circumstances that are inconsistent with the intent required under (a) of this section remain a resident of this state. (§ 1 ch 67 SLA 1983)

NOTES TO DECISIONS

Jurisdiction over divorce action. — This section does not affect the common-law rule that Alaska courts have jurisdiction over a divorce action when one of the parties is domiciled in Alaska, where "domicile" is defined as physical presence plus an intent to remain permanently. Perito v. Perito, 756 P.2d 895 (Alaska 1988).

Quoted in E.H. v. State, 23 P.3d 1186 (2001).

Stated in State v. Andrude, 23 P.3d 58 (2001).

Sec. 01.10.060. Definitions. (a) In the laws of the state, unless the context otherwise requires,

- (1) "action" includes any matter or proceeding in a court, civil or criminal;
- (2) "daytime" means the period between sunrise and sunset;
- (3) "month" means a calendar month unless otherwise expressed;
- (4) "municipality" means a political subdivision incorporated under the laws of the state that is a home rule or general law city, a home rule or general law borough, unified municipality;
- (5) "nighttime" means the period between sunset and sunrise;
- (6) "oath" includes affirmation or declaration;
- (7) "peace officer" means
 - (A) an officer of the state troopers;
 - (B) a member of the police force of a municipality;
 - (C) a village public safety officer;
 - (D) a regional public safety officer;
 - (E) a United States marshal or deputy marshal; and
 - (F) an officer whose duty it is to enforce and preserve the public peace;
- (8) "person" includes a corporation, company, partnership, firm, association, organization, business trust, or society, as well as a natural person;
- (9) "personal property" includes money, goods, chattels, things in action, and evidence of debt;

SPONSOR STATEMENT HB 210

"An Act relating to blood testing of certain persons alleged to have committed certain offenses directed toward peace officers or emergency workers."

HB 210 takes policies and procedures for testing for blood born pathogen exposure to correctional officers that were passed by the 23rd Alaskan Legislature and expands them to include peace officers, firefighters, emergency medical technicians and mobile paramedics.

The bill first sets out procedures for determining if the first responders were exposed to blood born pathogens in the course of their work. Once it is reasonably concluded that such exposure has occurred, the bill then sets out procedures for obtaining the consent of the person who exposed the first responder to have his or her blood tested. These procedures protect the identity of the person tested and pass on only the results of the test to the first responder exposed to the blood born pathogens. The results of the test are also passed on to the person tested.

The bill also provides procedures for court ordered testing of the person who exposed the first responder to blood born pathogens if that person refuses to be tested. The bill does not enact any new policies or procedures for blood born pathogen testing, it simply extends the policies and procedures enacted by the 23rd Alaskan Legislature for correctional officers to the other first responders mentioned above.

This bill amends AS 18.15.400 (Health, Safety, and Housing - Disease Control - Blood Testing of Prisoners for Bloodborne Pathogens) by broadening it to include all peace officers and emergency workers who may have exposure to offenders with blood borne pathogens. The current statute protects correctional officers from exposure to prisoners. This bill would also extend beyond prisoners, to any adult or juvenile offender whether incarcerated or not. The bill seeks to acknowledge that the risk of exposure to blood born pathogens is significant for all peace officers and the ability to test blood to identify where and when medical treatment might be needed is an important protection measure.

Passage of this legislation will have no fiscal impact on the Department of Law.

 This bill amends AS 18.15.400 -18.15.450 Peace officers, fire fighters, emergency medical technicians, mobile intensive care paramedics employed or volunteering for the state or municipality, a volunteer department or emergency medical service provider will be able to request bloodborne pathogen testing when they have been exposed to blood or body fluids during the performance of their duties. The bill will now allow bloodborne testing of certain adult or juvenile offenders in addition to prisoners. The "employing agency" is responsible for insuring the testing procedures are followed correctly. Passage of this bill will have no immediate fiscal impact on the Department of Public Safety, and simply outlines the proper course of action when personnel are exposed to blood or body fluids. DPS has a policy for reporting this kind of exposure.
