Dear Mr. Tseu:

Re: HEALTH INSURANCE SAVINGS

In our recently concluded contract negotiations we agreed to a three-year schedule for the State of Alaska's monthly contributions to health care premiums for each eligible employee. We also agreed that you may choose to implement a health benefit trust plan to provide health benefits to your bargaining unit employees and any savings achieved as a result of a reduced premium would be shared between the individual employees and the State of Alaska.

With respect to the specific issue of savings, it was our intent that in the event the Union obtains or establishes a total premium cost per employee through its trust plan that is less than the amount of monthly premium contributions being made by the State, the State will remit fifty percent (50%) of the net savings to individual employees for their exclusive use as a pre-tax contribution to a Health Care Reimbursement Account, or such other distribution as may be determined by the Union or Association. The State of Alaska will retain the remaining fifty-percent (50%) of the savings.

Dear Mr. Tseu:

Re: HEALTH INSURANCE SAVINGS

In our recently concluded contract negotiations we agreed to a three-year schedule for the State of Alaska's monthly contributions to health care premiums for each eligible employee. We also agreed that you may choose to implement a health benefit trust plan to provide health benefits to your bargaining unit employees and any savings achieved as a result of a reduced premium would be shared between the individual employees and the State of Alaska.

With respect to the specific issue of savings, it was our intent that in the event the Union obtains or establishes a total premium cost per employee through its trust plan that is less than the amount of monthly premium contributions being made by the State, the State will remit fifty percent (50%) of the net savings to individual employees for their exclusive use as a pre-tax contribution to a Health Care Reimbursement Account, or such other distribution as may be determined by the Union or Association. The State of Alaska will retain the remaining fifty-percent (50%) of the savings.

Please acknowledge your agreement with the above by signing and dating in the space provided below. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Employee Contract Talking Points

05/04/00

- State employees have held the line on payroll costs for the last four years. For the first three of these years, state employees received increases equal to one half of the Anchorage CPI and for the last of these four years they received no increase.
- State employees provide vital services to the people of Alaska through their work as state troopers, public health nurses, social workers, corrections officers, architects and engineers, employment specialists, health inspectors, road maintenance crews, probation officers, fisheries managers, prosecutors, surveyors, park rangers, and many other professions.
- State employees contribute significantly to the Alaskan economy. State employees live and work in Alaska. In FY 99 state employees, including the university, numbered almost 21,700 with a total payroll of $795 million. Using an economic multiplier of 1.8 (U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis estimate), state workers earning $795 million in 1998 injected a total of $1.43 billion into Alaska's economy by the spending and re-spending of those dollars.
- State employees are your neighbors. Of the 15,768 person state workforce (not including the University of Alaska):
  - 7,000 plus (45 percent) live in the Anchorage-Mat/Su region,
  - 4,800 plus (30 percent) work in the state capital or Southeast region,
  - 1,800 plus (11.8 percent) live in the Interior,
  - 1,200 plus (8 percent) live in the Gulf Coast region,
  - 400 plus (2.6 percent) live in the Southwest region, and

  - Alaska state employees: increased by 0.1 percent.
- State of Alaska contribution in 1999 for most state employees' health insurance is less than that of other public sector employers for comparable plans and employee contributions for state health insurance plans are significantly more.
  - Fairbanks monthly employer contribution $600.00, employee contribution $0.
  - Kenai Peninsula monthly employer contribution $559.00, employee contribution $0.
  - Anchorage monthly employer contribution $500.00, most employees pay between $17 - $0 per month.
  - Mat-Su Borough monthly employer contribution $500.00, employee contribution $0.
  - State of Alaska monthly employer contribution ranges between $423.50 - $550.00 with 85% of the employees receiving an employer contribution of $488.50 or less, employee contribution ranges from $174 - $50.
  - Federal monthly employer contribution $330, employee contribution $135. However, this is a preferred provider plan and is not directly comparable to the other health plans described above.

- Average monthly reported earnings in 1998, not adjusted for inflation, for state employees is significantly less than the earnings paid in the sectors in which the state competes to recruit its workforce.
  - Top five private Alaskan industries: $3,998
  - Federal government in Alaska: $3,805
  - Alaska state government: $3,078
- Average mean earnings of state employees is considerably less than in the industries the state competes with for its labor force. (based on 1998 employer reports to the Alaska Department of Labor).
  - major oil companies employees: $111,068
  - utility employees: $50,328
  - telecommunications employees: $47,381
  - construction employees: $45,768
  - transportation employees: $41, 279
  - state employees: $39,994
- State merit increases are very much in line with ongoing compensation increases provided by other employers in Alaska.
  - Only about 1/3 of state employees receive a merit increase in any year.
  - Merit increases are included in the wage comparison data presented above, so even with merit increases, state employees are falling significantly behind the compensation offered by our biggest competitors for employees.
  - Since many of our most experienced employees are in longevity, they receive no benefit from merit increases.
  - State employees do not receive a variety of other financial benefits offered by private sector employers including bonuses and other promotions.
  - The Federal government offers merit increases, COLA for living in Alaska.

