matter, note that a sectional summary of a bill is not an authoritative interpretation of the bill. The bill itself is the best statement of its contents.

Section 1 of the bill sets out the findings of the Legislature regarding the need to restrict fishing capacity associated with entry permits in certain fisheries.

Section 2 of the bill amends AS 16.43.140(c) in order to allow a person to own more than one limited entry permit for a single fishery, if the Alaska Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission has exercised its authority under AS 16.43.27(d), added by sec. 4 of the bill, to issue entry permits restricting the amount of gear that a permit holder may use in the fishery. A person may only hold as many entry permits for the fishery as are necessary to authorize the use of an entire unit of gear. Regardless of how many entry permits the person may hold for the fishery, the person may not fish more than one unit of gear as defined by the Board of Fisheries.

Section 3 of the bill amends AS 16.43.150(a) to conform with AS 16.43.270(d), as added by sec. 4 of the bill.

Section 4 of the bill adds a new subsection to AS 16.43.270 in order to authorize the Alaska Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission to restrict the fishing capacity that may be employed under certain kinds of entry permits. The commission determines the manner in which fishing capacity is to be limited. The maximum fishing capacity that may be allowed under an entry permit issued under this provision is based on the past fishing practices of the person who initially receives the permit. The restriction on fishing capacity that is attached to the permit may not be exceeded by the permit holder or the permit holder's transferees. This provision may be applied only to fisheries that are subjected to limited entry after this bill takes effect.

Section 5 of the bill amends AS 16.43.990(9) by making technical and conforming changes to the definition of "unit of gear".

If I may be of further assistance, please advise.

CFEC POSITION STATEMENT

CFEC supports House Bill Number 107. Under Alaska's current limited entry program, CFEC can limit the number of persons (permit holders) in a fishery but does not have the explicit authority to limit the fishing capacity of similarly situated classes of entry permit holders within a fishery. The legislation is forward oriented and only applies to fisheries limited in the future after completion of the public hearing process. It will have no impact on established limited fisheries. This legislation does not alter or limit the powers of the Board of Fisheries to impose additional restrictions of fishing capacity. HB 107 would provide CFEC with improved resource conservation tools.

The impetus for this legislation was generated by the Southeast Alaska Dungeness crab fishers after public hearings and research during the current moratorium. The need for immediate action is in the impending expiration of the CFEC moratorium on new entrants into the fishery. By law (AS 16.43.227) this moratorium will expire on January 2, 1996. A majority of participants at the public hearings favored a limited entry program for this fishery. If CFEC does not move to limit the fishery before January 2, 1996 it will return to open access.

The current limited entry program has proven effective in limiting the growth in fishing capacity and effort when administered in salmon and herring fisheries when utilization is already maximized. However, the existing program thwarts the Commission's efforts to achieve effective resource conservation goals in Alaska's fisheries that employ a broad spectrum of vessel size and quantity of gear. Simply limiting the number of participants will fail to contain growth in fishing capacity and effort.

In such fisheries, smaller more part-time operations would tend to sell out to larger more full-time operations after limited entry. For example, this is true of the Southeast Alaska Dungeness crab fishery where many small boat participants currently fish a small number of pots on a part-time basis. This is also true in many of the state's other crab fisheries and state managed groundfish fisheries. By setting the fishing capacity of entry permits roughly at pre-limitation levels, entry limitation would do a better job of resource conservation by controlling the growth of excessive fishing capacity and effort.

This legislation would also help preserve the diverse nature of the fleet in such fisheries and help ensure that some of the entry permits in limited fisheries will be available and more affordable to smaller part-time and entry level operations.

Many of Alaska's valuable fisheries that coastal communities depend on may soon be facing an influx of new fishermen because of recent limitation programs and closures in other jurisdictions. In some of these fisheries, access restrictions may be needed in the near future to help conserve stocks and preserve the benefits of development for Alaska. This legislation would allow limitation programs better designed to fit the diverse nature of Alaska's fisheries.

Representative Alan Austerman
Room 434, State Capital
Juneau, Ak. 99801-1182

Dear Rep. Austerman:

I would like to provide a few comments on HB 109 and hopefully win your support on this important legislation.

When the Limited Entry Act was passed in 1974 it was designed for salmon and herring fisheries. These fisheries use one unit of gear (i.e. a seine or a gillnet) and when a particular fishery was limited all the participants were using the same type and amount of gear; neat, simple, and predictable.

Other fisheries often use multiple units of gear (i.e. longline/skates, shrimp/pots, crab/pots) and in these fisheries the Limited Entry Act has posed problems.

In the S.E. dungeness crab fishery growth in the late 1980's created enough concern for the crab resource to prompt the Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission to study limited entry possibilities. The CFEC found that the fleet consisted of a large proportion of part-time fishermen (because of the passive nature of the fishery) who fished considerably less than the 300 pot limit and while qualifying for a limited entry permit would potentially increase the actual gear fishing over pre-limited entry levels. While seeing a real need for participant limitation CFEC could not grant limited entry because of this problem. The Board of Fish also cannot adequately address this situation. The fleet of 325 averages less than 150 pots with approximately 30-40,000 actual pots in the water. Even with a severe cut in pot limits of 50% to 150 pots there is potential to increase effort significantly as well as penalizing those who do use this fishery as their main source of income. Instead, industry, ADF&G, and the CFEC worked with the 1991 Legislature to pass/create a moratorium for the S.E. dungeness crab fishery in order to study the possibilities of managing this resource.

