ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

Currently, the department is charged, by state statute, to administer the state's Gifted Education program. This legislation clarifies the state's responsibilities relating to the Gifted Education program. Although the legislation does not add new responsibilities, the department has not had the resources to meet the requirements. Federal special education funds cannot be used for this purpose. The department has requested an increment of $177,700 in general funds in the FY2002 budget for the Division of Teaching and Learning Support, Special and Supplemental Services Component to cover the costs for administering this program.

of Rep. Kerttola

TV

Speaking on behalf of ~~Rep. Kerttola~~ several constituents who have followed ~~in~~ HB 71.

Juneau
I am also speaking as a parent advocate for gifted Ed. Sves.

- Currently, Alaska Statutes provides direction to public school districts to ~~have a program to~~ identify and provide educational services to gifted children. ~~Currently~~, About 5,000 Alaskan kids throughout the state are identified as gifted because of their outstanding intellect & abilities.

- These statutes have been in place in Alaska for approximately 30 years.

- The State has an obligation to provide educational leadership. As a policy-matter, the State has recognized the needs of gifted children for 30 years.

- Local school districts have flexibility to define the educational services and the level of funding they provide to the gifted children. The State does NOT dictate what they offer.

- All Alaskan children deserve an education geared to their abilities so that they can maximize their potential. For high ability children, the bar needs to be raised higher.

- Without an educational program ^{we} that provides adequate stimulation, these children often ^{are} bored and not infrequently become underachievers.

- While we address the very serious needs of children with disabilities in HB 71, we should also ^{continue to} recognize the special educational needs of another group of Alaskan children. ~~by~~ adopting this amendment to put back in place what we have been doing for roughly 30 years.

I urge the committee to ~~keep~~

The Honorable Brian Porter
Speaker of the House
Alaska State Legislature
State Capitol
Juneau, AK 99801-1182

Dear Speaker Porter:

Alaska's responsibility for providing quality educational services for our children extends to all children, including those with unique educational needs. I transmit today a bill clarifying the state's role in the education of our exceptional children.

In 1997, Congress authorized amendments to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). The subsequent federal regulations related to the IDEA took effect in May 1999. This bill amends inconsistent components of our state statutes to bring Alaska into compliance with these current federal special education mandates, including emphasizing the participation of parents in making decisions relating to special education eligibility and services.

An important protection provided to both school districts and children with disabilities is the due process hearing. This bill clarifies the procedures for requesting a due process hearing and streamlines the process for selecting a hearing officer by having the Department of Education and Early Development (department) randomly assign officers from a list maintained by the department. These procedures will help due process hearings be completed in a fair and timely fashion.

Alaska law presently requires that a school district provide special education services to children with disabilities who reside in the district. State law also exempts children from attending public school if children are enrolled in an alternative education program. This has resulted in confusion regarding which school district or other educational agency is responsible for providing special education services when children are enrolled in alternate programs. This bill addresses this problem by providing for allocation of the responsibilities and coordination of the provision of special education services among the various educational agencies.

Present state law provides a combined program of services for gifted children and for children with disabilities. The detailed requirements of the federal IDEA and the federal program financing apply only to the state's educational programs for children with disabilities; federal money for the IDEA may not be used for programs for gifted children. To be consistent with federal requirements, this bill separates statutes regarding special education requirements for children with disabilities from those regarding requirements for gifted children. However, the bill maintains procedural safeguards for both programs.

As part of Alaska's commitment to quality education for all children, including children with disabilities and gifted children, I urge your prompt and favorable action on this bill.

Sincerely,

Tony Knowles
Governor

Mr. Eldon Mulder
 Chair, House Finance Committee

Dear Mr. Mulder:

Regarding House Bill 71, I recommend strongly that it be revised to include education for all exceptional children, not only children with disabilities. The original bill's language included both disabled and gifted children, and the bill should be returned to its original language.