Notes: The top five private sector industries are mining (including the petroleum industry), construction, durable goods manufacturing, wholesale trade and transportation, communication and utilities.

Subject: Consultant's Report

I have been asked to review the analysis of the negotiated agreements performed by the Legislature's consultants, Kempel, Huffman, and Ellis. Following is a summary of major points raised by the consultants and the Division of Personnel's response

Consultant: The State will not benefit from health insurance savings.

Response:

There is language in each contract to encourage cost containment in the purchase of health care. The premium savings rebate language is to encourage unions when establishing a health care trust or purchasing their own health insurance to achieve a premium rate less than the contractually mandated employer contribution

If the unions achieve a premium rate less than employer contribution, then fifty percent of savings go to the employee or union trust and the State retains the other fifty- percent in the form of a reduced contribution rate. Letters have been obtained from the various unions agreeing that this is the intent of the language.

Consultant: The State showed favoritism to ASEA particularly in contribution to health insurance trusts and trust set-up costs.

Response:

Union operated health insurance plans have been a State goal at least since the Cowper Administration. Union operated plans reduce the State's administrative costs and remove it from the controversies over plan composition.

There have been various methods of implementation of health trusts over the years. All have represented the state of the particular bargaining relationship at the time of implementation. All have involved some form of direct contribution to establish the trust. Some trusts have been established solely through directly appropriated funding as the result of arbitrator awards or negotiations,

The PSEA trust initially received $400,000 from reserves previously contributed on the employees behalf by employer contributions. The balance of the $1,050,000 that PSEA received as a result of conversion to a trust was through direct appropriation.

Local 71 received $1,000,000 in start-up money from direct appropriation, but these funds were repaid by Local 71 through reduced employer contributions during the ten months following the conversion to the trust.

The $4,000,000 contribution to ASEA is from reserves only. Again, the reserves accrue from employer and employee premium contributions, which are made on behalf of the employee. There is no direct appropriation requested for the GGU health trust.

The only direct contribution to ASEA is the $144,000 to be used for printing information and an educational effort regarding the trust for GGU members. This $144,000 is to be paid for by savings generated elsewhere in the contract.

The consultant focuses on PSEA's diversion of the bulk of the $1200 lump-sum payment to their trust and implies that this might be more advantageous to the State than other contribution schemes. In fact, the overall economics are the same for the State as PSEA receives substantially equivalent employer contributions to all other unions ($546.50 year 1, $575.00 year 2, and $630.00 year 3 per member/per month) PSEA choose to direct their $960 of their $1200 flat payment to their health trust for two reasons: First, is for the long term benefit of their trust and their members. They believed the additional deposit to their trust would ensure its viability and reduce required employee contributions into the future. Second, the deposit in the trust avoids employees deductions such as FWT and SBS and any required employer payroll contributions. Each unit had flexibility on how the $1200 flat payment would be used.

Consultant: The ASEA conversion to personal leave is of little or indeterminate benefit to the State.

Response:

The consultant overlooks the primary measurable and predictable benefit to the State; reduced accrual, in this case from 45 days per year to 36 at the maximum accrual rate.

Any prediction on the impact on usage is largely speculative, but the State's experience with other units has been positive.

The speculation on the deleterious effect of leave donations is specious. While some employees may "waste" valuable leave and attempt to rely on donations, responsible employees will be reluctant to donate their valuable leave to such employees.

All bargaining units and all non-covered employees have long been allowed leave donations and leave cash-in benefits under either contracts or the State Personnel Act.

Consultant: The leave conversion imposes a $22 million liability on the State.

Response:

The liability is only theoretical and is largely an unfunded liability since the State has never budgeted for leave except through the terminal leave account and the leave cash-in account. Contributions to these accounts are assessed against the personal services line item of each agency's budget. The rates are experience based and it is projected that the GGU conversion will result in only a modest increase in the contribution rate from the current rate 1.88% to a rate 1.93% in FY 2002. No increased appropriation is requested or required to fund the two leave accounts as a result of the GGU conversion.

The State's experience with other conversions has been that employees use the leave conservatively. There has never been a "run on the bank."

Consultant: Waiver of the no-strike clause significantly changes the balance of power in bargaining.

