SPONSOR STATEMENT for HCR 25

Alaska Wild Salmon Week

Relating to declaring June 28 – July 4, 2004 as Alaska Wild Salmon Week

Alaska is the largest commercial wild salmon fishery in the world and employs more than 29,000 people. Nearly 95% of all commercially caught salmon in the United States are harvested in Alaska. In the last decade, state salmon harvest totaled more than $4.5 billion, making salmon extremely vital to Alaska's economy.

For both visitors and Alaskans, the sport of fishing is one of the most popular activities in the state. Last year, approximately 470,000 resident and non-resident licenses were issued for sport fishing.

Beyond the importance of commercial and sport fishing, salmon has been a nutritional source for generations of Alaskans and is a large part of the state's heritage. Rich in Omega 3 oils, salmon is a healthy food that can help lower cholesterol and reduce the risk of heart disease.

House Concurrent Resolution 25 would proclaim June 28 – July 4, 2004 as "Alaska wild Salmon Week". This proclamation will recognize the salmon industry as a huge part of all Alaskan's lives and raise public awareness of one of Alaska's most important industries by promoting and celebrating the catching and eating of salmon.

Dear Representative Wolf,

January 30, 2004

As you know we are a 275 member commercial fishing organization that has made steady efforts to maintain and improve the viability of the fishing industry. A management system of maximum sustained yield means a fishery living up to its full potential, thus providing the jobs needed on the Kenai Peninsula. With maximized returns all users benefit.

The nutritional value of wild Alaska salmon is widely known. Some fishermen now take time to bleed and ice the salmon they catch. The Kenai Peninsula Borough has developed a salmon branding program and created the "Kenai Wild" brand, promoting this with increasing success.

Your resolution for Alaska Wild Salmon Week does a great job of not only promoting wild salmon, but also serves to remind all of the cultural and historical significance of the salmon fishery.

Cook Inlet Fisherman's Fund appreciates and wholeheartedly supports H.C. 25.

Dear Rep. Wolf:

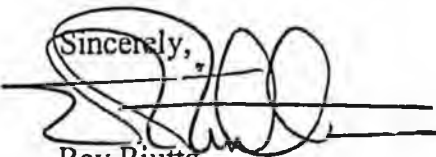

House Concurrent Resolution 25, relating to Alaska Wild Salmon Week, has been introduced by you in the House again this year, and will focus the attention of legislators on the positive aspects of this wonderful wild resource. The Alaska Seafood Marketing Institute commends the interest of the Alaska State Legislature in Alaska Salmon.

House Concurrent Resolution 25 includes language that gives recognition to the State of Alaska's model fisheries management regime and the importance of Alaska's protection of salmon habitat. The measure also brings attention to the vital economic importance of the salmon resource to the citizens of Alaska. According to the Alaska Dept. of Fish and Game's website, the 2003 commercial salmon harvest of more than 173 million salmon was worth more than $195 million to Alaska harvesters alone: the seventh biggest harvest in 100 years.

The important role of salmon as a nutritious food, including the sustenance it has provided for generations of Alaska's people engaging in traditional subsistence and personal use harvest, is articulated in House Concurrent Resolution 25, and the wording of the measure emphasizes an important fact: that community economies throughout Alaska depend on Alaska's wild salmon fishery.

Alaskans from one end of the state to the other, from Anchorage, Alaska's largest fishing village, to the rural communities along the coast, may observe the occasion by participating in activities focusing on the catching and eating of salmon. Thank you for introducing HCR 25 and for your support of our salmon industry.

Sincerely,

Dear Representative Wolf:

Re: HCR 25: Alaska Wild Salmon Week

Thank you for again sponsoring a resolution promoting and proclaiming Alaska Wild Salmon Week. I look forward to June 28-July 4, 2004 to do my part to participate in activities focused on the catching and eating of salmon.

The five species of wild Alaska salmon are recognized worldwide as a superior product that provides outstanding nutritional benefits. Our State is well recognized, by resident and tourist alike, for providing incredible opportunities to harvest and enjoy this fish.

Alaskans have historically harvested salmon for hundreds, perhaps thousands of years. The commercial salmon industry has developed and changed during the past century and still contributes greatly to our workforce and economy. Many people now also enjoy recreational harvesting of salmon.

As you know, my own family has been engaged in the harvesting, processing and consumption of salmon for several generations. I heartily endorse your resolution.

Sincerely,

Dear Representative Wolf;

The United Southeast Alaska Gillnetters Association (USAAG) represents about 150 small business owners who catch salmon by drift gillnetting in Southeast Alaska and market salmon throughout the United States. Many of our members participate in other fisheries such as crab, shrimp, longline, and dive fisheries. We support HCR 25 that designates June 28, to July 4, 2004 as Alaska Wild Salmon Week. This is particularly important as it will draw public awareness to Alaska wild salmon during our July 4th Independence Day celebration when salmon barbeques are especially popular. We also hope it will increase all Alaskans awareness of the importance of our salmon industry to the states economy. We appreciate your efforts in introducing this resolution and supporting our salmon fishery.

If we can further assist in supporting this legislation, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Re: HCR 25, Relating to Alaska Wild Salmon Week June 28 – July 4, 2004

Dear Representative Wolf,

United Fishermen of Alaska wholeheartedly supports the designation of Alaska Wild Salmon Week for June 28 – July 4, 2004.

This designation will promote public awareness of the importance of salmon to Alaska's way of life and economy. Not only is salmon a mainstay of the state economy, exports of salmon help reduce the national trade balance of payments deficit.

We especially appreciate the inclusion of the term "wild". With the recent international and nationwide press concerning the PEW-funded study that shows generally higher toxins in farmed fish than in wild fish, including the word "wild" will help spread awareness of the distinction that Alaska salmon are wild, and safe to eat.

We also appreciate the good timing of the week you have chosen. This will give a good opportunity for promotions leading up to the biggest barbeque day of the year on the Independence Day holiday. In addition, it comes during the peak of the tourist season when visitors to Alaska from throughout the world will take notice.

We appreciate your efforts to raise public awareness of the importance of salmon.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Vinsel
Interim Executive Director