I acknowledge that there are different federal requirements for disabled children and gifted children, but this does not preclude Alaska statute from addressing all exceptional children fairly and equitably. Nothing in federal law or regulation prevents the State of Alaska from including all exceptional children under one statutory umbrella, as long as the state does not co-mingle finances for disabled programs with gifted programs. I believe that separation of the programs into two statutes will diminish the quality of gifted educational services in Anchorage schools. First, it is fundamentally wrong to treat gifted education as a separate, distinct requirement. Both gifted and disabled children require special education in order to maximize their achievements. All exceptional children deserve to reach their highest potential. This is no less important for gifted children than for disabled children.

Second, separation into two bills lessens the chance of passage for the gifted bill. Without a statutory requirement, each community has the authority to eliminate educational programs for gifted children. This would have a shockingly bad effect on both gifted children and the traditional classrooms forced to accommodate them. Gifted children require a fundamentally different educational style; if forced into a traditional classroom, they fail to be challenged. This translates to boredom, with concomitant behavioral problems not far behind. The outcome is a loss of intellectual growth, both on the part of the gifted child and the other children in the classroom.

I encourage you to support all of Alaska's exceptional children, and include them in HB 71. Thank you for the opportunity to have input into statutes that govern the education our children receive.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

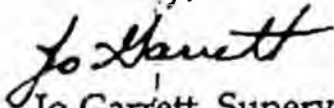

Dear House Finance Committee:

Once again, we are enlisting your help on behalf of the gifted students throughout the state of Alaska. On Saturday, April 21st, the House of Representatives Committee on Education dealt a blow to gifted education in our state. At that time, they voted (6-1) to eliminate Article 3A from HB 71; the Special Education/Gifted and Talented bill. Greg Maloney, the state Director of Special Education articulated the position of the gifted community, however the bill still passed, with Sharon Cissna the lone vote in opposition to the removal of gifted from the bill.

This would have disastrous effects on gifted education in Alaska. It would eliminate the state mandate for gifted education programs; leaving the option to offer special programs for these students at the discretion of the local districts, and it would also do away with reimbursement for transporting gifted students. This would mean no reimbursement funding for busing our students in either the IA program at Rogers Park or for the students bused to IGNITE sites for gifted services. This could mean that over 2,000 students would receive little or no gifted instruction.

The bill now is in the House Finance Committee. It is IMPERATIVE that the members of this committee hear the views of their constituents. Parents, students, staff the Board of Education and the Gifted Program of the Anchorage School District STRONGLY support the addition of Article 3A back to this bill. We want our legislators to be responsive to the needs of the voters in Anchorage and amend HB 71 to include gifted students before sending it to the Senate. Our students deserve the same equity of education that is extended to other students with exceptionalities. I look forward to discussing this issue with you later today.

Sincerely,

Jo Garrett, Supervisor of Gifted Programs

Mr. Mulder:

Please, please, please reconsider
HB 71 and the elimination of Article 3A.

We need this article in HB 71.

If it is not included (Article 3A in HB 71)
there will be disastrous effects on gifted education in Alaska

We need to foster gifted education as they are our future inventors, writers, artists, pastors, leaders, musicians, Problem Solvers ETC.

How can you and the finance committee
let these children down?

Please, we need Article 3A in HB 71!

RE: House Bill 71

Members of the committee,

If HB 71 passes as amended, there will no longer be a state requirement for gifted education. This would be a disaster for our gifted children. It is imperative that highly gifted children be in a self-contained program.

Please ensure that House Bill 71 provides for the education of all exceptional children as originally written. My daughter's education is at stake, and I will be following this issue very closely. Thank you for your attention.

Mr. Eldon Mulder
Co-Chair, House Finance Committee
Dear Mr. Bunde,

I am a gifted education teacher working for the Anchorage School District, and I am writing to express my opinion on HB71 and the impact of this legislation on gifted education

This would have disastrous effects on gifted education in Alaska. It would eliminate the state mandate for gifted education programs; leaving the option to offer special programs for these students at the discretion of the local districts, and it would also do away with reimbursement for transporting gifted students. This would mean no reimbursement funding for busing our students in either the IA program at Rogers Park or for the students bused to IGNITE sites for gifted services.