Response:

Waiver gives relative balance to the parties inasmuch as it does not require the union to forego the benefits of its bargain should the monetary terms not be approved. Waiver of the no-strike clause is also waiver of the no-lockout clause which gives the employer the power to lockout generally or specifically to stop hit-and-run work stoppages.

Waiver provisions are neither new nor unique to these agreements. The following is a list of known waiver provisions, which lists includes agreements negotiated in every administration since Egan's.

I. GGU Leave Conversion

Q.: How does the current GGU Annual/Sick Leave system work?

A.:

- Employees accrue both sick and annual leave.
- Sick leave accrues at 15 days per year for all employees; annual leave accrual varies up to 30 days depending on years of service, for a combined total of 45 days.

Q.: How will the new GGU personal leave system work?

A.:

- Employees accrue up to a maximum of 36 days of personal leave, for both scheduled absences and sick leave.

Q.: Is there a cap or limit on accrual?

A.:

- Accrual will be limited to a maximum of 36 days per year, depending on years of service, and the 15 days of sick leave are eliminated.

Q.: What savings will the new system achieve?

A.:

- The average GGU employee, having 7.5 years of service, will accrue 9 fewer days (down from 45 to 36) per year under the new contracts.
- All new GGU employees hired after July 1, 2000 will accrue only personal leave after December 16, 2000.

Q.: How does leave conversion work?

A.:

- All new GGU employees hired after July 1, 2000 will accrue only personal leave.
- Leave conversion will occur, for those employees who elect to move to personal leave, on December 16, 2000.
- When the total number of eligible bargaining unit members remaining in the sick/annual leave system reaches less than 1500, all remaining GGU members shall be converted to the personal leave system.
- 100% of accrued annual leave is transferred to the employee's personal leave account.
- 50% of accrued sick leave is transferred to the employee's personal leave account.
- 50% of accrued sick leave is transferred to a medical leave bank to be accessed only for catastrophic illnesses exceeding 20 consecutive work days, if the personal leave balance has been exhausted; management controls authorization of personal leave use.

Q.: How will the employer benefit from the personal leave system?

A.:

- Personal leave reduces total annual accrual of leave for a GGU member with over two years of service from 45 days per year of combined leave to a maximum of 36 days personal leave. These 9 fewer days of total leave result in 9 additional days of productive work hours.
- All new GGU employees hired after July 1, 2000 will accrue only personal leave.
- Ultimately, all GGU members will convert to the personal leave system when the total number of members in the sick/annual leave system drops below 1500.
- Because personal leave has a cash value and employees accrue fewer total hours, employees tend to use leave more judiciously.
- Sick leave is generally an unscheduled absence, temporarily causing delays in work completion, additional burden to other staff, and budget impacts.
- Unscheduled sick leave increases costs in certain environments, such as the pioneers' homes, where the absence of a direct care staff member must be covered by an on-call substitute employee. The decrease in leave accrual and usage is estimated to save the pioneers' homes as much as $140,000 annually, providing additional funding that can be redirected to providing more direct care staff.
- The GGU conversion puts all state employees in the personal leave system (except two marine units and two small teacher units) equalizing leave benefits for all employees, increasing efficiency and productivity, simplifying administration of leave, and improving morale.

Q.: What is the budget impact of the personal leave system?

A.:

- Conversion of GGU to the personal leave system requires no additional appropriation.
- All new GGU employees hired after July 1, 2000 will accrue only personal leave.
- Ultimately, the elimination of sick leave will result in 9 additional days of additional efficiency and productivity.
- Currently the state maintains two reserve accounts – one for leave cash-in and one for terminal leave payments. Operating budget personal services line items include a contribution to each of the working reserve accounts.
- Personal services contributions to each of these accounts are adjusted annually to ensure that reserves are sufficient to cover leave cash-in and terminal leave payments.
- Currently the working reserve rates generate $20 million annually, $10 million for each of the working reserve accounts. It is estimated that the GGU conversion will have a minimal annual cash impact, approximately $267,000, on each of the working reserve accounts. This may result in a small adjustment, which will be absorbed by agency operating budgets.

II. Cost containment in health care

Q.: Is there any incentive or encouragement to contain cost of health care?

A.: There is language in each of the newly negotiated collective bargaining agreements to encourage cost containment in the purchase of health care. The language in each contract is similar to the following language, contained in the GGU contract:

Article 19.03 F. Premium Savings Rebate

In the event that the Union obtains or establishes a total premium cost per employee that is less than the per month Employer contributions described above, the Employer will remit fifty percent (50%) of the net savings to individual employees for the exclusive use as a pre-tax contribution to a Health Care Reimbursement Account or such other distribution as may be determined by the Union, subject to applicable tax rules.

