Sponsor Statement

House Bill 25

“An act relating to a municipal river habitat protection credit.”

This bill, recognizing the need for habitat protection along rivers within a municipality, is a land management tool that provides the option of protecting fish habitat along the rivers by offering a tax credit to property owners along those waterways. Note that this is not an unfunded mandate. It is entirely optional at the local government level.

In 1995 the nineteenth legislature recognized the importance of this kind of protection by granting similar legislation along the Kenai River; this bill would simply extend that option to municipalities along other rivers. There are few, if any, other rivers in the state with the fishing pressure that exist along the Kenai. However as state population and tourism continue to grow, many other circumstances will arise where a municipality may wish to encourage habitat protection. This bill will provide one more option for them to consider.