The many gifted youngsters in Alaska would be done a grave disservice if this legislation becomes law. Gifted students require specialized services and need the protection currently afforded them by state mandate.

If gifted students are to be educated in the "least restrictive environment" as are other exceptional children, then the state mandate for gifted services and the transportation reimbursement needs to remain in effect. If gifted services are scaled back or eliminated, then the educational needs of thousands of Alaskan children will not be met.

All students deserve a quality education that meets their needs, and I urge you amend this legislation to include and protect gifted students.

Very Sincerely

Peter Ljubicich, Gifted Program Teacher

HB 71/SB 40

An Act Relating to the Education of Children with Disabilities and Gifted Children

- Alaska Department of -
EDUCATION
& EARLY DEVELOPMENT

Highlights of HB 71/SB 40

"An Act Relating to the Education of Children with Disabilities and Gifted Children"

Purpose:

1. To update state special education statutes to conform with the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, as amended in 1997 (IDEA 97). IDEA 97 contains a number of policy amendments and emphasizes the importance of parental rights and parental participation in identifying and serving children with disabilities.
2. To delineate the federal and state requirements for providing educational services to children with disabilities, and the state requirements for providing educational services to gifted children.
3. To ensure that Alaska continues to qualify for federal special education funds.
4. To define Alaska's special education policy in areas where federal requirements provide states with discretion.

Revisions to Current State Law

Changes to the current state law include the following:

- The term "exceptional children" is replaced by the terms "child with a disability" and "gifted child". The statutory sections that pertain to children with disabilities have been separated from those that pertain to gifted children.
- Under current state law, the school district of a student's residence must provide special education and related services for a child with a disability. The revised statute requires state boarding schools and statewide correspondence schools that enroll children with disabilities from outside their districts to provide special education and related services to these students.
- The due process hearing procedure is changed, requiring the department rather than the school district to assign hearing officers. Appeals of hearing officer decisions will be made to superior court rather than the department. Similar hearing procedures will be used for both special education and gifted education.
- Mediation, a voluntary dispute resolution process for school districts and parents of children with disabilities, is added to the state statute in conformance with IDEA 97.
- Currently, children with disabilities enrolled in private schools are entitled to a full range of special education services from their public school district of residence. The revised statute limits district responsibility for providing special education services to children voluntarily enrolled in private schools to match the requirements contained in IDEA 97.

- Districts are required to serve only gifted children enrolled in the school district and attending public school.
- Districts are no longer required to provide related services, such as individualized transportation services, to gifted children.
- Significant changes to definitions include the following:
 - "serious emotional disturbance" is changed to "emotional disturbance" to reflect the federal definition;
 - "preschool developmental delay" is changed to "early childhood developmental delay" to reflect current terminology;
 - "parent" is changed to.
 1. specify that the state cannot serve as the child's guardian in educational matters; and,
 2. include a person with legal responsibility for a child's welfare who is acting in place of a child's natural or adoptive parent;
 - "related services" is changed to incorporate the federal IDEA 97 definition;
 - "school district" is changed to add state boarding schools and the state centralized correspondence study program;
 - "special education" is changed to incorporate the federal IDEA 97 definition;
 - "due process hearing" is added and defined according to AS 14.30.193;
 - "informed consent" is added to provide more specific guidance regarding what informed parental consent constitutes;
 - "gifted education" is added to distinguish gifted education from special education; and,
 - "Individualized gifted education program" is added to distinguish gifted program plans from special education program plans.

Budget Considerations

The department has the responsibility for administering the state's gifted education program under the current law, but has not had the resources to address due process hearings, training, and technical assistance for parents and school districts.

The department has requested an increment of $177,700 in general funds in the FY 2002 budget to cover the costs for administering this program, since federal special education funds cannot be used for this purpose.