Q.: Who receives the savings, if any?

A.: Contract language clearly states if the union obtains a total premium less than the employer contribution of $515 in year 1, $575 in year 2, and/or $630 in year 3, 50% of the savings will go to the employee or union trust. The remaining 50% of savings will remain with the state.

Q.: Where does the initial funding of the health care trust come from?

A.: Upon establishment of an employee health care trust, the initial funding of the trust will come from the reserves collected from premiums paid, not from a separate general fund appropriation.

III. Merit Step "G"

Q.: What are merit steps?

A.: Merit step increases (steps "b-f") are performance incentives which may be granted to employees receiving an overall "acceptable" or higher annual evaluation. Merit steps may, but are not required to, be awarded as often as annually.

Q.: What are longevity increments?

A.: Longevity steps ("j-m") are statutory increases awarded to long-time employees which better enable the state to retain experienced, valued employees. Longevity steps are service bonuses awarded based on years of service and acceptable or higher performance. Periods between service steps range from two to five years.

Q.: What is the "G Step?"

A.: This is a new merit step designed to further reward valued employees.

Q.: Is the GGU's G Step an increase none of the other unions receive?

A.: No. Similar service step or longevity step increases are available in other units.

Q.: Won't the G Step make the GGU contract cost more than those of other bargaining units?

A.: No. The GGU negotiated a contract within the same fiscal restraints as all other bargaining units.

Q.: How did GGU pay for the G Step?

A.: GGU agreed to the following changes in the monetary package: employees who benefit from the G Step will not receive the $1200.00 flat payment; the effective date of the 2% wage scale increase in year 2 of the contract is delayed from July 1, 2001 to January 1, 2002; and the effective date of the the 3% increase is delayed from July 1, 2002 to December 1, 2002.

LETTER OF AGREEMENT

Between the

STATE OF ALASKA

and the

ALASKA STATE EMPLOYEES ASSOCIATION

representing

GENERAL GOVERNMENT UNIT EMPLOYEES

Re: ELECTION TO CONVERT TO PERSONAL LEAVE

LOA 00-GG-

Upon legislative approval of the monetary terms of the 2000-2003 collective bargaining agreement the parties agree that the following terms and conditions of employment apply to leave eligible bargaining unit members. No provision of the master agreement not specifically referenced herein is modified by this agreement.

Whereas, it was the intention of the parties, in the recently completed contract negotiations, to follow the principles in the January 1, 1990 to December 31, 1992 collective bargaining agreement between the Employer and the Alaska Public Employees Association, representing Supervisory Unit employees, regarding conversion from a sick and annual leave system to a personal leave system.

And whereas, Article 26 of the General Government Contract for the period of July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2003 does not clearly define all the parameters of the conversion to personal leave, and it is important to eligible bargaining unit members to have a clear understanding of the impact of the conversion when they make their election, it is agreed that the election form will provide the following details of the conversion:

1. A bargaining unit member who has accrued annual leave shall have one-hundred percent (100%) of the annual leave balance transferred to the member's personal leave account.
2. A bargaining unit member who has accrued sick leave shall have fifty percent (50%) of the sick leave balance transferred to the member's personal leave account.
3. A bargaining unit member, upon separation from state service, shall receive the total value of all unused leave including that leave which was converted from sick to personal leave.
4. A bargaining unit member may cash-in up to seventy-five (75) hours of the leave converted from sick to personal leave in any fiscal year.

5. A bargaining unit member may cash in additional hours of the leave converted from sick to personal leave in exigent circumstances on a case-by-case basis at the discretion of the Employer.

This Agreement remains in effect from July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2002.

UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA
SUMMARY OF CONTRACT SETTLEMENT WITH UNITED ACADEMICS
February 2000

Introduction

The University's ability to recruit and retain the most qualified faculty is critical to achieving our teaching, research, and service mission. The faculty members represented by United Academics (675) deliver high quality instruction and research, and provide university and public service on UA's Anchorage, Fairbanks, and Southeast campuses.

Background

Collective bargaining negotiations often divert faculty and administrative resources from our students to the battle at the bargaining table. Last month, the administration and United Academics agreed to an expedited negotiation that would not harm the educational process. The process resulted in a reasonable agreement, meeting the needs of the administration, the faculty, and most important our students.

The National Context

The University of Alaska recruits its faculty from a national (and in some cases international) market, in large part because the University has a limited number of programs that prepare faculty for university teaching and research. As the following figure demonstrates, faculty salaries across the nation have increased much more than salaries at UA and now exceed them.