In the fall of 1994 meetings were held in Juneau, Ketchikan, Sitka, Petersburg, and Wrangell and the overwhelming consensus was to try a tiered approach where fishermen would be given permits tied to gear levels consistent with their past participation. All agreed that this idea was fair because of its inclusive nature and yet provided a solid control for a multi-gear fishery.

This approach can be applied to many fishery resources and gear types as yet uncontrolled but in real need of conservation. The CFEC will be able to design specific limited entry programs that will solve many of the problems of fishery resource conservation as well as provide fair levels of participation.

We urge you to support this amendment and thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

William Flor, SEDCA

Dear Representative Grussendorf:

It's been almost four years since we passed the moratorium legislation which placed our S.E. Dungeness fishery in it's current moratorium status. This will expire Jan. 2, 1996.

At the request of the S.E. crab fleet the Commercial Fisheries Entry Commission held hearings this fall to try and work out a solution for a more permanent limited access scheme. Four main ideas were discussed: traditional limited entry, IFQ, tiered pot system, and fractional licensing. CFEC is reluctant to impose a traditional limited entry because of a possible increase in effort. (We currently fish a 300 pot limit but average 150 pots, hence the possibility to double the gear in the water.)

The other three ideas discussed required some type of legislative work. Both IFQ and fractional licensing were seen as too contentious and complicated with little possibility of success.

The tiered pot system was embraced by CFEC and the fleet both for it's fairness and possibility of achievement. Simply stated it places a crabber within a gear strata (i.e. 300/200/100) depending upon past effort. The fairness of this idea lies in that no one is excluded. There are many variations but our hope is that a sufficiently simple bill can be worked out that could achieve passage.

We have contacted CFEC to draft a proposed tiered system bill which we hope you would introduce and support.

Timing is critical. Our moratorium expires after this year and without further protection the S.E. Dungeness fishery will be in serious trouble (Ca., Or., and Wa. limited their dungeness fisheries this year.) We're counting on you to continue your support and looking forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Twomley and staff:

Enclosed is a copy of our letter requesting Rep. Grussendorf and Senator Taylor to introduce and support a tiered pot system bill. As we talked this fall we are counting upon you to draft a bill which will include the major ideas discussed in your hearings and embrace a sufficient simplicity so as to increase our chances of passage.

Our financial status this time around is such that we won't be able to hire a lobbyist to track the bill, therefore, we are also counting heavily upon your help in this area.

We are optimistic about this effort but hope you realize that if it fails a traditional limited access, even if it requires serious pot reductions, must be imposed before the moratorium expires as this fishery will never be able to withstand the certain flood of new participants.

Looking forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,

Dear House Fisheries Committee:

After having the opportunity to further review and asses new information presented to me regarding HB107, I would like to lend my support to the Bill at this time.

However, I would like to emphasize my belief that the C.F.E.C. should allow for a competitive fishery equitable to the investments of both large and small operators, with regard to their "grandfathered" participation.

It is important that the act allow for further restrictions on fishing capacity (ie. quantity of gear) should the stocks become stressed. In attempting to relieve this stress on the stocks I would hope that the C.F.E.C. would seriously consider the limitations put on the smaller capacities when establishing criteria in an effort to maintain economic viability for all harvesting participants.

DEPARTMENT OF FISH AND GAME

POSITION PAPER

Bill No. HB 107

Sponsor: Representative Grussendorf

Division: Commercial Fisheries Management and Development

Bill Title: Restrictions to Certain Limited Entry Permits

Department Position: Support

Background/Legislative Intent:

This legislation would allow CFEC to restrict the fishing capacity of fisheries entering into a limitation program. Limited entry was originally designed for salmon and herring fisheries where a single unit of gear, such as a seine or gillnet, is used. In crab, groundfish, and many developing fisheries, the unit of gear is variable and fishing capacity of the fleet is a function of vessel size - larger vessels carry more pots, shots of longline, or accommodate more divers. In some fisheries the fishing capacity has continued to increase following limitation due to increases in vessel size and corresponding increases in amount of gear fished. As a result, the biological and management advantages of limitation are significantly diluted.

Analysis of Bill/Program Effects:

Rational management to ensure conservation and maximize reproductive potential of a fish resource depends on: (1) effort levels that allow fisheries to be opened and managed without risk of overfishing; (2) fishing seasons of sufficient length to allow accumulation of adequate fishery performance data to validate preseason guideline harvest levels and assure that overfishing does not occur; and (3) reasonable control of gear to prevent loss. Excessive fishing capacity can lead to shortened seasons and fewer data upon which to make management decisions. Such derby style fisheries place both fishermen and resource at a higher level of risk.

Under this legislation, limitation should serve to set a ceiling on fishing capacity of a fishing fleet. It would enable CFEC to implement a program where limited entry permits would be tied to, for example, a vessel size, pot limit, or Board of Fisheries specified fixed or proportional quantity of gear.