Economic Highlights

Provide 2.6% annual across the board increases; provide a 0.6% pool for promotions, equity, and retention; provide a 0.8% pool for non-base merit bonuses to recognize extraordinary performance as determined by administration; and maintain that increases are subject to legislative approval and funding. (Note, last year, faculty contracts nationally, resulted in a 4.8% average increase.) The general fund increment request for FY01 is $1,145,700. Based on the current membership, additional funding requirements for FY02 and FY03 are estimated at $1,375,000 and $1,400,000 respectively.

Provide three health benefits options to the union – (1) maintain current coverage, (2) withdraw from all UA health plans, (3) or participate in another UA health plan – such as the UA 2000 plan currently offered to non-represented employees; and clarify that costs in excess of the university's defined contribution are based on the participants in a particular plan.

Discontinue annual $400 lump sum payment.

Operational Highlights

The agreement is for three years, January 1, 2001 through December 31, 2003. Streamline and improve faculty evaluation processes.

SUMMARY OF CONTRACT SETTLEMENT WITH ACCFT
February 2000

Introduction

The University's ability to recruit and retain the most qualified faculty is critical to achieving our teaching, research, and service mission. The faculty members (266) represented by ACCFT deliver high quality instruction and provide university and public service on all UA campuses across the state.

Background

Collective bargaining negotiations often divert faculty and administrative resources from our students to the battle at the bargaining table. Last year, the administration and ACCFT agreed to an expedited negotiation that would not harm the educational process. The process resulted in a reasonable agreement, meeting the needs of the administration, the faculty, and most important our students.

The National Context

The University of Alaska recruits its faculty from a national (and in some cases international) market, in large part because the University has a limited number of programs that prepare faculty for university teaching and research. As the following figure demonstrates, faculty salaries across the nation have increased much more than salaries at UA and now exceed them.

Economic Highlights

Continue 2.6% annual across the board increases; continue an annual $200 lump sum bonus; and clarify that increases are subject to legislative approval and funding. (Note, last year, faculty contracts nationally, resulted in a 4.8% average increase.) The general fund increment request for FY01 is $428,500. Based on the current membership, additional funding requirements for FY02 and FY03 are estimated at $440,000 and $450,000 respectively.

Provide three health benefits options to the union - (1) maintain current coverage, (2) withdraw from all UA health plans, (3) or participate in another UA health plan - such as the UA 2000 plan currently offered to non-represented employees; and clarify that costs in excess of the university's defined contribution are based on the participants in a particular plan.

Operational Highlights

The agreement is for three years, July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2003. Non-tenure track term faculty will be given notice of non-retention, based on longevity.

SUMMARY OF JULY 1, 2000-JUNE 30, 2003
AGREEMENT BETWEEN ACCFT & UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA

- TERM—Provide a three-year collective bargaining agreement, beginning July 1, 2000, ending June 30, 2003.
- BARGAINING UNIT—Expand the bargaining unit by including faculty with ACCFT workloads who work more than 50 but less than 60 per cent of a full time workload, while excluding adjunct faculty. This brings this unit into line with the other bargaining units by using a threshold of 50%.
- ECONOMIC—Continue 2.6% across the board salary increases in FY01, 02 and 03 (adjusting salary maximums for each rank by 2.6% in FY01 only); continue a ten per cent salary increase in the year of a promotion, with no other increase that year; continue an annual $200 lump sum bonus; and clarify that across the board salary increases are subject to legislative approval and funding.
- HEALTH BENEFITS—Provide three health benefits options to the union - maintain current coverage, withdraw from any university plan and use the defined contribution amount (pegged at $439.59/employee/month on July 1, 2000) for health coverage, or elect another university plan; clarify that costs in excess of the university's defined contribution are based on the participants in a particular plan. The defined contribution MAY increase by up to 3% per year, if the cost of benefits increases that much.
- EVALUATION—Continue the promotion/tenure/post-tenure review evaluation processes currently in place at the three MAUs.
- NON-RENEWAL OF TERM EMPLOYEES—Provide for minimum notice periods based on longevity, or payment in lieu of notice, when the university does not renew the appointment of a fixed term faculty member with more than two consecutive years of uninterrupted service.
- INCORPORATION OF UNIVERSITY POLICY—Continue to use the April 12, 1997, versions of Regents' Policy and University Regulation (those used in the current CBA) wherever they are referenced in the CBA, except as otherwise agreed.
- OTHER PROVISIONS—Continue the balance of the current collective bargaining agreement with appropriate adjustments in dates, and with modifications agreed to during the life of the current agreement.
